Town and County.

The Hughes boom looks as though Taft had set down on it.

John Prock is building a nice house in town and will soon move his family in.

Miss Sylvia Clarno, who has been working at Quillens, Half Way House, attended the dance here on the 6th inst.

Henry McBride came down from Bandon Saturday on a visit and returned Tuesday. Pete Jurgensen came down with him.

Norman Tyler, sheriff elect, was in town Friday on his way to Gold Beach to prepare to take possession of the office in July.

A. C. Gilbert of Portland now a student at Yale has beaten the world's record at pole vaulting, by raising it to 12 ft. 7 1/2 inches.

The Enterprise has been making daily trips between Port Orford and Rogue River of late carrying freight which came up on the Bandon for Mr. Hume.

The steamer Bandon called at Port Orford yesterday and took about fifty thousand feet of clear cedar lumber from Jamieson's mill to San Francisco.

Hugh McLain of Coos came down to meet R. D. Hume Sunday, to look over the situation preparatory to submitting a bid to build the Cold Storage building.

Another enjoyable dance was had at Nielsen's hall Saturday night, Oscar Mather and Ethel Jamieson furnishing the music. The attendance was larger than usual.

The reports say that Taft has enough Delegates to be nominated on the first ballot. He may have; but he will not have enough votes to beat Bryan in November.

The Enterprise came up from Rogue river Sunday with Hon. R. D. Hume aboard, who will set the wheels of his proposed enterprise in motion. He returned to Wedderburn Monday.

It is estimated that about fifty men did not vote at the June election. The highest vote cast was 517 for County Judge, which would indicate that there are 570 voters in our county and 2500 inhabitants.

A couple of men came up the coast in a buggy who are selling by samples "English and Scotch goods" from the Jamestown Fair. Our people prefer to buy goods of people they know rather than from unheralded strangers.

Misses Katie Fromm, Magnolia White and Miss Myrtle Hodge came up from Brushy creek to the Saturday night dance. Mrs. Jamieson, Mrs. Hollenbeck and several other ladies whose names we did not learn came in from the Sixes.

O. Leneve who has been absent for some months in attendance upon his wife who has been seriously ill at Marshfield, returned by Friday's stage and will resume charge of the wharf. Mrs. Leneve is now convalescent, but will remain awhile at Marshfield for further treatment.

The annual School Meeting was held here Monday at which H. T. Stewart and Prof. Johnston were elected Directors and Ella Knapp Clerk for the next school year. Everything has for a long time been running so smoothly in this District that it is hard to have a legal quorum.

Miss Linda Sutton and Clarence Zumwalt passed a successful eighth grade examination under Prof. Wood, last week. Graduating exercises will be held in Nielsen's hall Friday evening June 26th, and a musical and literary program carried out.

We wonder if some of our boys know that there is a law to protect unincorporated towns against whooping and yelling and using obscene language, and even riding faster than six miles an hour. Boys should be gentlemen all the time and everywhere, and if some do not want to be let them take the consequences. A better enforcement of the laws would help any community and save many a young man from being a hoodlum, and a misery to himself and people. No person has a right to annoy others, much less society. The best vote maker for prohibition is a drunken boy carousing on the street. It is a pitiable sight, yet we all endure it when we ought not tolerate it at all.

Celebrate at Port Orford!

Mr. Prince agent for the Bandon came down here on business, and returned overland.

W. E. Burrow passed through Port Orford Monday going north with one of the Moore boys.

John Deadmond made a trip to Bandon last week where he spent a few days watching things grow.

The full moon in June has the lowest run out of the tide for the year, and it is worth while to get up early and witness it.

Assistant U. S. Atty. Becker says that the Curry County Land Fraud Cases cannot be tried before fall, and possibly not then. Dr. Goodwin's appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court must first be decided.

Mr. and Mrs. Barcus came up from their home yesterday. Mr. Barcus left this morning for the Bay, while Mrs. Barcus and son returned to their ranch with which they are infatuated.

The steamer Bandon arrived here Friday from San Francisco, and landed 70 tons of freight at the wharf, and proceeded on her way to the Coquille river when the wind died down at night.

Yesterday the Republican National Convention met in Chicago. The preliminaries indicate much wrangling, but Taft is likely to be nominated. The Democratic convention will meet in Denver July 8th, and every thing looks like Bryan.

We failed to receive, as promised, the official count of the vote in Curry, but take the figures found in this issue from the Globe of last week and trust they are correct. There was but one nominee for Clerk, Assessor and treasurer, and each received about the full vote cast.

From private sources we learn that the abusive fanatical speeches of certain preachers at Coos Bay, caused the big vote against prohibition at North Bend, which settled the question for the county. Such men injure any cause they advocate.

Radicalism is a virtue, but fanaticism is a devil with out knowing it.

Mr. Hume informs us that when he has completed plans and specifications which will be soon, for his Cold Storage Plant at Port Orford he will let the contract for its construction. He also says that he still owns Marwood, and that the party who tried to grab him in a selling race had no color of right to do so.

The most popular place in town for young and old of both sexes, is the cozy bachelor home of Julius Koch, who has a fine Edison Phonograph and innumerable records, with which he entertains us, besides instructing us in the mystery of correct dancing.—his being the lightest and swiftest step of all, despite his 85 years.

Capt. Alek Scott, who was for many years Captain of the Bandon Life Saving Station visited his old friends at Port Orford last week. Except for the wrinkles in his face time has dealt kindly with him. Like our selves he is an enthusiastic agate collector, and we had a fine time raiding the Agate beaches in quest of rare gems.

The subscriptions to the Bandon Paper and Pulp Mill are growing constantly, about four thousand dollars have been added recently, and Col. C. T. Blumenrother who has the work of subscriptions in charge, says that the remainder that is needed is being arranged for and will be forth coming in a short time, so that now the big industry for Bandon is an assured fact.—Recorder.

A very pretty wedding occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Childers last Sunday afternoon when their son, William Robert, and Miss Alice Suit, were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock by Rev. Marshman, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Miss Margaret McAdams acted as bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by his brother, Del Norte Childers.—Crescent City News.

4th of July Meeting!

There will be a meeting in Nielsen's hall Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of appointing committees and otherwise arranging for a 4th of July celebration at Port Orford. The time is short and all are invited to attend and lend a helping hand.

There will be a dance Saturday night at Nielsen's hall.

Wm. R. Miller was in town last night on his way to Myrtle Point on business.

Dave Wright came up from Wedderburn yesterday on a short visit. As the result of a fall he is hobbling about on crutches with an injured foot and sprained ankle.

(COQUILLE SENTINEL.)

The building which Cliff Crewe has been erecting on Front street is nearly completed will be used as a billiard and bowling alley with a confectionery and cigar store.

M. D. Sherrard and family of Port Orford passed through Coquille Wednesday for Marshfield where he will make his future home. Mr. Sherrard is employed at C. A. Smith's big mill, as machinist.

(COQUILLE HERALD.)

Clifford Crewe, of Myrtle Point was in Coquille Monday looking after his place of business now in course of construction in this city.

Little Florence Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff D. Wilson, while playing with some neighbor children, fell and broke her arm.

Hume's gasoline steamer the Enterprise, was put on the ways at Heuckendorf's ship yard at Prosper Thursday. Some slight leaks developed making this necessary.

(DEL NORTE RECORD.)

Edward B. Carr, formerly one of the editors and proprietors of the Ferndale Enterprise, died in Portland, Oregon, last week.

L. I. Jones, of Jones' Studio went out to the Low Divide on Monday to take pictures of scenes about the Union Copper Mines. Among them will be one of 3500 sacks of rich ore stacked waiting to be hauled by teams to the railroad and thence to this place to be loaded on a vessel and conveyed to the Selby smelter near Vallejo, Cal.

The light house tender Madrono left San Francisco on the 1st inst. for the Northern California coast with supplies for the light houses.

While here she will replace the whistling buoy of this place which went adrift some weeks ago and is now off Smith River. The faint lery rock bell buoy, in this harbor, will also be put back in position, having dragged near the sunken rock.

(COOS BAY NEWS.)

General Funston was unable to visit Coos Bay with J. N. Neal.

The launch Enterprise took the machinery of the wrecked Berwick to Coquille last week, where it is to be used for two launches being built by Ed. Ellingson for R. D. Hume.

The steamer Bandon, on her trip up to Coquille, called at Eureka on the 1st, for a fresh supply of water having run short on account of backing hard headwinds.

Stad Hudson, of the upper Coquille, was in town Friday on his way to attend the 36th annual reunion of Oregon Pioneers. Mr. Hudson has not been to Portland since 1863, when the city was in its infancy.

Sturgeon, once so plentiful in the Columbia, and which could be bought at a nominal price are now quoted at 124 cents in the Portland market.

Chinook salmon are 10 cents per lb; halibut, perch and silver smelt 6c, and shad are quoted at 24 cents.

A short time ago the Port Orford Tribune mentioned that a buoy made of four foot planks, in which was stepped a staff, from which floated a revenue flag, 24 by 4 feet, drifted into Port Orford harbor, where it was picked up by Robert Forty. The people down there were puzzled regarding the strange visitor, and indulged in many surmises as to where it came from, etc. Well the mystery has been solved. The flag is the property of T. H. Barry, of Empire, owner of the gasoline launch, Ide's.

The float was made for the purpose of marking the end of a trot line, set on the halibut banks about three miles off shore. The fisherman in charge of the launch was told to fasten a piece of rag to the staff so that the float could be easily located when the launch went out the next morning to pick up the fish line. The fishermen used the launch flag instead, and during the night the anchor rope chafed parted, releasing the float which drifted before the northwest wind to Port Orford.

After thirty years of enforced absence the small remnant of Capt. Jack's band of Modoc Indians at the Quaspy agencies in Oklahoma are to be removed to the Klamath reservation in Oregon, where their friends and relatives live. This is the unanimous recommendation of the senate committee of Indian affairs in connection with the removal of restrictions on the land of all Indians at the Quaspy agency.

The Modocs remaining in Oklahoma are but a mere handful of the band of 217 lusty braves who were taken from the Klamath reservation to Indian Territory in 1874—right after the Modoc war. Ever since their arrival in the southwest these Indians have been longing for their Oregon home. Of the 217 only 49 remain and ten of these have found their way back to Oregon, leaving only 39. As a matter of fact, only 17 of the Indians originally moved are living.—Exchange.

Notice to Horsemen.

The Socialist vote has increased remarkably in Oregon, but we see no mention of the fact in the great newspapers, that suppressed the news of the Socialist National Convention which nominated Debs, the modern Tom Paine, for President. The large socialist vote, sure to be cast for Debs may cause the election of Taft should he be nominated—it is Taft's only show to win.

Notice.

I am the owner of, and desire to sell, 250 acres of timber land in Sections 17, 18 and 19, in Township 34 S. R. 14 W., W. M.; also 40 acres in Sec. 22, T. 36 S. R. 14 W., W. M. Address the undersigned.

Buy Hair at Auction?

At any rate, you seem to be getting rid of it on auction-sale principles: "going, going, gone!" Stop the auction with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It certainly checks falling hair; no mistake about this. It acts as a regular medicine; makes the scalp healthy. Then you must have healthy hair, for it's nature's way.
