Town and County.

The Jamieson mill at Sixes, has been cutting some lumber, and soon the saws will be busy.

Port Orford has a mammoth wood pile on the beach at Battle rock, brought there and piled up by the big surf.

Dr. Glanville has been under the weather lately; so has Mr. Stone, but we are glad to report that they are convalescent.

Rev. Geo. H. Rosch was unable to come down and hold his regular services at Port Orford last Sunday because of the illness of his wife.

John Deadmond took the stage Friday morning for Bandon on business, and seemed quite cheerful at the delightful shaking up the ride would give him.

Clarence Woodward and another party from Marshfield were in Port Orford Thursday night on their way to Euchre creek, for what purpose we sayeth not.

A Mr. Henry and bride from Seattle spent Sunday in Port Orford, and left next day for Gold Beach on a visit to the former's uncle who resides at Pistol river.

Mart Sherrard brought up some fine mast fed pork Friday, which he had no trouble disposing of to town customers. James Lane of Port Orford went down and helped butcher them.

Jack London and party, on his famous boat the "Snark," have not been heard from for some time, and fear is entertained that the Oriental storms may have swallowed them up.

Nat Dean is carrying the mail from Langlois past Hare to where he meets the Myrtle Point carrier, while Gene Strain drives from Port Orford to Langlois. The boys get through, but they have had a strenuous time doing so.

Dr. White and his nephew, an attorney, both old Oregonians but now of Chicago, went down the coast last Friday looking for investments in real estate. They were accompanied by another gentleman and they constituted a jovial trio.

So far Jan. has been remarkably warm, with grass growing all along the coast. Not a snow flake has yet fallen in Port Orford and as there is no snow in the mountains to speak of, we may reasonably expect good weather and an early spring.

James K. Mack issued on January 4th, the first number of the Fireman's Journal at San Francisco, a copy of which was received by the TRIBUNE. The Journal will be an epitome of Firemens news, ably edited and a typographical work of art. We wish it unlimited success.

A little daughter aged 11 months of F. Cook's, who resides in Port Orford, died of Whooping cough last Wednesday morning and was laid to rest in the cemetery here on Thursday, Dr. Glanville conducting the funeral services. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community.

N. F. McDuff and J. E. Gribble, the two Forest Reserve Rangers who were here several weeks ago, were in town Sunday and left next morning for a short trip up Sixes. They have been up Rogue river as far as the mouth of the Illinois since they were here. They are bright young men and are speedily getting acquainted with this section of Oregon.

A couple of gentlemen came in from Portland last week, bought a lot of grub, and next morning went up Hubbard's creek where they camped a couple of days, and came back and left for Portland again without revealing their mission. But we suppose it was to get the final piece of red tape to tie around the Byer's survey to complete its approval.

We received a cheerful letter from Judge Woodruff, dated Jan. 4, at Lane Hospital in which he had then been confined 20 days, and said it was the first day he had walked since entering the hospital and that he expected to be out in three weeks. At the time he wrote Fred Odgers and Alf Caughell were visiting him, while Violet White and Katie Fromm had visited him the day before. We hope the visits of such Samaritans may continue to cheer him, and that his restoration to health and his home coming may not be delayed by any untoward fate.

Guaranteed Forest Reserve Scrip for sale in large or small quantities, by Frank E. Alley, upstairs over Land Office Roseburg, Oregon. Will place same for non resident purchasers.

Miss Ethel Jamieson was in town yesterday on business. She stopped school at Port Orford in order to assist her mother at home.

Henry McBride, who has spent nearly a year at Bandon, returned to Port Orford Monday for a visit. He says that John Deadmond went up to Marshfield to enter the Horsfall hospital for treatment.

The Supreme Court of the United States held in the Williamson case, that after filing on land parties had a right to contract the sale of the land before title was obtained, although it was criminal to do so before filing.

Word was received by telephone last evening that Alf Gauntlett's little daughter, who has been suffering for some two or three weeks past with meningitis of the brain, is slowly improving and strong hopes are entertained for her recovery.

Oscar Neygren, who drives the stage from here to Corbin, says that the Mussel creek hill washed out badly during the heavy rains, and that Monday the bottom dropped out of one small gulch, but the supervisor said he would have it repaired at once.

The Berwick left Coos bay Sunday morning for Port Orford and Rogue river, but a south wind came up and delayed her arrival here, though supplies are short and anxious eyes are peering out upon the ocean to catch the first glimpse of her appearance.

Judging by the infernal noise made by some of the Port Orford "Tick Tacks" which would skunk a horse fiddle, there must be some mechanical genius among them going to waste. We would like to catch him and send him to Edison, or to the other great Wizzard.

Dr. Tyler was in town last Wednesday night on his way home from Gold Beach, where he was in constant demand as a physician. He is, of course, well pleased that the new road in his section was pushed through the County Court successfully, and to him, more than any one else, is the credit due.

Miss Calla Chandler began a term of school Monday in the Elk river district. A house at Adolphsen's mill has been fitted up for school during the winter months, as it accommodates a larger number of children at that place than where the school house is located further up the river.

There were more agates on the beach Sunday than at any time this winter, and the day being warm and sunny many people were out and some fine agates were collected. Port Orford challenges any other point on the coast to produce such a quantity and quality of gems, both as to value and variety as are found on Agate Beach.

Father Heinrich, a pioneer Priest long stationed at Roseburg in early days, and well known by the early settlers of Coos, Curry and Douglas counties where he was universally loved and respected by everybody regardless of creed, died at Baker City, Oregon, January 5th, from the results of a paralytic stroke received two years ago. He was 60 years of age.

Postmaster Curtis has received word that a pack horse, one locked mail pouch and a sack of paper mail were lost at the Brewster grade on the road between Roseburg and Sumner, while yesterday's mail was being brought to this city. The horse stumbled in some manner and fell over a cliff into the river with the pack of mail on its back and it is doubtful if the mail will ever be recovered.—Marshfield Times.

Registration books are now open. Notaries Public and Justice of the Peace, desiring to take registrations should apply to the County Clerk for supplies for that purpose. Registrations open on the first Monday in January—close for the primary April 7th—reopen April 21st—close for the General Election May 15—open for Presidential election Sept. 20th and close Oct. 20th. One registration is sufficient for the full election period—that is, a registration made in 1908, at any time the books are open, entitles the elector to recognition at any General, Special or Primary election held at any time thereafter up to the first Monday in January 1910.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express through the columns of the TRIBUNE our heartfelt thanks and gratitude to all our friends and neighbors who assisted us in performing the last sad duties to our beloved daughter and sister, and for their many expressions of sympathy and condolence in the hour of our sorrow and bereavement. Such kindly acts will never be forgotten.

F. COOK, WIFE and FAMILY.

Death of Dr. Steele.

Dr. D. L. Steele, the pioneer dentist of this section of the coast, died at his home in Bandon on the evening of January 8th, aged 57 years, having suffered for several years with Brights disease.

He came to Coos County nearly 40 years ago, and was known and respected by all our old residents for his skill, ability and genial personality. He was a Mason, an Odd fellow, a Workman and a Woodman, and always took a deep interest in fraternal work. He was buried in the Masonic cemetery at Coquille City under the impressive rites of that order.

School Report.

Report of School District No. 1, Curry County, Oregon, for the month ending January 10th, 1908:

Number of days taught	19
Number of days attendance	435
Number of days absence	64
Number of times late	2
Number of pupils neither absent or tardy	2
Average number belonging	26
Average daily attendance	22.9
Percent of attendance	88

Roll of Honor for the month, Louis Knapp and Percy Zumwalt.

Visitors; Mrs. Ella Knapp.

The attendance has been cut down this month on account of sickness and two families moving out of the district.

Parents and others are cordially invited to visit the school.

W. A. WOOD, Teacher.

(BANDON RECORDER.)

Frank Carey, who has been seriously ill, is convalescent, and is now able to be up for a short time each day. He has been suffering from meningitis of the brain.

Clarence Boice, No. 1 at the Bandon Life Saving Station, will move to Empire City to take a similar position in the Coos Bay Station. Mrs. Boice will accompany him and they will make their home at Empire.

Common Prudence.

A teacher in a down-town school has for her pupils the children of Russian parents. The other day she was explaining a sum in subtraction which the little ones found hard to understand.

"Now," said she, to exemplify the proposition, suppose I had ten dollars and went into a store to spend it. Say I bought a hat for five dollars. Then I spent two dollars for gloves, and a dollar and fifty cents for other things. How much did I have left?

For a moment there was dead silence. Then a boy's hand went up.

"Well, Isaac, how much did I have left?"

"Vy didn't you count your change?" said Isaac in a disgusted tone.—WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION.

It Quiets the Cough

This is one reason why Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is so valuable in consumption. It stops the wear and tear of useless coughing. But it does more—it controls the inflammation, quiets the fever, soothes, heals. Ask your doctor about this.

The announcement of T. J. Fromm for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff appears in this issue. Theron has both the in-door and out door qualifications to make an excellent officer, and his coming out adds interest to the nomination race, which promises to be an exciting one.

COOS BAY NEWS.

On the last trip the Alliance made the run from Coos bay bar to the Columbia bar in 18½ hours. If she keeps on increasing her speed at this rate, it is probable that a challenge will be issued to the Lusitania.

The owners of the Alliance made Capt. Olsen a Christmas present of a gold watch and chain, valued at $250, in appreciation of his services in bringing the disabled steamer safely to port after the accident while crossing out from Coos bay on Nov. 28th.

The steam schooner Bandon arrived from Coquille, Friday, with about half a million feet of lumber on board, and took the balance of her cargo, 200,000 feet, at the Bay City mill. The Bandon was built at Porter last year by Kruse and Banks, and is of light draft, though she carries a large cargo.

While crossing out Saturday, the Breakwater was struck by an enormous sea, which stove in her forecastle on the port side, seriously injuring four of the crew. A sailors' mess boy named A. Mollavia, a spaniard, was terribly bruised about the head and body and both legs were broken. His injuries proved fatal.

The schooner Lucy, bound from San Pedro to Umpqua, was out 38 days Saturday. She was spoken off the Umpqua about two weeks ago, and is supposed to have been driven north by the late gales. Relatives of Capt. Peterson and the crew are beginning to feel uneasy about the vessel, fearing that she may have met with some accident.

Rapid changes of temperature are hard on the toughest constitution.

The conductor passing from the heated inside of a trolley car to the icy temperature of the platform—the canvasser spending an hour or so in a heated building and then walking against a biting wind—know the difficulty of avoiding cold.
