The Beautiful Land of Nod.

Come cuddle your head on my shoulder, dear,
Your head like the golden rod,
And we will go sailing away from here
To the beautiful Land of Nod,
Away from life's hurry and flurry and worry,
Away from the earth's shadow and gloom;
To a world of fair weather we'll float off together
Where roses are always in bloom.

Just shut up your eyes and fold your hands,
Your hands like the leaf of a rose,
And we will go sailing to those fair lands
That never an atlas shows,
On the north and the west they are bounded by rest,
On the south and the east by dreams;
'Tis the country ideal where nothing is real,
But everything only seems.

Just drop down the curtains of your dear eyes,
Those eyes like a bright bluebell,
And we will sail out under starlit skies
To the land where the fairies dwell,
Down the river of sleep our bark shall sweep
Till it reaches the mystical isle
Which no man hath seen, but where all have been,
And there we will pause a while.

I will croon you a song as we float along,
To that shore that is blessed with God,
Then, ho, for that fair land, we're off for that rare land,
That beautiful land of Nod!

The Irreverent Twain.
Senator Stewart, of Nevada, tells a story in the Philadelphia Post of Mark Twain's early days in Carson City.

"At that time," said Senator Stewart, "the humorist had not attained to the philosophic calm which comes with college degrees. He was a journalist, and an un-terried one. In Carson City he boarded at the house of his brother, who was a model citizen and a Christian.

"One morning I was a guest of this brother at breakfast. We had seated ourselves at the table when a voice drawled from the stairway above:

"Have you read the Scripture lesson this morning?"

"Yes was the reply.

"Had family prayers?" continued the voice from above.

"Yes, Sam," said the host, smiling at me.

"There was a pause, and then, in the now well-known drawl, came the father question:

"Said grace?"

"Yes," responded the patient head of the household.

"All right, then," came the cheerful comment from the stairway; "I'll be right down." And presently the irreverent youth, who in a few years was to promote the gaiety of nations, joined us at the breakfast table."

A bottle which has been on its way for two years and a half has just been picked up near the Hawaiian Islands. From its contents it appears that it was thrown into the Mackinac Straits in 1900 by a man of Illinois. It appears to have floated down the Mississippi, crossed the Mexican Gulf and the Atlantic, doubled Cape Horn, and drifted on the Pacific until picked up—a distance of 10,000 miles or so.

A petition is being circulated asking Governor Geer to pardon W. H. Sloan, of La Grande, who is now serving time in the penitentiary for rape.

Ferry telegraphs from Labrador that he is on the way home, but does not say whether he is bringing the pole with him or not.

The State Fair just closed at Salem is Oregon's 42nd annual exhibition.

MOTHERHOOD
The greatest ambition of American men and women is to have homes blessed with children. The woman afflicted with female disease is constantly menaced with becoming a childless wife. No medicine can restore dead organs, but Wine of Cardui does regulate derangements that prevent conception; does prevent miscarriage; does restore weak functions and shattered nerves and does bring babies to homes barren and desolate for years. Wine of Cardui gives women the health and strength to bear healthy children. You can get a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your dealer.

WINE OF CARDUI
111 Market Street, Memphis, Tenn., April 14, 1901.
In February, 1901, I took one bottle of Wine of Cardui and one package of Theodore's Black-Draught. I had been given birth to a child named Cardui. The baby weighs fourteen pounds and I now my home is happy and I never will be without Wine of Cardui in my house again.
