Town and County.

Mr. and Mrs. Neumann Sr. are visiting for a few days in town.
Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wells of Sixes river had business in Port Orford Monday.

The schooner Berwick and steamer San Pedro are expected at Port Orford within the coming week.

Franz Nordberg left Port Orford for Big Bend last Friday, where he will work for the Gold Bar Mining Company.

Chas. Bailey and Will Colebrook were in Port Orford Friday night on their way to Roseburg on a business trip.

The Coquille ball team has practically won the pennant from the opposing teams of Bandon, Marshfield and North Bend.

Mr. Wright, representing Murphy Galt & Co. of San Francisco, was interviewing our merchants the latter part of last week.

Sheriff Marsters was in town last week, summoning jurors etc. for Circuit Court which convenes at Gold Beach next Monday.

Guaranteed Forest Reserve Scrip for sale in large or small quantities, by Frank E. Alley, upstairs over Land Office Roseburg, Oregon. Will place same for non resident purchasers.

Harry Goerin, of Eckley, was in town last week, starting hands with old friends and looking pleasant. He reports things flourishing in his vicinity.

Teams are now busy hauling to the wharf lumber from the Adolphson mill. A vessel is expected soon to take about a half million feet to San Pedro.

Miss Neide Gibson of Langlois, was an outgoing passenger on Tuesday's stage for Wedderburn, where she goes to visit friends and relatives.

An elderly gentleman passed down the coast Saturday on his way to Wedderburn, having in charge a race mare belonging to Mr. McCullen, the livery stable man at North Bend.

Harvey Smith and Mr. Pine-ton, with four or five divers passed through Port Orford Tuesday with a band of sheep belonging to Young & Co., which they were driving to Oakland, Oregon.

Supt. Johnston and the Misses Dumphry, Chandler and Biglow, went by Monday's stage to Bandon to attend the joint teachers' institute at that place, which holds session on the 20, 21 and 22 inst.

Mr. Meachen, operator of the Wireless Station at Cape Blanco, was in Port Orford Wednesday and made the Tribune office a pleasant call. He hasn't picked up any Japanese warships yet.

A dance was given in Nielsen's hall Saturday night in honor of the successful "school maams" and a most enjoyable time was reported.

Excellent music was furnished by P. of Johnston, Norman Tyler and Mr. Hansen.

P. J. Lindberg returned from a business trip to Coos bay last week, where he reports lively times and says that the fact that he did not have his old clothes along was all that kept him from accepting some of the several positions which were offered him.

D. Glanville started for Sixes river Monday to commence development work on one of the placer mines which he has located in that section. The Dr. is confident that he has a good thing and his friends hope that he may realize his expectations by "striking it rich." His family will reside in town during his absence.

Raymond E. Baker, principal of the Myrtle Point school, accompanied by Mrs. Baker spent a day or two in Port Orford last week—enjoying the sea breeze, and viewing the surrounding scenery. Mr. Baker thinks that Coos county timber looks good to him and while he was down he inspected a claim on which he has filed on Elk river.

Misses Angela Dumphry, Calla Chandler and Dora Biglow, were the only applicants for certificates at the Teacher's Examination held last week at Port Orford, and received certificates as follows: Miss Dumphry first grade; Miss Chandler second grade; Miss Biglow second grade.

Norman Tyler and F. A. Stewart assisted the Superintendent in the examination.

Clear, warm weather, tempered with a brisk sea-breeze is the order of the day.

Secretary Taft will be in Port land during the early part of September, laying ropes for his candidacy for president.

O. P. Haugen is building a two story frame hotel at Langlois, and will soon be able to entertain the traveling public in ease and comfort.

Chauncy Woodruff and Marion Zumwalt, who have been fishing for R. D. Hume since last spring, have returned to their homes in this end of the county during the closed season at Rogue river.

Deputy Game Warden Wright withdrew his case against Axtell in Justice Zumwalt's Court and sent the papers to the State Game Warden who will lay the matter before the District Attorney.

W. J. Ward, the timber cruiser who has been cruising for the Brook-ing Lumber & Box Co., south of Rogue river for the past several months, passed up the coast last week on a business trip of a couple of weeks to Portland.

Wm. Hurst Sr. has been having considerable trouble with his eyes for the past month—being afflicted with a disease of sight, and unless they improve in the near future he will probably go away for medical attendance.

Julius Koch is now living in his cottage in town, and his hospitable treatment, together with a good photograph and large number of records, makes him a favorite with the old and young, and his light is often burning far into the night as a consequence.

Mrs. N. Neygren and son Willie returned home Sunday from a several days visit to the Coquille. Mr. Neygren is at present employed at Coquille and Jim is working at the Aberdeen mill, while the Misses Nora and Rebecca have positions in the hotel Gulliver at Bandon.

A linesman from Marshfield was in town last Saturday on his return from Gold Beach, having repaired the telephone line and phones between the two places, and persons may expect more satisfactory service unless our local operators "get in the swim" and join the strikers.

A large seven point buck Elk lies dead near Coos bay place on Elk river, which evidently died a natural death as a close examination failed to show any other cause. Let them die! The fatal operation of one month E. caused by a blundering legislature, will exterminate them anyhow.

Jack Finagan, F. S. Lamberton, A. A. Dimmick and E. P. South, of Coos Bay, were in Port Orford Wednesday night on a prospecting and hunting expedition on the headwaters of Elk river. They will make their headquarters at Snyder's camp at Blecker bay.

Best Johnson passed through Port Orford Monday on his way to Wedderburn, where he goes to attend the races and ride the horse sent down by McCullen of North Bend. He also had a pretty fox Terrier in charge which we assure will make the fortunate young lady smile.

Capt. Bruce, who was first officer on the South Portland when she went down at Cape Blanco, came down last week to take command of the Bacoine Northwest, which was towed back to Coos bay Saturday by the tug Columbia; but owing to some misunderstandings he left overland for Coos bay last Friday.

Capt. Jas. Magee, his son William and Ed Hansen, of the tug Columbia, made us a friendly call last Thursday. Capt. Magee is a veteran tug Captain of this coast. No man ranks higher in his vocation, and he has the confidence of every man who knows him. He is a large man mentally and physically, and though 66 years of age he is erect in figure and has scarcely aged in looks in a score of years. Ed Hansen has been with Magee for so many years that it speaks much for the good qualities of both of them. Willie, the Captain's youngest son, was a little barefoot boy, racing hoops for nickels, and splashing around in the mud flats at Empire catching crabs with his toes, when we last knew him; but he is now mate of the tug, a strapping fellow, big enough for any job.

Probably the only two men in the northwest to compete in the athletic meet at the Jamestown fair, will be Dan Kelly of the University of Oregon and Forest Smithson of the Multnomah club. There is considerable rivalry between these two sprinters, and Smithson's friends believe that he can best Kelly in the 100 yard dash.

The new German liner "Zuelianis" recently maintained a speed of 25 1/2 knots for a distance of 1200 miles. The dimensions of the steamer are: 790 feet long, 88 feet beam, 60 feet, with a displacement of 45,000 tons and an indicated horse-power of 80,000. The "Zuelianis" consumes 45 tons of coal per hour, and has accommodations for 3,000 souls.

The smallpox epidemic that broke out at Myrtle Point has entirely subsided. The people of that community and indeed of the whole valley are to be congratulated because of the skill that prevented the spread of that terrible disease, only two persons having been unfortunately taken the malady after it appeared. Mr. Tucker, who brought the disease to the town, is reported out of the hospital and in good health.—Sentinel.

E. C. Mather of North Bend was in town Friday night on his way to Wedderburn, where he will rusticate for a couple of weeks, and on his return will be accompanied by his wife and child, who have been visiting at Rogue river for some time past. Ed says that while real estate transfers on the bay are not as lively as they were some time ago, yet work is plentiful and times are good. He states that the Grocery store in which he and Tom Orvey own an interest is doing a rushing business.

The little town of Dairyville presents a prosperous appearance, and more substantial improvements in the building line have been made within its borders during the summer months than for several years past. Business houses have been enlarged, say all new residences erected and the school house repaired and painted, and with butter at 35c per lb. "cow town" should continue to prosper, as within a radius of 4 or 5 miles there is at the present time some 650 cows being milked for dairy purposes.

F. W. Taft returned home from a trip to San Francisco and Eureka Sunday evening. From him we learned that the jury in the case of the United States vs. W. T. Bailey brought in a verdict for one half the amount prayed for in the complaint. The suit was commenced to recover the value of logs bought by Mr. Bailey from an Indian who took them from his allotment. It would seem from the ruling of Judge De Haven that the Indians have no right to sell the logs from their claims, and that the person buying logs from an Indian allotment claim is liable to the government for the full value of the logs after they have been manufactured into lumber. Mr. Bailey appealed the case to the Circuit Court of the United States.—Crescent City News.

Communicated.

Port Orford, Aug. 17, 1907.
Editor TRIBUNE:—Seeing an article in the Bandon Recorder from the pen of Geo. W. Axtell in which he willfully lies, I beg space in your paper to correct the same.
Mr. Axtell states that I was appointed Deputy State Warden prior to the time I killed the deer on that prospecting trip, which is false, as my commission shows; but then, anyone acquainted with Mr. Axtell's standing for truth and veracity will not be surprised at his mis-statements as to facts. The fact that Mr. Axtell has twice been arrested for violating the game law and both times made change of venue from the District where he resides, is proof that he himself recognizes his standing in the community, and that it is such that he is afraid to trust his trial to a jury of his neighbors. We are willing to compare reputations in every respect with Mr. Axtell.

Yours etc,
M. T. WRIGHT.

J. A. Haines, of Eckley, has gone to Eugene to celebrate with his twin brother their 70th birthday anniversary.

The Drain Nonpartei says, that material for a dozen or more steel bridges, for the new road to Coos bay, is piled in south Drain, and that concrete piers are being built for these bridges at several crossings.

Chris Rasmussen, of Bandon, has been in town for a few days, greeting old friends. We learn from him that Henry Hewitt Baldwin has sold his pretty cottage and lots at Bandon, and contemplates making a visit to the old country.

Dr. D. L. Steele, of Bandon, has been seriously ill for some time past and his friends are anxiously looking for some change for the better. He has started for the mountains accompanied by Mrs. Steele, but it is considered doubtful if he can make the trip in his present weak condition.

(BANDON RECORDER)

The new school building for Mr. Jamieson is rapidly nearing completion.

Mrs. Ed Ohmen, of Bear Creek, returned Wednesday from a few days' visit with her mother, Mrs. Jensen, of Port Orford.

Here's a wicked one. A man went into a drug store and inquired the price of sulphur, "ten cents a pound," the druggist said. "Aint that a little steep," asked the would be customer, "I can get it of Montgomery Ward & Co. for 7 cents." "You can get it in here for nothing and save the freight," replied the angry druggist.

Geo. P. Laird and wife, L. J. Radley and wife, Grafton Taylor and wife, Mrs. C. Y. Laws and daughter, Mrs. F. E. Dyer and Miss Garfield left for a two weeks' outing down the coast, to Floras Creek; near the Joe Cox place. According to all reports they are having a fine time and must be enjoying themselves immensely; they run out of provisions and had to return for more. Several of the party could not remain absent from work for the two weeks and returned Tuesday.

F. B. Tichenor has been confined to his room at the Guarin hotel for several days on account of an injury received to the groin while climbing a barb wire fence on his late visit to Port Orford.

W. H. Merrick of Portland, representing a syndicate, has been examining the black sand deposits of Coos and Curry counties, and finds that the beach running north of the Rogue river for 10 or 12 miles is very rich in platinum deposits. Other beaches are also rich in precious mineral. Mr. Merrick expects to return later and prospect some of these deposits more thoroughly.

The torpedo boat destroyer Preble anchored in Coos bay last week casting anchor opposite Empire in the lower bay. The boat is of 480 tons displacement, has a speed of 28.03 knots, driven by engines of 7,600 horse power and cost $285,000 in 1899. She carries two white torpedoes, two 3-inch rapid fire guns, and five 6 pound rapid fire guns.

Much speculation as to her visit has been indulged in. At any event the bay will feel less apprehension from foreign attack during her stay.

Dora Jennings Dead.

Dora Jennings, the Granite Hill girl who was acquitted on the charge of murdering her father in 1906, died at the home of her mother here Tuesday morning. The cause of her death was tuberculosis. She made no statement before her death that would clear up the mystery in any way.

Her brother, Jasper Jennings, is still in jail here waiting a second trial on the patricide charge. Jasper Jennings was not at the house when his sister died, but was allowed to attend the funeral.

Dora has been sick since May, and has been living with her mother and brothers since her acquittal last year. For two weeks before her death Miss Jennings was delirious. Toward the last she said neither she nor Jasper killed her father, but her mental condition was such that it was doubtful if the statement would have any weight with a jury.

It is supposed that she may have contracted the disease by confinement in the county jails of Jackson and Josephine counties where she was confined for many months awaiting trial.
