

Alt. Scott Herald

University of Oregon

Subscription, $1.50 the Year.

LENTS STATION, PORTLAND, OREGON, FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1923

VOL. XXI, No. 11

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

C. W. Wells, of 6032 45th avenue, is ill with the grip.

L. R. Jones is building a $1500 house at 3419 67th street.

W. H. Schaub is building a $3500 residence at 4130 63d street.

Mrs. Clifford Anderson, of 39th avenue, is very ill with the flu.

S. J. Ennis, manual training teacher at Arleta school, is ill with the flu.

Mr. Baker, of 72d street, Tremont, is very low with an attack of paralysis.

A white collie recently was stolen from the Fiebert residence on 34th avenue.

Miss June Whitman, 6720 53d avenue, is in St. Vincent's hospital with diphtheria.

Mrs. E. C. Sanderson of Eugene was the guest of Mrs. J. J. Handsaker last Tuesday.

J. J. Hummer is building a $3500 residence at 8053 67th avenue for Mary Jane Gray.

C. P. Rickman left March 7 for San Francisco to bring up a boat. Mr. Rickman then will go to northern China.

A marriage license has been issued to Wayne S. Miller, 19, 5806 59th avenue, and Vivian Culver, 19, 5735 59th avenue.

Mr. Toufel, who has been ill, is much better and soon will return to his work as an employe of the city park bureau.

Mrs. Van Bleat, who has been living with Mrs. Elbon, of 59th street, has gone to live with her daughter on the west side.

After a brief delay occasioned by a strike, work has been resumed on the construction of the new wing of Kellogg school.

The women's class of the Arleta Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. C. C. Hessemer Thursday afternoon to sew.

In the near future the manual training classes and domestic science classes of Arleta school will give an exhibit of their work.

The regular annual congregational meeting of the Anabel Presbyterian church will be held at the church Monday evening, March 26, at 8 o'clock.

Mable Wing, 9-year-old daughter of J. F. Wing, 8929 Foster Road, is very ill at St. Vincent's hospital, but some hopes for her recovery are held.

W. R. Thomas, of 9119 57th avenue, has been at Estacada for the last month attending to business for the Portland Railway, Light & Power company.

The altar society of St. Peter's church has organized and will meet every Tuesday in the church parlors to sew and work in the interest of the church.

The Loyal Workers, the women's society of the Kern Park Christian church, gave a silver tea Wednesday at the home of Mrs. H. T. Davis on 50th avenue.

J. A. Varley, Creston grocer, has recently leased the part of the building adjoining his store. That section of the building formerly was used as a cannery.

Donald and Elaine Stokes, who have been ill with the flu, are much better. Elaine has been able to return to her studies at Franklin, but Donald is still confined to his home.

Mrs. Heath, aged 86, mother of V. R. Heath, the paint man, of 6803 Foster Road, suffered a stroke of paralysis Wednesday, March 7. The whole right side is affected.

Miss Melda Lieuallen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lieuallen, 4532 62d street, has returned from Salem where she has been visiting her brother, Byron, for the past week.

A pre-Easter get-together meeting for members and friends of the Kern Park Christian church will be held at the church March 22. Refreshments will be served by the loyal workers class.

The Creston Parent-Teacher association will hold its regular monthly meeting March 20 at 2 P. M. A grocery shower for the social service department will be the feature. "Pre-school Work" will be the subject for discussion.

An invitation is extended by Rev. J. M. Paxton to all Parent-Teacher associations, all churches, community clubs and other organizations to attend the open meeting at the Anabel Presbyterian church March 20. Judge Jacob Kanzler will speak on "A Heart-to-Heart Talk With Fathers and Mothers." A musical program will be given.

Arrangements have been completed for the dance to be given by the Woodmere Parent-Teacher association on the evening of St. Patrick's day. The best of music has been procured and prizes are to be given for the best sustained Irish character. A large attendance is expected and a good time promised to all who attend.

A marriage license issued to James L. Keith, of 5632 38th avenue, and Mrs. Melissa L. Vaughan, of 5321 83d street, was used by Rev. E. A. Smith at the conclusion of the Neighbors of Woodcraft meeting last Saturday in the Lents hall. Presents and a feast were tendered the couple.

Arthur Brown, of 4837 60th street, has been called to Sherwood to the bedside of his father, Elza Brown, who is very ill with rheumatism of the heart. The elder Mr. Brown lived for many years at 4527 74th street.

Mrs. Ada Jolly, of 5032 60th street; Mrs. Hattie Wilson, of 3d street, and Mrs. Ward Swope, of 5329 70th street, attended the W. C. T. U. mid-year executive meeting at Oregon City last Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Roe J. Gilbert, primary superintendent of the Kern Park Christian church Sunday school, has been attending the leadership training school at the First Christian church during the past week.

Grand Daddy Scrutin of Lents has made application to the old soldiers' home at Roseburg. Mr. Scrutin has been failing rapidly so will sell his home and property here and make his home at Roseburg.

George D. Edwards of Spokane will make his future home here with his daughter, Mrs. W. R. Thomas, 9119 57th avenue. Mr. Edwards celebrated his 80th birthday recently, and is in excellent health.

Charles Carney of San Francisco recently left for his home in that place after spending the last few weeks here with his sister-in-law and family, Mrs. Carney, of 55th avenue.

A paper drive recently conducted at Arleta school resulted in the collection of nine tons of paper, for which the athletic department received approximately $180.

The regular monthly meeting of the teachers and workers of the Arleta Baptist church Sunday school was held last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. S. L. Barnett.

The baseball team of Kellogg school has played practice games with Arleta, Woodmere, Creston and Richmond schools, winning all but the one played with Arleta.

The Welfare club of Millard-Avenue Presbyterian church will meet at the church next Tuesday evening. The meeting will be prefaced by a pot-luck supper.

The industrial department of the women's society of the Arleta Baptist church met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Jacob Cover, of 4729 64th street.

A three-reel motion-picture film, "Baby Marie Osborne," was shown at the Arleta school Friday, March 16, after school. There was also a short comedy.

Miss Matrian MacIntosh, of 58th street, returned home Sunday from the Sellwood hospital where she has been confined for the past six weeks.

Miss Bessie Nelsen, of 6911 63d avenue, was taken on March 7, to Good Samaritan hospital suffering with inflammatory rheumatism.

The 31 piano students of Miss Susie Bernice Woody will play in recital at the home of their teacher, 8230 49th avenue, March 23.

Mrs. G. W. Shriner, of 5404 38th avenue, is preparing to move to a recently purchased 24-acre tract of land near San Raphael, Cal.

The congregation of Arleta Baptist church will worship in their new building at 48th avenue and 64th street on Easter Sunday.

A number of men from the Arleta Baptist church attended the John R. Mott banquet Wednesday evening in the municipal auditorium.

I. A. Melendy, of 7111 Foster Road, a teacher in Franklin high school, has been ill with pneumonia, but is now back in school.

R. B. Walsh and family of Creston are spending the week end with Mrs. Eugene MacCormack at Hilaboro.

Mrs. N. N. Nygard, of 92d street, has been confined to her home the past few weeks with the flu.

Mrs. Jensen, of Millard avenue and 45th street, has been very ill at her home the past few weeks.

Mr. Anderson of Los Angeles has recently sold his former home at 51st street and 34th avenue.

Mrs. K. I. Dixon, of 74th street and 55th avenue, is very ill with the grip.

M. Waddell, of 5704 45th avenue, has gone to Wind River, Wash., to be superintendent of two logging camps.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rogers, of 5114 58th street, February 24.

Mrs. R. B. Walsh of Creston has been substituting at Jefferson high school the past week.

The Gleaners society of the Anabel Presbyterian church met Wednesday and sewed for the near east relief bundle day next May.

The men's club of St. Ignatius' parish were hosts to the parishioners Thursday evening, March 15. An interesting program followed by cards and dancing formed the evening's entertainment. Refreshments were served by the women.

Mrs. S. J. Hamilton, formerly of 4257 60th street, is very ill at her new home on East Alder street.

George Bodman, an engineer for the Portland Railway, Light & Power company at Estacada, spent last week end with his family.

At the Anabel Presbyterian church March 9, Miss Nettie Foy, Miss Hampton and Mrs. Fred Olsen gave an excellent musical program. The proceeds went to the furnace fund. A large audience greeted the very excellent music furnished.

Alvin Gray of Portland and Miss Jennie Lee were married Sunday evening at the United Brethren church, 62d avenue and 69th street. Miss Lee is employed in the telephone office and has a host of friends in Tremont who wish her an abundance of happiness.

Rehearsals of the "Gondoliers," the opera which will be given by the music department of Franklin high school in the middle of April, are being conducted in the Creston school every Wednesday evening, by R. B. Walsh, musical director at Franklin high school.

Tremont United Brethren

The subject of the morning services will be "The Promise, Paid"; evening, "Four Great Pictures."

Anabel Presbyterian

The subject for the morning services will be "The Broken Partition."

Kern Park Christian

The subject for the morning services will be "Christ, the Supreme Emancipator"; evening, "Meeting the Challenge of Those Who Say That the Bible Is Not a Sufficient Religious Guide."

Millard-Avenue Presbyterian

Communion services will be held in the morning and the subject for the evening will be "The Wells of Salvation."

Arleta Baptist

Meeting temporarily in the Laurelwood Congregational church. The subject for the morning services will be "Self Revelation of God"; evening, "A Bargain of Souls."

Miss Bentley Weds

A pretty wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bentley, 4405 70th street, Thursday evening, March 8, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Florence Bentley was united in marriage to George W. Merrell. Mendelsohn's wedding march was played by Mrs. Edward Odbert. Miss Faye Finley sang, "Until" (Sanderson). The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. E. Finley. The ring ceremony was used.

The bride was attired in old rose silk and carried a bouquet of white sweetpeas and pink roses. She was attended by Miss Helen May Lockwood who wore blue silk and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and maiden hair fern. Edward Odbert was best man.

After the ceremony a wedding collation was served.

About 30 guests were present. Beside the immediate members of the bride's family the guests included Mrs. M. A. Blackerby, grandmother of the bride; T. R. Blackerby and family of Oak Grove; C. J. Bentley and family, uncles of the bride, and Melvin Cook of Albany, a cousin.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrell have taken up their residence at 265 11th street. Mr. Merrell is with the O.-W. R. & N.

To Observe St. Patrick's Day

The women of St. Peter's parish are giving a St. Patrick's entertainment Saturday evening, March 17, in the church hall. An admission fee of 35 cents will be charged. Refreshments will be served.

W. N. Brown, of the firm of Larsen and Brown, left Saturday evening for Redmond to be gone two weeks.

WANTS TO CENSOR NEWS OF CRIME

DR. JAMES J. WALSH THINKS PRESENT PUBLICITY IS BAD FOR MORALS

BOARD OF PSYCHOLOGY

BOARD OF HEALTH FOR THE MIND IS SUGGESTION OF PHYSICIAN

New York.—(By N. C. W. C.)—A suggestion that a "board of psychology" be established to regulate publication of news of crime and sex matters was made by Dr. James J. Walsh, extension professor at Fordham university and professor of physiological psychology at Cathedral college, in an address before the Society of Medical Jurisprudence at the New York academy of medicine. Dr. Walsh stated that publicity for crime gave it an allurements and did not act as a deterrent.

"People crave to have something happen to them—it may be something alluring," he said. "I remember having had a man say to me: 'Do you know, I have never had anything happen to me? I have never been on a trolley car that killed somebody? This is a question of craving to be in the limelight.'"

"In England they do not permit the showing of a motion picture of a robbery because they find that boys will be practicing it. I believe that here they say that if a crime is shown punishment must be shown on the same screen."

"You can understand how the printing of all the sex details affects us. The more prominent the people are the more interest is attached to them. The idea, apparently, is to show, after all, nobody is good. Some editors boast of how long they keep a story like the New Brunswick murder on the front page. Not only are newspapers telling the stories, real or supposed, of the sexual incidents of the day before, but magazines are making it a point to print sex stories."

"It is said that the news of crime is printed completely, so that in the future it will not be committed. Were there any more murders committed in the old days before the news of all the crimes was printed in detail? The deterrence of crime is different from giving it the allurements that present publicity gives it."

Speaking of the regulation of sanitary conditions by Boards of Health, Dr. Walsh said in part:

"I am wondering whether under the circumstances we do not need a Board of Health for the mind as well as for the body? Is there any reason why we should have the details of suicides? Don't you think, when you read that the last holdup was committed by a boy of 19, that a similar thing led him to do it as led the boy who read the dime novel a few years ago to steal his father's revolver and run away to Hoboken? Could it hurt anybody to prevent the publication of these details? Of course such a Board of Psychology would be liable to abuses, but every good thing is liable to abuses—even marriage."

BEN HUR COURT ACTIVE

Ben Hur court No. 9 of Portland entertained the supreme officers of the tribe of Ben Hur Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of last week. A number of special meetings were held and a regular meeting with a banquet was given Friday evening. A new degree called the Medlers' degree was conferred on a class of candidates.

Next Friday evening the court will entertain with "500" and dancing in Ames hall, Foster Road and 56th street, Archer Place, to which everyone is invited.

Grammar School Rulings Revised

A new system is being devised for the grammar school baseball league which opens its season about April 20. As in former years the city will be divided into several sections, but contrary to the usual method the champion teams of the several sections will not compete for a city championship nor will there be a cup awarded. Other new rulings adopted are: Each team will play two games with each other school team, one on the home grounds and one on the field of the opposing team. Teams will play for the championship of their section. Each team may play as many independent games as they desire. No student over 16 years of age may play in league games, but no age limit is placed on players in independent games.

ARLETA LIBRARY NOTES

When you are planning your gardens don't forget that the library has books on how to make both flower and vegetable gardens and also many different kinds of seed catalogs.

The following new books have been added to the book collection:

Weale, Putnam—An indiscreet chronicle from the Pacific. This is an extra ordinary compilation, dealing with the steps taken to bring about the demise of the Anglo-Japanese treaty.

Wallace, Dillon—Story of Grenfell of the Labrador. A story of the great Labrador missionary and benefactor by one who also has braved the hardships and the perils of the Labrador country.

Abraham, J. J.—My Balkan Log. The story of the achievements of modern science. The author was a doctor in the British Red Cross unit in Serbia during the late war and has contributed an interesting page to the history of humanity.

Mantle, Burns—Best plays of 1821-1922. This is the third volume of "The Best Plays Series."

Cabell, James Branch—"Gallantry." "Gallantry is in its inception a story of stories about the Jacobean period in England and France. It has the right furniture, the masculine heroine, the eavesdropping behind the screens, the duel in the woods, the magnanimous man of iron, the flippant exquisite, the last moments rescue."

Young, Bret—"Red Knight." The hero, Robert Bryden, is an idealist, and an unflinching supporter of unpopular causes. The scene of the novel is laid in Trinacria, in the Mediterranean.

Fletcher, Joseph S.—"The Lost Mr. Lenthwaite." The interest centers in the unraveling of an intricate plot which results in the finding of the lost Mr. Lenthwaite and the rescue of a fortune from a gang of criminals.

Snails, J. C.—"The Van Room." A novel of the conflict of desires—the call of beauty as against the lure of money.

HITS METHODISTS BUT AIMED AT CATHOLICS

Washington, D. C.—(By N. C. W. C.)—A striking instance of an effort to harm the Catholic University of America, but which missed fire because of the ignorance of its perpetrator is pointed out in "The Goose-Step," an alleged study of American Education, written by Upton Sinclair.

Mr. Sinclair, who endeavors to pose as an impartial and painstaking investigator, but many of whose recent books, notably "The Profits of Religion," are full of misleading and erroneous statements, makes the following observation:

"Also the Catholics have their education machine, and raise money from wealthy Catholics for the protection of both Catholicism and wealth. In the city of Washington they have a great central institution. An official of the United States Department of Education writes me:

"I made a study of the American University in Washington not long ago. There are a number of wealthy men on the board. They are obviously placed there for the usual purpose. Most of them never went to college themselves and they know nothing about education in general or in particular. I saw no occasion to doubt their desire to do the best they know how for the institution. But some things they know about, from their associations, and others they do not. They simply cannot appreciate, for example, the fine zeal the founders had for the establishment of a great graduate university. They can see a considerable demand for education in law and business, and so they very naturally let the institution turn in this direction. Consequently a low grade law school and a lower grade business course are being established. The trustees can see some use in these courses and some demand. The need for a great graduate school, the trustees are blissfully ignorant of, and I doubt very much whether on account of their limited educational experience they will ever be able to appreciate the need for such a graduate institution in Washington."

The institution referred to by Mr. Sinclair and which he apparently believes to be the Catholic University of America, is American University, a Methodist institution, memory of its infamous redecessor.

LENTS HAS CLEAN SLATE

Chester A. Lyon states that Lents has a clean slate for the month of February when it comes to boy cases reported to the juvenile court. In checking up the court records for this month he finds only one case reported in all the districts he is working.

In view of the fact that this represents over one-third the population of Portland it is a remarkable record.

A missionary tea will be held St. Patrick's day, March 17, in the Cable Realty company's office at Tremont. This affair is sponsored by the women of the Fourth United Brethren church of Tremont.

SOUTH MOUNT TABOR, RESERVOIR PARK AND VICINITY

The ladies' guild and Sunday school of St. James mission chapel, 37th avenue and 72d street, will hold their Easter sale March 25. Miscellaneous articles, home-made candies and other goodies will be sold. Lunch also will be served.

The ladies' aid of Third United Brethren church met Wednesday and made small articles of clothing for the near east relief.

The Triple-H club met Tuesday evening and displayed ability and training to parents and older folk in a lively debate. The subject was: Resolved, That it is sometimes justifiable to tell a lie. The affirmative was supported by Ellis Lake, Chester Elliott and Richard Jones; the negative, Velma Shepherd, George Guthrie and Beatrice Brummels. The judges, Messrs. Blanchard and Barlow and Mrs. Bishop, decided in favor of the affirmative.

The Parent-Teacher association of Joseph Kellogg school will hold its next meeting on Tuesday, March 20. Mr. Shank bought the home occupied by the Bell family on 68th street and moved in Wednesday.

A birthday surprise party was given Mrs. Theda Adams of 71st street, March 13, at her mother's home.

Mrs. J. Edward Fiest was a visitor at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. R. Lake, Monday.

Mrs. J. H. Keeley was a visitor of the C. W. Gray family Wednesday.

A WEEK OF OPERA

What bids fair to prove the most interesting musical-theatrical event of the present season is the week engagement at the auditorium, beginning Monday, March 19, of the San Carlo Grand Opera company. Greatly augmented, both in numerical and artistic proportions since its forces were heard here a year or so back, the San Carlo is now accredited the most complete and finest balanced organization ever organized for touring purposes, and everywhere in its travels this season has been received with really great acclaim. With a force of 100 members, including an orchestra of 30 selected players, a chorus of 40 and more than 20 distinguished leading singers, the company is now said to be all to which grand opera pretensions aspire. A magnificent array of scenic productions is promised by the San Carlo management, representatives of which are now in the city completing with the Elwyn Concert Bureau, the details of the engagement. The San Carlo company's entire Pacific Coast tour is under the direction of the local musical concern, and reports from Los Angeles and San Francisco at which latter point the singers are now enjoying an immensely successful

KLAN GETS ADVICE FROM G. A. R. HEAD

COMMANDER WILLETT TELLS WHAT HE THINKS OF THE KLUXERS

A MONEY MAKING AFFAIR

ENRICHMENT OF PROMOTERS CHIEF PURPOSE ACCORDING TO VETERAN

"If the Ku Klux Klan would discard its sheet-wrappings and its name, poisoned with the damnable memory of its infamous predecessor abandon its claim that it is the only 100 per cent American organization in the country, get out into the open and fight like true Americans and then pick out a new program to fight for, there might be some excuse for the existence of such an organization."

This is the general view of the Klan expressed by Judge James W. Willett, commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, who visited Portland early this week.

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I know that there are thousands of deluded men who have been misled into allying with this organization which cannot serve any purpose greater than enriching its promoters."

"I do not condemn every one connected with the Klan," said Commander Willett. "I feel sorry for a lot of them. I