Grand Masquerade Ball at Leneve's Hall, evening of Feb. 14.

Several of the Sixes River boys were in town Sunday, on a vacation.

Regular meeting of Port Orford Camp W. O. W., next Saturday evening.

J. Huntley has been appointed Administrator of the estate of the late Joseph Close.

Will Coughlin, of Wedderburn, made Port Orford a business visit during the week.

Born—At Gold Beach, Oregon, on Jan. 15th, 1903 to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Smith a son.

A letter from Mrs. Junkin, who resides in the Blue Mountains, received too late for publication this week.

Geo. Curry, of Euchre Creek was among the Port Orford visitors during the week. Also Frank Moore, from the same place.

G. W. Axtell, the Elk River miner, was a passenger for the City by last steamer. We understand he will purchase machinery for operating his quartz mine.

Scott Sheldon, one of the members of the P. F. & L. Co., arrived upon Los Angeles last week, to make proof on his timber claim, and to attend to other business.

A. J. Marsh last week hauled one of the old boilers formerly belonging to the Port Orford Cedar Company's mill, from Hubbards Creek to the upper Elk River mill, to be used in the dry house.

Thes. Lane and Alf Miller, who took Sterling Gibbs, insane, to the asylum at Salem, returned Thursday, having safely delivered their charge, then visited Portland for a few days.

Mrs. Neygren left last week for a couple of weeks visit with friends in Coos county. She was accompanied by Miss Vernice Chandler, who returns to her home, after a protracted visit with her sister, Mrs. Johnston, of this place.

The ad. for the Grand Masquerade Ball to be given at Wedderburn on the evening of Feb. 21, by the W. O. W., appears this week. No pains will be spared by the various committees having the matter in hand, to make this one of the most pleasant, enjoyable, and successful events of the kind that has ever occurred in the county.

After a long period of pleasant, sunny weather, a cold, blustery, rain storm set in last Monday, and a large amount of water has since fallen. Notwithstanding we have had what is termed a mild winter, cattle generally are not looking as well as usual at this season, owing to the long protracted early rains, and subsequent frosty weather.

W. T. Kerr, Supt. here of the P. F. & L. Co.'s business left last week for Los Angeles in compliance with a request from the company, who desired to consult with him, and perfect arrangements for resuming milling operations in the Spring. It is the purpose of the company to run their two Elk River mills to their fullest capacity next season, and everything will be in ship-shape for a rushing business by the opening of the season.

Dr. Tyler and family, formerly of Port Orford, now reside at Anaheim, Orange county, Cal. In a letter to the TRIBUNE, the Doctor says: "This is a beautiful little town of 2500 inhabitants, surrounded by a thickly settled, prosperous country, in the heart of the orange and walnut growing section. I have a nice practice, having bought out Dr. Eddy, an established physician—only two other M. D.'s besides myself. This leaves us all well. Johnny, my eldest son, is attending the High School here. Norman is pursuing his art study in the University of California. Clio goes to the Grammar School."

Mr. and Mrs. Cunniff were called to the bedside of their daughter, Mrs. White at Winchuck one day last week, who was quite seriously sick with pneumonia. They returned Thursday, leaving their daughter much improved.

John Crook and Stewart Crayne of Pistol River were seen on our streets during the week. Johnny's injured shoulder is slowly improving, although his arm is as yet almost helpless.

Robert Burns, a nephew of E. B. Burns, and wife arrived here last week from Oklahoma, and intend making their home among us for an indefinite period.

Mr. Leonard, a timber cruiser from Eastern Oregon, is making a protracted stay at the county seat. He has been looking up the timber resources on Pistol River and Hunters Creek, has found the timber to be all O. K. both in quantity and quality. He expects the timber market to be livelier during the present year than it was the last, and says that those who have been fortunate enough to secure timber claims, may rest easy as their money is well invested.

Langlois Items.

1-17-1903.

An exceedingly pleasant party was given Thursday evening at the residence of W. S. Guerin in honor of his son Court, who that day attained his majority. Mrs. Guerin and family have the happy faculty of entertaining successfully, and Thursday evening was the most enjoyable of the season. About forty guests were present.

Mrs. Frank Langlois, and Ivy, Mrs. E. Thrift and daughter, and Sylvia Rackeff went up the Coast Wednesday morning to visit at Bandon and Coquille. They will remain several days.

Boring at the oil mine on the Button ranch still continues, and all hope it may prove a success.

Several names are proposed for membership in the Good Templars lodge. There seems to be quite a general desire among the people to show their colors on the temperance question.

Manila, Jan. 11.—The general regret of the Filipino people at the possible departure of Governor Taft resulted today in a popular demonstration for the purpose of urging the Governor to remain in the islands. The streets of Manila have been placarded with signs saying: "We want Governor Taft," in English, Tagalo and Spanish.

A crowd of 8000 marched to Malacan palace, the Governor's residence, today. Upon its reaching the palace, speeches were made by representatives of the Liberal and Nationalist parties, in which the Governor was urged to remain. The speakers said Mr. Taft's presence was necessary to preserve order, for the prevention of political disruption and to secure the maintenance of the present policy. The speakers paid special tributes to the Governor, the crowd cheering its approval.

In replying to the addresses, Governor Taft said it would not be decided at present whether he leave the islands or remain until next August. He assured the people that, if he did leave, the present policy of the American Government would suffer no change, it being not a question of individual, but of National policy.

After the speeches, the thousands of natives who filled the grounds of the palace broke into a cheer for the Governor.

The Spirit of Winter.

The Spirit of Winter is with us, making its presence known in many different ways—sometimes by cheery sunshine and glistening snows, and sometimes by driving winds and blinding storms. To many people it seems to take a delight in making bad things worse, for rheumatism twists harder, twinges sharper, catarrh becomes more annoying, and the many symptoms of scrofula are developed and aggravated. There is not much poetry in this, but there is truth, and it is a wonder that more people don't get rid of these ailments. The medicine that cures them—Hood's Sarsaparilla—is easily obtained and there is abundant proof that its cures are radical and permanent.

Salem, Jan. 12.—The session of the Oregon legislature for 1903 convened today. The senate was called to order promptly at ten o'clock by Hon. C. W. Fulton, of Astoria.

Senator John D. Daly, of Corvallis, was chosen temporary chairman.

At eleven o'clock the republican members held a caucus to decide upon a candidate for the presidency of the senate. Twenty-two members were present in the caucus, with Senator Fulton presiding. Eight ballots were cast, each resulting in a tie between Senator Smith, of Multnomah, and Senator Brownell, of Clackamas. The caucus then adjourned until 1:30 p. m., both the Smith and Brownell men expressing themselves confident of success.

The house was called to order at 10:20, and Representative R. A. Emmitt, of Klamath county, was chosen temporary chairman. The republican members soon after went into caucus to choose a candidate for speaker.

Upon reconvening of the caucus this afternoon Senator Brownell was chosen president of the senate, and Representative L. T. Harris, of Eugene, won out for speaker of the house, both by very narrow margins. The competitors of the latter were B. L. Eddy, of Tillamook, and Frank Davey, of Salem. Senator Brownell was chosen president in the caucus on the eighteenth ballot.

Get the Most Out of Your Food

You don't and can't if your stomach is weak. A weak stomach does not digest all that is ordinarily taken into it. It gets tired easily, and what it fails to digest is wasted.

Among the signs of a weak stomach are: uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, and disagreeable belching.

I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at different times for stomach troubles, and I run down condition of the system, and have been greatly benefited by its use. I would not be without it in my family. I am troubled especially in summer with weak stomach and nausea and find Hood's Sarsaparilla invaluable." E. B. HICKMAN, W. CHESTER, Pa.
