GENERAL CONVEYANCING.

Town and County.

Fall fishing has commenced on Rogue river with a fairly good run of salmon.

A communication from Hon. J. H. Upton is unavoidably crowded out of this issue.

B. W. Dean is building a nest porch on Walter Sutton's residence at Hubbard's creek.

Several parties came down from Bandon on the Fifield last week returning the following day by stage.

F. A. Stewart left here by Thursday's stage for Portland and will go by way of North Bend and Roseburg.

Sheriff Tyler was in town over Saturday night on his return to the county seat from an official trip to Coos.

Jas. Hughes brought a load of butter into town last Thursday, which was shipped below on the Fifield.

Dave Wright and wife have been spending part of their honeymoon visiting in this section and at his homestead on Sixes.

Mrs. Jas. S. Capps of Denmark passed down the coast Saturday on a visit to her brother J. G. Porterfield at Euchre creek.

A. J. Matter, a Portland business man, went down to Mussel creek a few days ago to look over some timber in that section.

The Enterprise came down from Coos Bay Friday, and landed considerable freight for our merchants, going on to Rogue river the same day.

Mrs. Glidden has returned from a short visit with friends in the state of Washington, and resumed residence on her homestead on Elk river.

J. Huntley was a passenger on Monday's stage for Portland, where he goes to attend the Curry County Land Fraud trial that takes place next month.

J. S. Barton, an abstractor, and John S. Lawrence of Coquille, passed down the coast a few days ago on a short business visit to the county seat.

N. C. Nielsen has been having his stock scales and blacksmith shop repaired and put in good condition, as he intends to open the shop in the near future.

Johnny Fromm and Miss Violet White were in town Monday on their way north. The latter will prove up on a timber claim at Commissioner Upton's before returning.

If you wish to buy a good sewing machine and save money in the deal, call or address this office, as we will sell you a new machine with all the latest attachments, at less than the factory price.

J. J. McLane and family of Prairie Du Chien, Wis. were in town last week on their way down the coast. Mr. McLane is a blacksmith and an expert in tempering steel by some new process.

Maretz & McLain, contractors, have completed the acid storage building at this place for R. D. Hume. Most of the carpenters have gone to Wedderburn where they have secured further employment.

The steamer Fifield called in Friday and took on board about 96000 feet of clear Port Orford peck from Jamieson's mill, also seven tons of wool, three tons of butter and considerable other miscellaneous matter.

Miss Margaret McKenzie and her sister Mrs. Eugene Schuyler, with the latter's four children, are visiting with their parents on Elk river. Miss McKenzie has been in a sanitarium in California during the past year for her health and returns greatly improved, but will not risk spending the winter in this damp climate, and so after a short visit here will return with her sister to that state.

This office acknowledges a pleasant call from O. P. Haagenen who was in town last week shaking hands with his friends preparatory to an extended visit to his old home in Copenhagen, Denmark. Mr. Haagenen is carrying one of his arms in a sling as the result of having it accidentally broken a few weeks ago, and is decided to devote the time that he is unable to work in making a visit to the Old Country where he will probably remain all winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wright were buying supplies in town yesterday. Johnny Hume was in town Tuesday night on his way to Seattle but we did not get to interview him.

Geo. Mather and young Mr. Burnham went down to Corbin yesterday to run out some timber land.

F. Cook is employed by Mr. Merrill as driller in driving a tunnel into the Azuel mine on Elk river.

See the ad of the Dairyville dance in another column and if you are looking for a good time don't miss it.

Tom Guerin of Myrtle Point and his sister, Mrs. Deyoe of Bandon came down to Port Orford Friday returning to Bandon the following day.

W. T. White was in Port Orford last Wednesday night on business and paid the Taxpayers one of his appreciated visits, full of old-time reminiscences.

F. E. Newton of Eureka, the hustling representative of the International Correspondence School was in Port Orford last week on his way up the coast.

N. C. Nielsen has lately installed gasoline lights in his store, hall and billiard room, which is a big improvement over the old oil-lamp with its blackened chimney.

George Guerin was down from Langlois the first of the week on business that was apparently pleasant, although he was somewhat reticent as to the nature of his engagement.

Dr. Merrill and brother left on Wednesday's stage for Bandon where they expect to take a steamer for San Francisco. They are delighted with their outing on Elk river, and feel sure that their quartz ledge will improve as they sink on it.

The North Bend school board has awarded the contract for a new high school building at that place to cost $39,500. John G. Horn, of North Bend, secured the contract. A local firm will supply most of the material. A feature of the building will be a salt water swimming pool in the basement.

Hon. Walter Sutton made a trip to Langlois yesterday where he made final proof on his homestead before Commissioner Upton. He was accompanied by Mrs. Sutton and daughter Mary, the latter going for medical attention. Fred Olsen also went along to act as witness for Mr. Sutton.

Little Miss Dorothy Stewart was the happy recipient, by Monday's lower stage, of a box of choice assorted plums, pears and apples, which were appreciated by old as well as young. The TRIBUNE's thanks are also due to some kind friend who left a box of fine apples on our porch one day last week.

James Laird, the pioneer stage line man, was over from Sitkum today. He recently returned from a trip down the coast to Crescent City, Calif., and reports a better road from Bandon to that place, a distance of nearly 150 miles, than there is from Roseburg to Camas Valley or from Roseburg to the 18-mile house on the Coos Bay wagon road. He thinks it is time for our people to wake up and build some better roads.—Roseburg Review.

Dr. J. A. Tyler and family were in town last week on their way to Smith River, Calif., where they will make their home for an indefinite time while the Doctor practices his profession. Their departure is regretted as they will be missed socially and professionally, but we trust that Oregon charms will again lure them back to Curry.

John Tyler Jr. has rented the Dr. J. A. Tyler farm at Denmark and will make it his home during the latter's absence.

Frands Thompson, Chas. Zumbalt and John McKenzie have gone to the Willamette Valley as representatives of the Coos Breeders' Association, with the intention of replacing the valuable German Coach horse, Markgrof, which died at this place a short time ago. We understand that the association will have to pay $1000 for the new horse in addition to paying $2750 for the one that died. As these are probably the best general utility horses that were ever brought to this country we trust that the enterprising owners will meet with the success that they deserve.

The Ophir road supervisor has done some good work this year graveling about a mile of road from D. L. Moore's to Will Coy's. Throw up the roads and then gravel them is the only effective way of working the roads in this wet climate. It is the Del Norte method, the Dairyville method—and wherever it has been properly done people point to it with pride and travelers praise it.

F. J. Lindberg, James Nuygren and Will Hazelton arrived here from Port Orford Sunday and are busy with the work of re-roofing the several buildings, which will include most of the larger ones. The men are representatives of Masters & McLain, and Mr. Lindberg is in charge of the force. They are using patent roofing which is laid over whatever roof a building happens to have. The Bay View hotel received attention first and it will be finished today.—Radium.

A strange malady has made its appearance among the stock in the neighborhood of Port Orford and it continues to increase. Determined steps will be taken to effect a cure. It seems to be a sort of hars-kiri contagion and effects only animals that are in good condition and whose meat has a tender and juicy look. A short time ago Walter Sutton found one of his mutton sheep—minus the mutton, while a few days ago L. Knapp discovered the head and fore quarters of one of his cattle in the pasture at Hubbard's creek, the rest of it having evidently strayed away as it was a bright moonlight night.

Several of the cold storage men, each possessed of a sweet tooth, made a raid last Sunday upon a bee tree that had been discovered near the road leading to Agate beach. After considerable hard labor, which was lightened however by anticipation of the sweet reward, the tree, a large fir, was felled, and here the reports conflict. There are rumors of fire that burned the honey, and also whisperings that the bees turned out to be yellow-jackets, but be this as it may, the hunters turned out again in the afternoon with saw and ax and no hopes of reward, and labored until nearly night clearing the tree out of the road. No more bee trees for them.

NAPLES, Sept. 16.—The American battleships Alabama and Maine, the vanguard of the American fleet on its round the world voyage, arrived here this morning and exchanged salutes with the arsenal. Their arrival drew large crowds to the waterfront.

Klamath Falls, Sept. 17.—According to an order received here today from President Roosevelt, 70,000 acres of land on the California Oregon line is set aside as a bird preserve. All of the islands in lower Klamath lake and the swamps in the lake district that are unsuitable for agricultural purposes are included in the reserve. While the order issued by the president prohibits the taking or destruction of any birds, eggs or nests, for any purpose whatever, it will not conflict with the reclamation of any part of the district.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information is imparted freely to the whites by the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases. If we would properly investigate them, and in justifying this conviction, he points to the almost marvelous cures effected by his Golden Medical Discovery, which has proven itself to be the most efficacious stomach, liver, invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood purifier known to medical science. Dyspepsia, indigestion, torpid liver, functional and organic weakness, and other ailments of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other ailments, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of women's many peculiar ailments, weakness and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is simply stated to be the most efficacious female remedy ever discovered. It is a simple, safe, and reliable remedy, and is the only one that has been proven to cure all the ailments of women, and is the only one that is not dangerous to the health of the mother or the child.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of the medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were originated with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs, and full lists of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

Langlois Items.

A. A. Jamieson of Sixes was in town Sunday.

A. H. Guerin spent several days of last week at Bandon.

Mrs. Wm. Sorenson returned Wednesday from visiting relatives at Gold Beach.

J. Knight the cattle buyer was in town last week on business.

Sylvia Rackleff came down from Bandon and will remain some days with her father and brothers.

A number of young people chaperoned by Miss Newland enjoyed a Tally ho party last Friday evening.

Rev. Howard of Portland, and in the interest of the Sunday School, held services at the Church Thursday evening.

Mrs. Mabel Coke and sister Miss Esther Lorentzen, formerly residents of Langlois, are visiting friends and relations in Bandon.

Marie and Jennie Bossen left Monday for Corvallis, going by way of Drain. Miss Jennie will enter College at once, while Miss Bossen goes for the benefit of her health.

The usual good time will be in order for the dance Saturday the 26th. Excellent music has been obtained and the committee has spared no pains to make it a great success. If you don't want to miss it, why be there.

(COQUILLE SENTINEL)

Ben Schuyler and wife, late of Bandon, have gone to the bay section to take up their abode.

Ed Ellingson, the expert boat builder, will have R. D. Hume's new 60 foot craft all ready for the ocean in a few days. It was launched south of town several days ago and is a beauty.

The electric lights went flurried Tuesday evening and interfered somewhat with the proceedings at the court house. Hon. J. W. Bennett was arguing a case in chancery, with his usual eloquence, when Judge Hamilton called the distinguished lawyer down, deciding that the same arguments had already been offered. Just then the lights went out and all was darkness. Some one asked what was the cause of the defect? And Mr. Bennett answered (aside of course) that it was the decision of the bar; that the laugh went round the bar; or course we mean the bar of justice.

(DEL NORTE RECORD)

Mrs. H. McArthur, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Howell of Winchuck, Oregon, about two months, left for her home in Los Angeles on Wednesday.

Last Sunday afternoon the remains of Mrs. J. Brooking were laid to rest in the Smith River Cemetery. The funeral services were held in the M. E. Church, Rev. Wallace Cutter speaking words of comfort to the sorrowing ones. The passing of such a noble woman called forth friends from all sections of the county who paid their last tribute at the graveside.

Report reached here Thursday that Michael Herrigan, for many years a resident of this county, had died suddenly near the mouth of Smith River, and Coroner Brown was summoned to hold an inquest, the result of which was that he came to his death from natural causes. Deceased was well known throughout this and Curry county, Oregon, having owned a ranch near the state line. He was a warm and open hearted man, numbering many as true friends. Born in Ireland, he was aged 57 years, coming to this coast when a young man.

The two tugs, being built at the Price shipyard near Bandon, will be ready to launch next month. One is intended for the Coquille bar and the other for the Umpqua bar.

Several mild cases of scarlet fever are reported at Myrtle Point. The authorities have ordered a strict quarantine, and it is hoped to prevent the disease from spreading.

All unpaid taxes will become delinquent after Monday, Oct. 5, 1908, and under the present law whenever the taxes on a piece of property become delinquent anyone can pay the same, and, if not repaid and the land redeemed within 3 years, get a complete title to property. No advertising is now required of property upon which taxes are delinquent, and such property is subject to sale without notice.

From a copy of the Maui News, published at Wailuku, H. T., we learn of the miraculous escape from death of Ellis Coke, the five-year-old son of Hugh M. Coke, formerly of Marshfield. It seems that he and another boy were playing near an open flume, the water in which was running very swiftly. They noticed a coconut drifting by and Ellis reached for it, lost his balance and fell in. He was carried instantly under the sidewalk and down the under ground flume that is covered for a distance of over 840 feet. Fortunately the child straightened out, throwing his arms over his head, and made the underground trip without sustaining serious injury.

Coos Bay's Gift to Governor Chamberlain
Marshfield Times, Sept. 8: One of the handsomest sets of office furniture ever seen in this section was shipped on the Alliance today. It is a gift from the people of Coos Bay to Gov. Geo. E. Chamberlain and will be, at his suggestion, exhibited at the Oregon State fair at Salem as a Coos Bay product.

The office set, which consists of a desk, desk chair, a table and six office chairs, were manufactured by the North Bend Manufacturing Company and are of fir, dark finished.

A year ago when Gov. Chamberlain visited Coos Bay he expressed great admiration for the furnishings of the North Bend Chamber of Commerce. A number of business men who heard his remarks immediately started a subscription to have a set made for him and within a short time $250 was raised in subscriptions of 65 or less and the order placed with Manager Bode. Mr. Bode has personally supervised the work on the set and the wood and workmanship are declared to be perfect.
