WHEN a country becomes civilized it demands typewriters. When it becomes posted on comparative values it demands

THE SMITH PREMIER TYPEWRITER

The fact that The Smith Premier Typewriter is used in every civilized country on the globe is not so important as the further fact that the demand increases year after year.

The reputation of The Smith Premier is world-wide. World-wide use has made it so.

JAPAN'S FIRST IRONCLAD.

Her Crew Made a Brave Start, But Couldn't Stop Her Till Fires Went Out.

That the role of Japan as a maritime power is a new one is brought strongly to our notice by recalling the quite well authenticated story of the first adventure of the first Japanese ironclad, says Country Life.

She was built in England. While she was building her crew were also in England practicing, in other ironclads how to drive her. When she was finished the Japanese seamen took possession of her, bravely maintaining that they were fully equal to the task of starting her.

And that, to be sure, they were, for she steamed out finely. The trouble only began when she came back to port again. Then, when they wanted to slow her down and stop her, they were unable to do so.

They had to put her out to sea again and go on steaming her about till her fires went out, her engines stopped for want of steam, and she could be towed in.

From this to having the best mentally equipped crews, perhaps, of any nation seems a long step, but it has been a very rapid one.

Insect Senses.

Naturalists have decided that many insects have senses which human beings lack. That of location, shown by the wasp, for instance, is remarkable. One species builds its nest in a sandbank that is only a part of several acres of such soil, and when it leaves in search of food it covers the nest so carefully that no ordinary eye could discover its location. That is to say it is just like all the surrounding location, and yet the wasp flies back to it without hesitation and finds it without making a mistake. There is another wasp that unerringly locates the eggs of the mason bee under a thick layer of sun-baked clay, and deposits her eggs in the same cells that her young may have food when they are hatched.

OUR HISTORY IS MASCULINE

Hard and Uncolored Is the Chronicle of the Events Connected with America.

Our history is hard and masculine; colored with few purple lights; too little related to our tender sentiments and deeper passions. When older peoples have paused, as we did then, they have looked upon far different scenes, says William Garrott Brown, in the Atlantic. Fairer companies have stood about more stately figures of triumph or of tragedy than that America and the world now gazed upon. The common chamber, the gaunt, pale president, the strong, bearded counselors at his bedside—this was unlike the scenes which European peoples have fixed in their memories. Charles I. and Mary Stuart on their scaffolds, the heroes and the king at Runnymede, Maria Theresa appealing to the nobles of Hungary to take up their swords for her child, Marie Antoinette and Mirabeau, and many another pageant of human love and sacrifice are treasured up by other people as we have treasured up this crude, unlacekeyed martyrdom.

Even the great personality of Lincoln, now potent in so many individual lives, intimate and familiar of so many of our hidden moods, was not yet fully revealed to his fellows. It was the emancipator only that had fallen, the leader and shepherd of men. Outwardly at least his experience was limited as theirs was. Dying in the midst of multitudes, master of armies and of navies, he was still of the frontier; as, indeed, all our American life was still, in a sense, only the frontier and western fringe of European life.

True, Lincoln also leads us back to the princes whose peer he was, but we can pass from his death bed with no irreverence, no sense of shock or change, to look out, in the plain light of day, upon the whole wide field of work and strife, and progress which was always his thought, and glimpse the attitude and state of the republic when his summons passed, like an angelus, across the continent.

Trespass Notice.

All persons are hereby notified not to enter upon or trespass upon the lands of the undersigned at and near Port Orford, and upon Hubbard's Creek in Curry County, Oregon, for any purposes whatsoever without the owners consent.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; if you frequently desire to pass water, or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, follows every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and stinging pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cure of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, simply by sending address, Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Everybody Says So.

Caspar's Candy Cathartic, the most wonderful medical discovery of the age, purges and refreshes to the taste and acts positively on kidneys, liver and bowels, cleanses the entire system, dispels constipation, cures headache, fever, indigestion, nervousness and biliousness. Please try at a box of C. C. Candy, 10c. 25c. 50c. Sold and guaranteed to cure by all druggists.
