Town and County.

Sheriff Marsters came up Tuesday last with the ballots and fixtures for the northern precincts.

As we go to press we learn that Fulton has been badly beaten for U. S. Senator by Calk.

Dr. Tyler was in town Sunday on his way to Wedderburn on a professional call to see Mrs. Carl Stewart.

Several land contests in the Byers survey have already been filed before Commissioner Upton, and several more will be filed soon.

H. A. Stites, a transient pedagogue, made a sensational run for the nomination as County Clerk on the Republican ticket, receiving the grand total of three (3) votes.

Hugh McLain, of Marshfield, is Democratic candidate for Joint Senator for Coos and Curry, and will have Hume and Chase as opponents.

A Miss Dolly Roby was shot and killed in Marshfield last week by John Grills, a discarded lover, who then performed the best act of his life by killing himself.

Guy Porterfield, eldest son of J. G. Porterfield, fell while running in such a manner as to break his arm. Dr. Tyler set it, and the injury was mending nicely at last accounts.

Dr. Tyler returned Monday from Wedderburn and reports the condition of Mrs. Carl Stewart as very serious. Upon his return he was called to see Grandma Marsh, who is quite ill.

Friday the 17th ushered in a violent storm from the south, the wind a gale, and the rain was wet. As a consequence a light vote was polled here, and, no doubt, along the entire coast of Oregon.

There have been two cases of scarlet fever in John Fromm's family, and two in W. T. White's, but they are of mild form, and the patients are convalescent. Caution, however, should be used in preventing the spread of the disease.

J. E. Prince, agent for the steamer Bandon, was in Port Orford last Thursday, looking up the practicability of having the Bandon make regular calls here, which she will do if sufficient freight can be secured, as no doubt it can be.

Col. I. N. Muney, Republican candidate for Joint Representative made a canvass of Coos in company with Major L. D. Kinney, candidate for Representative from that county. The Colonel won much applause on the stump.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickett, the Photographers, will be in Port Orford Monday, April 27th, prepared to take photographs and will remain for a week or so. Office upstairs in Johnston's store. There will be no inside work done on Sundays.

Ernest Divilbiss was in town Sunday and says that his sister, Mrs. Bowne of San Rafael, arrived at their home on Sixes river last week, and will start back Friday accompanied by her mother. New Divilbiss will resume his work at the Gold Bar mine at Big Bend on Rogue river.

The work of removing the machinery from the wrecked Berwick, near the mouth of the Siuslaw, was done under the superintendence of Capt. Jacobsen, formerly master of the vessel. Had Capt. Jacobsen remained in charge of the Berwick it is safe to say that the craft would still be in commission.—Coos Bay News.

F. H. VanNorden, jeweler of Bandon, spent Thursday in Port Orford, and made the Tribune a pleasant social and business call. See his "ad." in the Tribune, and don't forget that in addition to ordinary jewelry work, he cuts and mounts agates just as you wish, and invites you to visit him when in Bandon.

Boring for Oil has been going on for several years in northern Curry. We are so used to it that it attracts but little attention. At first the operators would talk a little and "indicate" were favorable, but of late they don't talk but keep on boring, which we interpret as meaning that they have struck it, but are not ready for public illumination. We have refrained from spouting about this enterprise, as we want the oil to do the spouting.

Texas has a law forbidding the sale of pistols; but the dealers have lots more fun leasing pistols for 50 years.

J. C. Freund of Bandon, who has been boring oil at Langlois, was in Coquille Saturday, having just returned from Portland. Mr. Freund believes there is plenty of oil in this district and has ordered the machinery necessary to get it. When down about 300 feet in the well he is boring his drill broke and part of it was lost. With the new machinery he will be able to go to a much deeper level.—Sentinel.

R. D. Jones, who was the main spring in the Pacific Furniture and Lumber Co., the perpetrators of the "Great Curry Co. Land Frauds," (?) died suddenly at his home in Berkeley, April 11th, soon after returning from the Los Angeles examination. Mr. Jones was a genial, gifted man, of great personal magnetism, and would have been a man of power in any calling, had his energies been directed in legitimate ways.

Frank P. Cook came up from Gold Beach Monday with the first reliable news of the results of the Republican primary vote, and now it is the fashion to say "I told you so!" Good men have been nominated in every instance and it is now in order for the defeated candidates to show their manhood by helping to elect the chosen ones, just as they would have wished to be supported had they been successful.

R. D. Hume was storm-bound here a few days last week, and took lessons in debating from those expert masters of the art, L. Knapp and Frank Smith, whom it is dangerous to tackle unless sure of your points. Mr. Hume is tired of getting large vessels ashore at the shifting entrance of Rogue river, and will spend "lots of money" to make Port Orford his shipping headquarters, and expects to employ three small vessels from here to the Rogue and Klamath rivers.

Brown carried the county by 38 over Cardwell, while Fulton beat Calk by the narrow margin of 2. The stormy weather cut the vote down in Curry nearly one-third.

Gold Beach Items.

The gentle rain of last Saturday was greatly needed, and the farmers are happy.

Hon. R. D. Hume, after a short stay at the cannery, looking over matters, returned to Coos Thursday, to look after his senatorial fences.

The teacher in our public school expelled a boy last week for "cause" so she says, and the boy's uncle will appeal to the law, so he says, to have him reinstated.

"Col." Muney, Republican candidate for joint representative, returned from Coos county last week, and says that he has walked over to the Statement No. 1 crowd.

High Pressure Days.

Men and women alike have to work incessantly with brain and hand to hold their own nowadays. Never were the demands of business, the wants of the family, the requirements of society, more numerous. The first effect of these things is commonly seen in a weakened or debilitated condition of the nervous system, which results in dyspepsia, defective nutrition of both body and brain, and in extreme cases in complete nervous prostration. It is clearly seen that what is needed is what will sustain the system, give vigor and tone to the nerves, and keep the digestive and assimilative functions healthy and active. From personal knowledge, we can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose. It acts on all the vital organs, builds up the whole system, and fits men and women for these high-pressure days.

"I once believed in dreams," he sadly said, "but I don't now!" "Why?" we asked. "I married one!"

Mrs. R. Scott of Smith River and Mrs. Clark of Curry county, Ore., were in our city Tuesday.

(COOS BAY NEWS.) The Herwick still holds together, on the beach near Siuslaw, but owing to rough weather only one of her engines had been removed up yesterday.

Coos county is the first congressional district, in the second judicial district, and in the third prosecuting attorney district. This complicates matters sometimes, when a man tries to figure "where he is."

Woman Suffrage.

The Tribune has received from Mrs. Bunway the following eloquent appeal, which is published with pleasure and commended to the voters of Curry county, who have in the past cast the highest percentage of votes in favor of woman suffrage of any county in the state, and will, we believe, do so again in June, because our people read more, and have the best average education of any section of the United States.

In due time the Tribune hopes to devote considerable space to this holy cause, and hopes it will win in Oregon during the life of its first great advocate, Mrs. Dunway, whose name echoes further along the halls of Fame than any other Oregonian.

AN APPEAL TO VOTERS. Gentlemen, voters, sons, brothers: I am growing old. But I cannot rest until you have given us the victory. Every hour I spend in this service is a labor of love. Every dollar I donate is a personal sacrifice. Have the faithful mothers of Oregon earned your affirmative votes for their full and free enfranchisement? You ought not to be afraid of us.

You are equipped with ballots. We are not. We are depending upon you to honor our flag of truce by voting "Yes" in our behalf in this unequal contest. You know you would only compel us to repeat this struggle in 1910 if you should fail us now. But we believe you will not fail. You have only to unlock the door to the closed citadel of liberty, leaving us free to choose for ourselves, exactly as you do, as to whether to vote or not to vote, at every succeeding election. Thus only can you acquit yourselves as freemen and relieve us from further effort to secure equality with our sons before the law.

ABIGAIL SCOTT DUNWAY. Mother of Native Sons, and President Oregon State Equal Suffrage Association.

Washington, April 9.—Aroused by the reports made by secret service operatives who have been investigating anarchistic societies and publications, the president, in a special message to congress today recommended legislation looking to the suppression of anarchy, particularly in the dissemination of anarchistic literature. The message reads as follows:

"I herewith submit a letter from the department of justice which explains itself. Under this opinion I hold that existing statutes give the president the power to prohibit the postal service from being used as an instrument of murder, arson and treason, and I shall act upon such a construction. Unquestionably, however, there should be further legislation by the congress on this matter. When compared with the suppression of anarchy, every other question sinks into insignificance. An anarchist is an enemy to humanity, an enemy to all mankind and his is a deeper criminality than any other. No anarchist is allowed to come to our shores if he is an anarchist, and no paper published here or abroad should be permitted circulation in this country if it propagates anarchistic doctrines."

Attorney General Bonaparte's letter contains an exhaustive review of the statute with reference to the mails. He finds that the postmaster general is fully warranted, even without definite laws, in taking the action he did against the newspaper La Question Sociale, and he holds that congress has full power to make laws covering anarchists and anarchistic publications.

Washington, D. C. Mar. 23.—The Minnesota railroad rate law today fell before a decision of Judge Peckham of the United States supreme court, who held the measure unconstitutional because of the enormous penalties inflicted by it.

Kind friends, have you heard of the town of No Good, on the banks of the river Slow, where the Sometime or other scents the air and the soft Go-easies grow? It lies in the valley of What's the use, in the province of Letter-slide; it is the home of the reckless. I don't care, where the Give it up abide. The town is as old as the human race, and it grows with the flight of years; it is wrapped in the fog of the filler's dreams; its streets are paved with discarded schemes and sprinkled with useless tears.—Ex.

Seattle.—The grounds of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition are rapidly taking shape and the work of getting the buildings under way is far advanced. The grading and construction of the avenues, circles, plazas and courts is nearing completion and the task of installing the sewer and water system is being rushed. The general depression all over the country has not delayed the management in its job of getting the 1909 fair ready on time.

Bids have been called for the three permanent buildings to be erected by the board of regents at Washington University in accordance with the bill passed by the last legislature appropriating $600,000 for that purpose. The buildings, which will be used by the exposition and after that by the University, are the Auditorium, Fine Arts palace and Machinery Hall. They will be constructed with buff brick and finished in terra cotta. In style of architecture they will be classic so far as modern usage will permit.

Timber and Stone Men on Top

A dispatch from Lakeview of recent date says: "Again homestead stock in the tall pines of Southern Oregon has taken a tumble and is below par. Only a few weeks ago a decision from the General Land Office was received by the local office giving the homesteader a decided advantage over timber and stone claimants. Now comes a decision by the Assistant Commissioner which says in effect that in order to hold their lands, the homesteader must make substantial improvements, must establish a residence and maintain the same, must cultivate the land, not an acre or two, but a considerable acreage, and must be able to prove when it comes to a contest that the land has been the entryman's home permanently, not occasionally.

The decision containing all these points was rendered in the Mendenhall vs. Taylor case. N. Waldo Taylor, of Silver Lake, placed a homestead filing on a piece of timbered land in 1903. The 160 acres would cut perhaps 3,000,000 feet or more of merchantable yellow pine lumber. He built a cabin on the place and in a technical sense complied with the law. About a year ago W. W. Mendenhall, of Klamath Falls, filed a contest, alleging abandonment of land and noncultivation. The Register and Receiver of the local land office held antagonistic opinions, the former deciding for the plaintiff, the latter for the defendant. The General Land Office, on appeal sustained the Register, and the decision clearly stated that the homesteader must establish a permanent residence and cultivate the land if he wants to make sure of his claim. In view of the fact that the law is so strict regarding homesteads many of the entrymen who filed homesteads last fall, when the large area of timber land was restored to settlement and entry, are relinquishing their homestead entries and immediately placing timber and stone filings on the same.

Work Begins on the Gold Bar.

H. J. Russell of Roseburg and who, with others owns the Gold Bar placer mine at the big bend of the Rogue river, was in the city Monday and Tuesday looking for a cook and two or three practical miners to help at the mines.

The Gold Bar is said to be one of the best as well as most extensive placer properties on the Rogue. It is also one of the best equipped hydraulic plants in this section. Over $60,000 have been expended for equipment, including an electric light plant, the first to be built in Curry county.

Mr. Russell said everything was now in shape and that he expected to begin operations today. They will run two shifts of ten men from now until July.

The Gold Bar people have 600 acres of ground and a perpetual water right, which prominent mining men say is the best in Southern Oregon. Only one hydraulic plant is now being operated, but it is planned to add three more this fall. From all indications the mining industry of the Rogue River valley is yet in its infancy, both placer and quartz, and it may be safely predicted that within the next few years there will be a wonderful development in this important natural resource.—Rogue River Courier.

The estimated annual cost of the bill as reported is $14,678,112.
