ADVERTISING RATES REASONABLE.

England said something to Japan and the war cloud, steam of the fierce breath of Japan has vanished. But Russia and Turkey are about to fight and probably our next news will be that fur and feathers are flying.

Bandon is to have a Paper and Pulp mill. R. E. L. Bedillion is president of the company, and is just the man to push it to success. Hurry up Robert for we would like to buy our paper in the future from your mill, and be divorced from our present expensive and uncertain way of getting it. We certainly wish the company success.

Til Ford.

Our boyhood friend, Til Ford, died at Salem a short time ago, possessed of a fortune of nearly two hundred thousand dollars most of which he made as a lawyer. The first time we ever saw him he was astride the noted racehorse "Old Simon" on his father's track near Salem, and he landed his horse a winner in a six mile race against "Kangaroo," a horse known by the old timers at the mouth of Rogue river, where he won all his races.

Mr. Ford never married, leaving his estate to various relatives, bequeathing also 39 watches or diamond pins, as they should prefer, to that number of his life-long friends. He left an untarnished name to gild his memory, and so fades one of Oregon's best and most prominent men.

Anarchists.

Why is our country so indulgent to Anarchists? Out of ten thousand men you will hardly find one man, who does not demand their expulsion from our country. Is our Congress a conclave of cowards that they dare not enact vigorous laws for their banishment? These wretches are opposed to all government. What more right, therefore, have they to seek the shelter of our government, and therein set up their infernal government of non-restraint and murder? While preaching Freedom, they have the least Freedom of all human doctrines; for are they not all sworn by their rites, to obey all orders, or the chances of lottery, and commit murder or any crime? They defy all government, and in every way are ungodly and unworthy to dwell in organized society. Why cannot our statesman provide a tropical island from which they cannot escape, and transport all Anarchists to the island prison, and let them live or die in a state of absolute Anarchy, unmolested and unaided by the outside world? In their vengeance they could kill each other as they wished—who would care? But they could no longer kill the innocent, or oftentimes the best men on earth. Banish them, we say!

Harbor Items.

Editor TRIBUNE:—Nothing of particular interest has transpired in this vicinity of late.

Quite a pleasant little dance occurred at the residence of Mrs. Jordan Thursday night.

There were scores of deer driven from the mountains to the lowlands by the late snow.

Gold Beach and vicinity were well represented at Harbor on Sat. last, and candidates were conspicuous.

We have had no paper mail here for over a week, owing to the mountains being blockaded with snow between Crescent City and Grants Pass. There is said to be 8 feet of snow on the summit.

The snow is melting fast, grass is short and stock are thin. Many farmers are getting short of hay, in fact some are entirely out of feed and will have to trust to Providence to provide from now on until spring.

As this is leap year some of the bachelors who have grown tired of floundering in the meshes of single blessedness are in hopes of being fortunate enough to draw the trump card and thus be relieved of their situation. As it is said, there is no accounting for woman's choice.

Walter Ransom passed through our burg on Tuesday, enroute for Smith River. He complained of having a bad cold, but he was able to talk horse. Walter is quite a horse jockey and is one of the best hands to handle horses in this country, horseracing being his specialty.

One very influential candidate started from Harbor with a horse loaded with whisky. When he arrived at Ferry he found he had lost his pack horse, whisky and all, but did not miss them until he arrived at the ferry boat. The whole town turned out to hunt for the whisky—not the horse, but at last accounts there had been no discovery made.

F. V. Vincent, postmaster at Smith River, contemplates taking a trip back to his old home in Massachusetts. He will be accompanied by his wife and sister in law, Miss Minnie McVay of Chetco. They will start about the first of April. Mr. Vincent says he has worked hard for the last fifteen years and thinks he is entitled to a little rest.

John White of Winchuck, who has a large tract of grazing land leased on upper Chetco, has moved his family and baggage to his new home. Mr. White, who is an extensive cattle raiser in this section informs us that he is going out of the cattle business and will engage in the sheep business in the future. We wish him success in his new field of industry.

We are sorry to learn that our old friend Louis Higgins who keeps a way station at Patrick's Creek, about 25 miles from Crescent City on the Gasquet road, had the misfortune to have his house consumed by fire on Friday last. Mr. Higgins and his aged wife were staying there alone and Mr. Higgins was sick in bed at the time of the conflagration. Patrick's Creek seems to be an unlucky place as there were two houses burnt there previous to Mr. Higgins's. Besides Patrick Din a few years ago was murdered at the same place.

On last Friday, about seven miles from Harbor, at 8 o'clock A. M., one of the saddest accidents happened that has occurred in this neighborhood. Muriel, the little eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bravo, was fatally burned. The particulars of the sad affair, as near as we can learn, are as follows: It seems that Mr. and Mrs. Bravo went out in the pasture to look after some cows, leaving the children at home. The child's clothing caught fire from the stove, and she ran out of the house screaming to a small creek near by. Her screams attracted the attention of her older sister who ran after her in an endeavor to catch her and put out the fire, but did not overtake Muriel until she had reached the creek, where the flames were extinguished. She was tenderly cared for, but expired at 11 o'clock that night. This should be a warning to parents not to leave small children alone any more than possible. There were 62 people in attendance at the funeral, which took place at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, W. C. Lake conducting the services. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the grief-stricken parents.

We have received a copy of the address of Cake, Rep. aspirant for the U. S. Senate. It covers all the current political topics briefly and tersely, and is in harmony with the policy of the President, and the demands of the people. But Cake knows that he is called the "Bankers Candidate," and in his address, he does not touch upon the accusation, and until he makes convincing denial, the people will let the Cake alone for fear it is doctored.

The case of former Congressman J. N. Williamson of Oregon, charged with unlawfully cutting timber on the public lands in Crook Co. Oregon, in conspiracy with 100 others, was decided by the Supreme Court of the United States on the 6th inst., in favor of Williamson. The United States Circuit Court for Oregon imposed a fine of $500 and sentenced Williamson to prison for ten months, but the Supreme Court reversed that decision. The reversal of the decision of the lower court was based on the ground of irregularity in admitting affidavits.

(BANDON RECORDER.)

Robert Walker has been reappointed postmaster of Bandon for the ensuing four years, he receiving the unanimous endorsement of the delegation from Oregon.

At the last meeting of the city council Tuesday evening it was ordained that saloons henceforth pay a yearly tax of $500 instead of $600 as heretofore.

Eugene Pierce had his hand badly mangled at the Commercial Company's mill Friday. He is recovering rapidly and will be able to work in a few days. An amusing incident of the serious affair occurred when the hand was being dressed, one of the spectators fainting, and falling through a glass show case out himself slightly and hurt his own manly pride a whole lot.

A recent letter to one of the Recorder's from an old friend in Spokane mentions F. B. Tichenor, formerly of Port Orford, as a booster for Coos and Curry of the first water, and also states that the said Tichenor recently became the father of a 12 pound girl, christened Dora Theodora. The communication also stated that Papa Tichenor set up the champagne on the similar success to all true boosters.

(MARSHFIELD TIMES)

Master Fish Warden H. Q. Van Dusen arrived on the Alliance and Tuesday morning went up Coos river, in company with Frank Smith, to inspect the Coos River fish hatchery.

In the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce windows there is now displayed a bouquet of delicate flowers which were raised by Mrs. Floyd Coffelt, South Coos River. Dainty Jonquils, myrtle and rosebuds compose this most effective tribute to the perennial mildness of Coos county's climate.

New Steel bridge material continues to arrive almost daily for the Drain Coos Bay railroad, and several acres in South Drain are now covered with it. There is material here already for twenty bridges. Forty-nine carloads have arrived for the big bridge across Elk Creek at Elkton—Drain Non-parallel.

(COOS BAY NEWS.)

The tug Katie Cook has been thoroughly repaired at Porter and will be used by the Simpson Lumber Co. for towing on the bay. Capt. Christensen is in charge.

T. J. Armstrong, who has been handling L. J. Simpson's string of six horses on the South slough track, will bring the bunch to the Marshfield track next Saturday, to train for the fall races.

The Bandon Recorder, speaking of the steamer Elizabeth having made the round trip between Bandon and San Francisco in six days, asks if any steamer running to Coos bay has ever beaten this. Yes, several steamers have several times beaten that record badly. The Arago frequently made the trip in five days, and on one occasion made it in a little over four days, including the time spent in discharging 900 tons of coal in the city. Capt. Holt was master of the Arago that trip. The Farallog often made it in five days; so did the Kibburn, and called in at Eureka both ways. Even the old Arcata, which wasn't supposed to have enough speed to keep her log line straightened out half the time, made the round trip on two or three occasions in five days.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Mar.

There is renewed hope on the part of homesteaders in the Southern Oregon pine timber belt. In several decisions rendered by the land office at Lakeview and sustained by the General Land Office the homesteader on lands valued chiefly for timber received the worst of the deal, and the timber and stone application was given preference. Recently, however, in a contest decided by the acting commissioner of the General Land Office, the decision was strongly in favor of the homesteader, and the acting commissioner held that the homestead entry should hold regardless of the character of the land or the amount of timber thereon. All that is necessary is for the homesteaders to show good faith in compliance with the laws governing homestead entries.

In case of conflict between a timber and stone application and a homestead entry, the former always dwell particularly upon the character of the land, showing by expert testimony that the land cannot be cultivated and that it is practically worthless after the timber is removed, and the effort is always made to prove bad faith on the part of the homesteader. Whether these grounds are sufficient for rendering decisions adverse to the homesteader is a matter that is likely to be in litigation for years. Those who entered the land rush expecting to secure valuable timber lands without a hard struggle are finding the fight for land strenuous, and far more expensive than had been anticipated. The actual cost of a contest is from $300 to $500, depending upon the price of the lawyer and the amount of evidence introduced.

Notice is hereby given that George M. Horner of Hare, Oregon, has filed notice of his intention to make final five year proof in support of his claim, viz: Homestead Entry No 11922 made August 11, 1902, for the NE 1/4, SE 1/4, SW 1/4 Sec. 25, and NE 1/4 NE 1/4 Section 33, Township 30 South, Range 14 West, and that said proof will be made before J.
