Town and County.

Dr. Elgin spent a few days in town last week and is enjoying very good health for one of his age.

A. M. Lee, a piano tuner from Eureka is touring the coast and will visit Coos county professionally.

The gasoline schooner Enterprise was in Port Orford Tuesday on her way from Rogue river to Marshfield.

Adolphsen's mill has been busily sawing of late and teams will be hauling lumber to the wharf in a few days.

Miss Anna Dean helped us out during our busy time last week. It seemed quite natural to see her presiding at a case.

Just received at Johnston's by the steamer Bandon, hardware, tinware, glassware, crockeryware and all other kinds of ware; also a few lot of dry goods. Call and see them.

According to a report of Captain James Magee, 5 schooners and 34 steamers sailed out of Coos Bay in April, which shows the remarkable increase in her coast-wise commerce.

Allie Gueria was in town Sunday on his way below, for the purpose of contradicting a report that Prof. Gueria's sons were opposed to his candidacy for School Superintendent.

Miss Mary Sutton has so far recovered from her long sickness that her father took her out to their home on Hubbards creek, which is sheltered from the raw, damp air from the ocean.

Before you vote against Prohibition, just ask yourself who is benefited by Saloons. And then ask yourself who is injured by Saloons. If you will honestly think out these questions you will vote against Saloons.

Mrs. Brown arrived by Thursday's stage and found her anxious husband awaiting her at Port Orford. She had the good fortune to witness the arrival of the fleet at both Los Angeles and San Francisco.

We have declined to publish in this issue of the TRIBUNE some communications of a political nature, because it is our last issue before election and the assailed parties have no opportunity to reply. This is doing as we would be done by.

Iam Walker passed through here Sunday with over 400 head of young cattle which he was driving to his pastures in Humboldt county. Because of the cold rains this month they were not in as good condition as is usual at this time of the year.

Clarence Zumwalt and Louis and Orris Knapp arrived on the Bandon from San Francisco where they went to welcome the fleet. They had an experience that they will talk about all their lives, and which no amount of schooling could otherwise supply. We wish every American boy could have the same experience.

A good sized rebellion is in progress in the dark interior of China, but how big we do not yet know, though it has captured some of the big cities and smashed the government troops sent to suppress it. India has one in motion also, which is big enough to make the British Lion tremble. Verily the yellow races are agitating.

The steamer Bandon arrived at Port Orford late Wednesday evening from San Francisco and lay at anchor all night. Next morning she landed at the wharf and discharged her cargo for this place, after which she proceeded on her way to the Coquille river. She is expected to call here in the future whenever there is enough freight to justify her calling.

Next Saturday, May 30th, will be Decoration Day, a day set apart for remembering the dead and decorating their graves. It is one of the holiest days of the year, and one which we should most sacredly commemorate. We are requested to ask the people of Port Orford and vicinity to gather in the cemetery at two o'clock, and make the occasion one of a public nature, where there is unity of observance, rather than one of a private nature. Families scatter world wide and individuals pass away, and unless the observation of Decoration Day become a general custom, our dead will lie in many a cemetery in neglected graves. Let us place some token of remembrance upon every grave.

WANTED: A COOK at the Knapp Hotel. For further information call on or address, L. KNAPP, Port Orford, Oregon.

A. A. Jamieson's four horse team has been hauling lumber from his mill on Sixes river to the wharf for shipment.

Mrs. E. G. Peirce of Port Orford, Oregon, and Mrs. Wm. J. Cooley of Chetco, were visiting their mother and other relatives at the home of the editor the latter part of last week.—Crescent City News.

The Bandon lively team took down to Gold Beach an officer of the Insane Asylum who came after the stranger who was committed last week. They left here Monday on their return with the patient, who was giving them no trouble.

The thirty-sixth annual reunion of the Oregon Pioneer Association will meet in Portland on Thursday, June 11th. All persons coming to, or born in, the original territory of Oregon up to 1859, inclusive, without regard to where they now live, are eligible to membership.

G. T. Treadgold has sold his interest in the Bandon Recorder to his partner, Mr. Hadsell, and will devote his time to his law business. Mr. Hadsell has engaged a Mr. Cope to edit the paper. The Sentinel extends to the new publisher and editor a wish for its success.—Coquille Sentinel.

Hon. R. D. Hume delivered an interesting address in Nielsen's hall last evening, touching upon socialism and other current topics. His remarks though short, owing to ill health, were well received by those present. Dr. Granville also made a short patriotic speech in favor of the G. O. P. Mr. Hume is on his way to Wedderburn, and feels quite encouraged over his prospects of winning the Joint Senatorial toga.

The fleet should not be blamed for keeping so far from shore as it passed off the coast of Oregon. The day before it passed here we had surf almost as heavy as we had during the winter, and there was a heavy swell running when it was off Port Orford. Port Orford was fortunate in having a view in both the daylight and the dark, and our people enjoyed it accordingly.

The TRIBUNE office had a strenuous time last week printing the June ballots, which are 22 inches long, and necessitated such a waste of paper that our supply ran short, when the Radium kindly came to our rescue. Voters who are slow readers or slightly blind, should get to the polls early and study the ballots, and be sure to leave their cuss-words at home.

James Whiting, who was running the ferry at the mouth of Rogue river when we first crossed it there in 1865, and who subsequently moved to Crescent City and thence to Eureka, died at his home in that city last week aged 84 years. He was in those days a fine singer and banjo performer, and we have always thought that he could beat the world playing and singing "The Happy Land of Canaan," a place fitted only for happy, genial natures like his. He leaves a wife, one daughter and two sons to mourn his loss.

J. D. Stevens a Socialist of Portland, addressed the people of Port Orford Monday night. Half of his speech was devoted to a historical review of man's efforts to ever improve government, and the latter half of his speech was the usual Socialist talk on the evils of our present system of production and distribution, under competition, which leads to rascality and hatred between all competing men, and inevitably leads to reduction of wages and stimulates the fight between labor and capital, which will continue until one side has destroyed the other. His speech made a good impression and was devoid of the abuse so often used by fierce-tempered agitators. He left next morning on his return north.

Langlois, Oregon, May 23, 1908.
TO THE VOTERS OF CURRY COUNTY, the undersigned, son of W. S. Guerin, nominee for School Supt., hearing that the report has been widely circulated that we do not wish to see our father elected, take this opportunity of branding it as utterly false, a flagrant distortion of the truth, and an insult to him, to us and family.

A. H. GUERIN,
W. S. GUERIN JR.,

Keep the Balance Up.

It has been truthfully said that any disturbance of the even balance of health causes serious trouble. Nobody can be too careful to keep this balance up. When people begin to lose appetite, or to get tired easily, the least impudience brings on sickness, weakness, or debility. The system needs a tonic, craves it and should not be denied it; and the best tonic of which we have any knowledge is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What this medicine has done in keeping healthy people healthy, in keeping up the even balance of health, gives it the same distinction as a preventive that it enjoys as a cure. Its early use has illustrated the wisdom of the old saying that a stitch in time saves nine. Take Hood's for appetite strength and endurance.

Mr. Green of Bandon was in town Friday.

Mrs. John Bowman spent several days in Bandon last week.

Mr. Lee, a piano tuner from Eureka, was in town last week.

Dr. Bennette of Portland has his office at the Laurel Inn and is prepared to do all kinds of dental work.

Wm. Russell left for Portland last week but went only as far as Marshfield, returning here Sunday.

Isam Walker, with the aid of six men, started for California with five hundred head of cattle Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Button returned to Langlois Thursday, after spending several weeks at their home in Bandon.

Mrs. Jamieson returned from Bandon Friday. She was met here by her daughter Ethel and together they returned to their home at Sixes.

The new tools for the oil well arrived on the last Elizabeth. Work has again commenced and they expect to run a night shift soon.

Mr. Stevens of Portland delivered a very interesting address, to a crowded house Sunday evening, on the principles of Socialism.

Ed Thrift accompanied by his two little daughters, Jane and Jeanette, went to Myrtle Point Sunday to see Mrs. Thrift, who has been receiving medical treatment at that place. We are glad to learn that Mrs. Thrift is very much better, although she will remain there about two months longer.

About a hundred people from Langlois and vicinity witnessed the passing of the fleet from the nearby hills. At 9:30 the fleet was sighted off Cape Blanco. We were not favored as was the City By The Sea by having the lights turned on us, but nevertheless the magnificent display will long be remembered.

Well Bred Horses.

F. P. Norton returned on the Plant from a visit to California, bringing two horses with him. One is a bay mare, 16 hands, 6 years old, for L. M. Noble. Her sire was Bonnie Direct and dam was Piedmont. She will probably be heard from in the trotting races.

J. W. Bennett lately received a black horse from California, which he intended for a roadster; but after having him tried on the track he gives evidence of speed as a pacer, and is now in charge of Dan Starr who is gating him up.

While in the city F. P. Norton attended the sale of the Aptos stock farm and purchased two three-year-olds. One was sired by Chinoji, a son of Cupid, dam Princess by Dexter Prince. The other was sired by Aptos Wilkes, dam Azalina by Azmoor. Mr. Norton intends to work the colts, and will have them ready for the district fair races.

An independent telephone system for Marshfield would be all right. Any kind of a system or service would be an improvement on what we have had to put up with for years. Promises are occasionally made about improvements, but up to the present that is as far as they've got. The prices are high and the service is poor. An independent system, with moderate prices and good service would be a benefit to the community.

WANTED:
Bids for the delivery of from three hundred to five hundred cedar fence posts at Port Orford. Posts to be 8 feet long, and not less than six inches through. State price per post and when delivery can be made. Address W. E. THRESHER, Wedderburn, Ore.

County School Superintendent.

Editor TRIBUNE:—As is generally known, I have, in the past, devoted much thought to the subject of our Common Schools, and more particularly of ways and means for the more liberal and intelligent endowment of the system throughout the State. When it is considered that fully 95 per cent of our children are doomed to get all the instruction they are ever to have in our Common Schools, the importance of making the most of these ought to be obvious to all thinking parents as to all other people who love progress in enlightenment and the progressive uplifting of our human kind. This brings me to the consideration of the importance of the head and directing force of our system such as it is, the County School Superintendent, because so much must depend upon his efforts to ward inspiring our teachers with industry, enthusiasm and enterprise. The situation demands an active, up-to-date, practical teacher for Superintendent; one in the prime of life; one who is devoted to his profession as a life calling, and whose ambition and enthusiasm beckon him on and on "always to better things."

The people of Curry County now have the opportunity to avail themselves of the services of a Superintendent possessing all of the above qualifications by electing Prof. Patrick Rowan, University graduate, who has vindicated the utility of the higher education by devoting himself to teaching instead of the law, medicine or the pulpit, or trade and speculation.

J. H. URSON,
Langlois, Oregon.

Harbor Items.

Editor TRIBUNE:—We have experienced some of the worst weather ever known on this coast for this season of the year. A combination of rain, hail and sleet which is very detrimental to gardens, and fears are entertained that the fruit crop may be a total failure.

I. A. Taggart arrived in Harbor by Tuesday evening's stage.

The mumps are going around this neighborhood; from whence they came no one knows.

Mr. A. J. Marsh, our efficient Assessor of Northern Curry is in our midst again.

Messrs. I. N. Muncy, Norman Tyler and R. J. Confield came down from Gold Beach Saturday to our burg where they interviewed the voters. Col. Muncy addressed an appreciative audience at the hall Saturday night.

A sick Indian who was brought from Crescent City on the 15th inst. to a mineral spring on upper Chetco for the benefit of his health, died two days after his arrival at medical springs. The deceased was taken back to Crescent City for interment last Sunday.

At five o'clock P. M. Admiral Sperry's fleet of battleships that were visible, and perhaps more that were obscured by the haze and fog, steamed past this port on their way north. Dense volumes of black smoke trailed in the wake of the gigantic war ships.

R. J. Confield paid G. S. Wilson a business visit last Monday from whence he extended his visit up Winchuck where he interviewed the voters of that section, it being Mr. Confield's first visit to Southern Curry for 8 or 9 years.

Mr. Confield is the Democratic nominee for the county Judgeship. He is well versed in law and if elected would doubtless make an efficient Judge.

Wm. McVay brought up a load of barb wire from Smith River last Sunday. When he arrived at the Winchuck bridge he left a part of his wire there over night. When he returned the following morning to get the remainder of the wire, to his surprise he found that three bales of the wire had been stolen. The perpetrators of the theft not being satisfied with the confiscation of the wire, uncoiled one bale and strung it across the bridge, fastening it to the banisters on each side. Any one guilty of such a criminal offence should be caught and made an example of.

Voters Attention

Support the University of Oregon appropriation bill. Vote "yes" No. 314 on June 1. Be a booster; not a knocker.

Vote for the increased appropriation for the University of Oregon. Don't brand Oregon as a "mossback" state. Vote "yes" on election day. The bill has been endorsed by all the Oregon Commercial Clubs, Teachers Associations, The State Federation of Labor and the Tax Payers League of Portland.

An Open Letter to the People

To the Voters of the State of Oregon: There is an element of the Republican party, with headquarters in Portland, which is unalterably opposed to the direct primary, particularly as it finds expression in Statement No. 1. While the Republican party gave this law to the people, these gentlemen have discovered that the effect of it is to transform what was a representative government, and which very ably represented their interest, into a popular government which puts the real power back into the hands of the people and makes the general interest paramount to the special interest.

There is a conspiracy afoot to defeat the popular will, and at the same time throttle the direct primary law and throw it on the scrap heap. These conspirators and their friends, all of them—Republicans, propose to vote for Chamberlain at the election in June. By so doing they hope to elect him. But when the Legislature convenes in January they propose, by hook or crook, to tie it up, repudiate the popular will, elect one or the other of two Republicans to the Senate, and in this way give what they believe will be an everlasting quietus to the direct primary law. This is the programme that has been mapped out, and the word is being sent up and down the line to carry it out.

The Telegram takes this opportunity of laying the matter before the voters of the state, irrespective of their party affiliations. It believes the people should know precisely what is confronting them, and, knowing it, be thus able to meet it as it should be met.—Telegram.

Drops Dead.

George Quigley, a well known Coos county pioneer, dropped dead yesterday in San Francisco. George left here on the last Plant to visit his daughter, Mrs. J. V. Worthington, who resides at 164a Fifth Avenue.

He was hale, hearty and jovial as ever when seen before his departure. Tidings of his sudden end were received by wire last evening. Every one who knew George Quigley liked him and he had a warm place in his heart for all. He was about 70 years old.—The Sun.

Woman Suffrage Once More

The woman suffrage amendment is to come before the people of Oregon for the fourth time on election day. Why should it be necessary to vote upon this question every two years? The suffragists know, as do all women, that when the majority of women want a thing done, that thing will be done. Then why have they for years been besieging legislators, presenting petitions, working, arguing and, lately, fighting for their "rights," as they call them? Because a majority of women are not behind the movement.

This is not a man's question; it is a woman's question. Let the women of the state decide that they want a vote before you force it upon them. Consult the women you know and vote as they wish on this matter, but vote, or the measure may slip through by the inattention of voters or the carelessness which will follow the large number of propositions submitted.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antispasmodic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchitis, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherry bark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe chronic cough, chronic bronchitis, and hoarse and chronic sore throat with looseness. In acute cough it is not so effective. It is the lingering hang-over cough, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett, Mod. College, Chicago, says of glycerine: "In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Inhabiting a large quantity of the protein of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon a disturbed, disordered stomach, especially if there is ulceration or catarrh of the gastric mucous membrane of the stomach. It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis, flatulency and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores or ulcers.
Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

JEWELRY.
