BUTLER SPEAKS OF BIGOTRY MENACE

NOTED EDUCATOR BELIEVES PRESENT WAVE OF INTOLERANCE IS SERIOUS

KU KLUX KLAN WILL DIE

CHILDISH ORGANIZATION WILL YIELD TO RIDICULE—BUT ANIMOSITIES REMAIN

"The notion that the American Catholic cannot be and is not as good a citizen as the American Presbyterian, the American Baptist, the American Methodist or the American Unitarian because he owes mysterious allegiance to a foreign potentate, is the most utter bosh; that Americans will listen to it and devote any time to thinking of it, is the sign of a diseased mentality. Let anyone name better American citizens than the late Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore, the late Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, or the late Bishop Spalding of Peoria."

This is the statement made by Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, New York, in the course of an interview with Edward Marshall, which has appeared as a copyright article in several newspapers.

Dr. Butler believes that the present wave of bigotry and intolerance is a serious menace to the country.

"The United States," he said, "will not be true to itself nor even measurably achieve its ideals, until this religious antagonism is brought to an end."

After reviewing the periodical manifestations of religious intolerance which have marked American history since the foundation of the republic and especially the Know-nothing movement and its religious intolerance and racial prejudice, Dr. Butler said:

"Today, well on into the 20th century, these two American, un-Christian and uncivilized sources of intolerance are again at work and with redoubled energy. The Ku Klux Klan, with its childish and preposterous ritual and nomenclature, will be killed by ridicule which its very existence invites. With regard to it we need waste little time in argument. But far subtler, often invisible and more dangerous influences are at work in American communities to spread religious animosities and race antagonism."

High School Teachers Report

Teacher—Johnny, spell needle.

Johnny—N-e-i-d-l-e.

Teacher—No, Johnny, there's no "i" in needle.

Johnny—If there's no eye in needle, it ain't no good.

There's beauty all around our paths if but our watchful eyes Can trace it midst familiar things, and through their lowly guise.

—Felicia D. Hemans.

HAVE YOU NOTICED

That the editor published the stuff that we have him under this fair caption?

That we're going to try his patience with some more?

That if it has reached your eye, dear reader, it probably has been published?

That March came in like a lamb?

That Canada received only one half its usual annual coal supply from the United States during 1922?

That the city of Pueblo, Colo., is preparing to expend $4,000,000 in the construction of dams and levees for the prevention of the recurrence of the flood of June, 1921?

That the contract for the construction of the first subway in Tokio has been let?

That Signor Mussolini, the Fascist premier, is out to catch all the gamblers in Italy?

That the governor of South Carolina is strongly in favor of a law prohibiting the sale of "extracts" for the making of beverages?

That one fly killed now is as good as 1000 killed next August?

That if you see some certain fault in a friend you overlook it while if you notice the same fault in some one to whom you are not friendly you begin immediately to "rip 'em up" behind his back?

That it is time to get the old flivver tuned up after her annual hibernation?

That if she does not need the top repaired nor a coat of paint she is sure to need a new tire or new brake linings or something else?

That it is time for spring cleaning; also spring dresses and hats?

That the old fishing itch is likely to attack the youngsters any time?

That a little sense is found among all this nonsense every once in a while.

School Plans Interclass Games

Every room in the Arleta school from the fourth grade up, about 13 rooms altogether, has been provided with indoor baseballs and bats and a series of inter-class games is being planned. There will be but few inter-school games this spring, but all children who are physically able will be expected to participate in the inter-class games. ## OUR LADY OF SORROWS PARISH

The annual Easter party of the parish will be held in the new parish hall at Fifty-second street and Woodstock avenue, on Thursday evening, April 5. It will be sponsored by the local branch of the Holy Name society, assisted by the young ladies. As the first social in the new spacious parish hall, this affair will, of course, be above criticism in every respect.

Word has been received from Warrenton of the death, by accident, of Louis Stutte, one of the promising young men of the parish. He was injured on Monday and died on Tuesday. The family left for Warrenton as soon as news of the accident arrived.

A Whaling Voyage in the Old Days

From the Deep of the Sea is the real diary of the adventurous voyage of the whale ship Diana in 1866, by Charles E. Smith.

Men and women who like a true story of a fight put up by brave men against imminent danger and of endurance under the most wearing hardships will find much to admire in this diary of a Quaker surgeon on a year's voyage in a whaler out from Hull.

Apart from its record of suffering and peril in Arctic ice packs, when the supply of food and fuel almost failed, the diary is filled with Arctic lore and characteristic incidents of life at sea in the old whaling days, as well as many amusing stories told by the captain of the Diana, whose conscience wouldn't allow him to go after whales on Sunday. The Macmillan company, publishers.

CHRIS GESME AGAIN IN BUSINESS

Daryman Returns from California to Take Over Butte Property

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Gesme returned this month from California where they had spent the winter. Mr. Gesme was forced to take back his dairy ranch on Powell Valley Road, opposite the county hospital grounds, the Jersey Lily Dairy, sold by Mr. Gesme to Mr. Potter some months ago, has been renamed the Butte Dairy and under the new name will be conducted by Mr. Gesme.

Mr. Gesme says he found things at the dairy in bad shape when he returned and was forced to go into the courts to get quick action on the return of his property.

Mr. and Mrs. Gesme enjoyed their visit in California immensely. Mrs. Gesme, particularly, is delighted with San Diego. The Mount Scott couple motored on their trip and ran into the severe snow storm of some weeks ago. However, they declared, the southern California sunshine made up for any severe weather.
