Sunny Jim, in the last Globmake a painful effort to be funny.
You are entitled to another try Sunny, but we would be pleased if you would come out from under your non-descript name like a gentleman when making it.

Uncle Jo Cannon is looming up as a Presidential possibility. Fairbanks, Forsaker and Taft are poppular in comparison. Fairbanks represents the Money Power, Forsaker the Trusts, and Taft "Injunctions," the willing tool of all.

The San Francisco graft cases continue to multiply, involving even bigger game than Ruef and Schmitz.
If the trials continue to drag along in the modern costly dilatory way, it will bankrupt the city before they finish and all parties will be dead.

Late papers state that the President has determined to push the proposition of all railroads and all other mergers that have violated the Sherman law and crushed competition. The indictment of the Furniture dealers of the North-west by the Federal grand jury at Portland, is in line with his resolute policy.
If these prosecutions dissolve the mergers, will they not combine in some secret manner that cannot be reached? And if they do, only an intelligent people can squelch the evil by their votes.

It is reported throughout the country that a young lady from Uthet came up to Gold Beach a short time ago to file on a Timber Claim, but the Clerk being absent, the deputy would not or could not, transact the business, and that, while the young lady was waiting for the Clerk to return, Sheriff Masters, in some manner unknown, got hold of the description of the land, and filed upon it.
The manner in which it was done demands an explanation, and the columns of the TRIBUNE are hereby tendered to, all parties connected with the transaction, for such explanation.

Orchard's Confession.

Orchard's confession in the Haywood trial at Boise, is a recitation of murder and human depravity without parallel since the days of Borgia. It has produced a tremendous sensation, and despite our wishes, its cold blooded clear recital forces the reader to feel that it may be true. Its weakness lies in the vast territory it covers, the numerous dates, places, incidents and persons involved. It will be "matter of time" if upon cross examination, he does not get fatally entangled. The orderly manner in which he connected each part of his murderous work, proves that he has been well drilled; but if his story is false, never yet has any murderer been able under cross examination to uphold so large a superstructure, unless the foundation was based upon the rock of truth. The strong point in the confession, and most dangerous for the defense, is that the man he murdered and tried to murder, were those most inimical to the Miners' Union.

A fair Judge presides, a good jury is secured, and every worthy American says: Let Justice be done, no matter whom it slays, for there are many involved in Orchard's diabolical work who ought to die. May the trial show upon which side are the tents of the murderers.

Life.
The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I feel thee bounding in my veins," is a joyous one. Person that can rely or never make it, in honesty to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but exist; for to live implies more than to be.
To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessing, and that medicine is Hodge's "Ayer's." The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abounding. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the readers of our columns.

Mayor Lane of Portland was re-elected after a hotly contested campaign by over 800 majority. Although Portland is overwhelmingly republican, this is Lane's second victory for the Mayoralty. The people have faith in him, and showed their good sense by standing by a tried man rather than by one untried. Lane will undoubtedly be the next democratic candidate for Governor, while Chamberlain will aspire for the Senatorship under our Direct Primary Law, under which they will probably go down to defeat, whether or not they have popular majorities.

More Law-Breakers.

"New York, June 4.—Former Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M.
Shaw may head a $50,000,000 banking merger. Reports are current in the financial district, according to the times today, that the newly organized Carnegie Trust Company, of which Mr. Shaw is the head, will be the nucleus of a combination of trust companies, whose total resources aggregate the figures given.
Officers of the company decline to discuss the proposition at present, but it is stated that tentative negotiations have progressed to a point where the question is receiving serious consideration from the three concerns involved."

A philosopher has said: "Let me control the money of a country and I will control the liberties of the people." No trust, no monopoly, no merger, is so dangerous to our country as a combination of the bankers. Yet right under the eyes of our President, in spite of the Sherman Anti-Trust law, and the President's threats to enforce it, the above article shows an absolute disregard of his threats and of the law, and a late cabinet officer heads brazenly the merger. Has he inner assurance that warrants such audacity? Is the President weakening in his attack upon these dangerous combinations? Just now our country is trembling with fear of a financial crisis, and the cause for it is because our people have sat still and allowed congress to give bankers absolute control by indirect methods, and in violation of the constitution, of every dollar in circulation.

Arbitration.

San Francisco, June 3.—"The creation by constitutional amendment of a State Court of Compulsory Arbitration to assume control and adjust all disputes arising between employers and labor organizations is advocated by Governor Gillett. The governor has already sketched out a plan of organization of a court of three members, to form part of the judiciary system of California. It would have power to compel settlement by arbitration of labor disputes, especially when the operation of public utilities, such as streetcar systems, would be involved. The proposition will be discussed at a meeting this afternoon between Governor Gillett and the conciliation committee of the Civil League."

The foregoing move in the direction of Arbitration is in harmony with the spirit of the age, and our progress towards a civilization that is real. If civilization is to be advanced; if liberty is to be achieved and held; if justice is to be done; and if humanity is to be placed above the love of inanimate matter, Arbitration will come, for it is the only method by which such results can be achieved. Our Constitution must be expanded, and our imbecile system of judiciary be overthrown by a sane system of Arbitration, a temple of Justice and Equality.
The natives of the earth, recognizing the inefficiency of International Law, and knowing that its interpretation has ever been made by the weight of military and naval power, are today earnestly striving for Arbitration, as the only way to preserve the peace of the world and maintain Justice and Equality among nations, just as a wise system of Arbitration would administer Justice and Equality among the citizens of the state.

CURRENT TOPICS.

Editor TRIBUNE:—The Oregonian makes the demise of Theodore Tilton the occasion for characteristic disingenuous comments anent the great Beecher scandal back in 1874, with the evident purpose of misleading readers as to the facts notorious at the time in that case and the results of the litigation which culminated in a divided jury. That paper does not omit to state that Mrs. Tilton retraced her confession before a Church Council of investigation obviously packed for the whitewash which followed, but apparently had no recollection of the more significant fact that, after W. W. Allen, including the suit for damages, and on her own motion, moved as she declared by an swooning conscience, she retracted and repudiated the retraced she had been coaxed into making when before the Church Commission.
The Oregonian says that the jury in the case at law administered a "stinging rebuke" to Tilton in that it failed to agree on a judgment, apparently oblivious to the fact that honors were left even between Beecher and Tilton so far as any "rebuke" might be inferred since it declined to acquit the former.

The great lawyer and later political economist Mr. Shearman, defended Mr. Beecher and was made famous by his ability and tact in that case.

It was Mr. Shearman who first seriously warned the people of the great danger of their liberties and industrial safety which lurked in the rapid concentration of the wealth produced by the farmers and wage-workers into fewer and fewer hands.

The federal grand jury sitting at St. Louis, Mo., has indicted the Appeal to Reason and its managing editor Mr. Warren, ostensibly for a series of unpatriotic utterances, but really to break the force of the paper's vigorous and intelligent ex-posure of the conspiracy of the Mine Owners' Association and Intermountain State Authorities to destroy organized labor. And it is more than significant that the prosecution was so timed as to have the greatest influence on the current elections of the labor men in Idaho.
The boast is made by the corporations and their allies in Kansas that the purpose is to harass the Appeal to Reason with costly litigation as to drive it out of business.
It costs the conspirators against the paper nothing to wage criminal prosecution since the Government foots the bills, but the defendants must pay their own way.

If it were possible for Horace Greely to return to earth, he would salute J. A. Wayland with: "Be brave, as I was, for I too was for years and years the victim of persecution and malice and all uncharitableness, but stayed with the good fight to the end."

Abraham Lincoln, he who never missed an opportunity to castigate "respectable scoundrels," would send greeting to the Appeal to Reason in the hour of its trials, with the promise to rejoice with it in the hour of its sure triumph.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.
As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces, such articles should never be sold, except on prescriptions from reputable physicians as the damage they will do is ten fold the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and it will be sold by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials

Buy Hair at Auction?

At any rate, you seem to be getting rid of it on auction-sale principles: "going, going, g-o-n-e!" Soop the auction with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It certainly checks falling hair; no mistake about this. It acts as a regular medicine; makes the scalp healthy. Then you must have healthy hair, for it's nature's way.

The best kind of a testimonial—

Land Matters.

"After a conference with and upon the recommendation of Senator Bourne, Land Commissioner Billinger has ordered Special Inspector O'Brien, of Denver, to proceed to Roseburg and assist the local land officers in clearing up the accumulation of business in their office. Work has fallen behind to such an extent that there are now pending about 700 land cases and contests awaiting action. When the Roseburg offices is straightened out, similar work is to be done elsewhere in Oregon."

Because of lack of appropriation, the Commissioner is unable to increase the clerical force of any Oregon land offices, though he realizes the need of more clerks to handle the great mass of business now being transacted. The Commissioner said he would do everything possible to relieve the situation in Oregon. He believes he will be able ultimately to bring the Oregon work up to date.

At the further request from Mr.
Bourne, the commissioner has directed that immediate examination be made of all pending public land surveys in Oregon, some of which have been held up as much as ten years because of adverse reports of inspectors. All surveys found to be correct will be accepted and paid for and, unless there is some important reason for withholding plate, the land covered by such surveys will be opened to entry.
Where pending surveys are found to be erroneous the surveyors will be notified and given the option of making corrections, so that their contracts may be closed out and those areas as well thrown open to entry.

A large number of bona fide settlers are enduring hardships by the delay in approving these old contracts. There will be no more hold-ups in Oregon on mere suspicion.
Mr. Billinger will demand evidence."

Dora Jennings.

Grants Pass, Or., June 5.—Suffering with an incurable disease and with but a few more days to live, Dora Jennings, the girl who with her brother, Jasper, was tried in the Josephine county court for the murder of her father, is spending what little strength remains in her wasted body in wild ravings and cries of terror. She declares her attentive old mother and her brothers are trying to poison her. She refuses both medicine and food, believing it is drugged.

"They want to get me out of the way," she cries aloud. "They are trying to kill me—to kill me." At first she screamed her words of terror, but now life is so far spent and her strength so nearly exhausted that she can speak but little above a whisper.

Every day Warden Cheshire accompanies Jasper Jennings from the county jail to the house in the suburbs of Grants Pass where the Jennings family now reside and where the girl lies on her deathbed.

Dora scarcely recognizes her brother, and states that she knew nothing of the crime till next morning when she awoke and found her father dead in bed.

During her trial Dora displayed remarkable calmness and self-possession. The cutting sarcasm and stinging invective of the prosecuting attorney brought only a pretty smile from her. She sat through the cross examination unmoved, and the jury could do naught else than acquit her.

Though given her freedom, the girl was not at ease. She was not seen around Grants Pass for several months. When she returned she was no longer the plump, rosy cheeked lass who had laughed and smiled through a murder trial only a little while before. She was a mere shadow of her former self.
She was continually haunted by some unseen terror. What this was no one knew, and no one knows yet, for the girl would say no word about the crime. The prosecuting attorney said the girl would take the stand during the second trial of Jasper, who was jointly indicted with her and confess the crime. But as Jasper's second trial has not yet occurred Dora did not take the stand. Those who know her best declare that she would not have done so, even had the trial occurred when her health was still spared her.

The physicians who are attending her are nonplussed as to the nature of the malady that is slowly and surely sapping the life of the once robust young woman. They are baffled not only by their inability to define the nature of the disease, but by the girl's absolute refusal to take medicine. They have despaired of saving her life, and declare it is only a matter of a few days till death must claim her. Then will be closed forever the secret and the dark mystery of the murder of the old miser in the little cabin at Granite Hill.—Journal.
