Town and County.

John Deadmond returned Monday from a short visit with relatives in Coos.

A Miss Olsen from Drain is teaching a term of school in the lower Sixes river district.

Ernest Divilbiss was in from his Sixes siver farm Monday marketing some choice vegetables.

The Enterprise dropped into port Monday on her way to Rogue river, but left no freight for this place.

Sunday was an unusually warm day for so late in the season, and the atmosphere was filled with smoke from fires to the northward.

The representative of Shillings' Best company of San Francisco was in town the first of the week on one of his periodical trips up the coast.

Fred Caughell came up from Gold Beach last week and spent a day taking in the sights of Port Orford, returning to his home Saturday.

Beecher Jess has moved his family into the Nordberg building near his new blacksmith shop, and can always be found at hand ready for business.

C. A. Smith's big lumber carrier, the Nan Smith, passed along close to shore Monday on her way to Coos bay with the three masted schooner Oakland in tow.

Jo Knight passed through town last week with a band of beef cattle which he had purchased in the Rogue river country and was driving to Myrtle Point.

Miss Edna Colwell was in town Thursday night on her return to her home at Drain, after having completed a very satisfactory term of school in the Ophir district.

Mr. Morgan has done considerable work clearing land on his homestead near the summit south of Port Orford, and is now engaged in putting up a small lumber house.

Will Johnson, one of Elk river's enterprising farmers, has about completed a neat and substantial residence in which he will soon be prepared to enjoy the storms of winter.

Wm Matheny was in from Sixes one day last week and says that he recently had the novel experience of having one of his neighbors attempt to saw up some of his fence material for stove wood.

John Unican hauled some lumber to Hubbard's creek a few days ago for Steve Merrill, who is going to erect a new house on his homestead that he can live in with comfort during the winter months.

Father Curley, who has been holding mass at different places throughout the county, came up from Rogue river last Thursday and passed up the coast the following day on his return to North Bend.

Jas. Curry and Joel Bond had a lawsuit before Justice of the Peace Cox, at Langlois last Monday, in which the former accused the latter of killing some of his sheep. The action however was dismissed by the Justice.

Since his return from the Willamette valley, C. W. Zumwalt has been quite ill at his Sixes river home, requiring the services of Dr. Mann last Sunday. We are glad to report however that he is now much improved.

Jas. Sutton and Miss Anna Dean were Port Orfordites who went up to Langlois Saturday and attended the dance there that evening. They report the usual amount of wholesome enjoyment that is found at the country dance where strong drink is not in evidence.

A. A. Jamieson will not cut any more lumber this season at his Sixes river mill for shipment, but is prepared to supply the local market with rough lumber, either cedar or fir at the same price. He intends to install a planer this fall and will then turn out all kinds of dressed material.

Forest fires have been burning for the past week on the divide between Elk river and Hubbard's creek, and are also raging in the Bald mountain district, but so far have done little damage to the timber, confining themselves mostly to the underbrush. The woods seem to be dryer now than at any previous time during the summer, and fires run with vim where a month ago they refused to burn.

WANTED—A teacher of at least five years experience to teach a six or eighth months term of school in the Port Orford district. Address
MRS. L. KNAPP,
Port Orford, Ore.

Mrs. N. C. Nielsen is spending several days in Bandon.

L. Knapp has a crew of four men clearing up the bottom land on the Olsen place where he will in the future raise the hay for his feed stable, having sold his Elk river ranch last fall to John Unican.

Ames. S. Johnston will leave tomorrow morning for Portland to attend the P. F. & L. Co. trial, which commences Oct. 12," and is expected to last for six weeks or more. He will be accompanied by W. T. White who goes on a business trip to the Willamette valley.

Supervisor Frank Cook and a crew of men are building a bridge across Edson creek, a stream flowing into Sixes river several miles above the county road. The main span is 48 feet long and with both approaches the structure will be more than 100 feet in length. The county furnishes the material while the industrious people of that vicinity volunteer the construction work.

We are in receipt of a letter from Hon. I. N. Muncy emphatically denying the accusations made against him in the last week's Globe for locating a Mr. Byng upon a timber claim that is alleged contains no timber but has been known for some time to have mining improvements. Mr. Muncy says that the mine and timber location are in different townships, and that his past in the transaction has been on the square and above board.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin came in from the Axtell mining district yesterday where they have been for the past two weeks looking up the mineral possibilities. Mr. Marvin is well pleased with what he has seen in this country and says that his company will soon have a number of machines shipped here for working the ocean beach as well as the old deposits in the hills known as "back beaches." He is also interested in some placer propositions that he will probably develop.

Judge Bailey and Commissioner Ismert passed down the coast Sunday on their return from the northern end of the county, where they were joined by Commissioner Sypher and inspected and accepted the new road from Sixes river to Denmark. Arrangements were made for graveling the needy places and teams started hauling at both ends of the road Monday morning. Parties from this way who have been over the new road are much pleased with it and believe that it will be a great improvement over the old route.

Fromm—White.

Johnny Fromm and Miss Violet White were married at Langlois Tuesday, Sept. 22, 1908, and though their friends have been suspicious for some time the event came as quite a surprise.

The groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fromm of Brushes creek, was born and raised in the county and is a steady, industrious young man that can well afford the pleasures of a benedict, while the bride is the accomplished daughter of W. T. White of Corbin, is well fitted to grace the home of her husband, and was a general favorite among the younger set.

THE TRIBUNE joins with the many friends of the young couple in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

Supt. W. S. Guerin returned from Myrtle Point last Monday greatly improved in health.

Andrew Thorhaven arrived home Wednesday, after rusticating in California for several months.

Z. Boice of Bandon, is spending a week's vacation on his ranch on Flore's creek.

Mr. Rackleff and daughter went to Bandon Saturday. Miss Sylvia will soon enter high school at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickett of Elk river are registered at the Pioneer hotel. They will soon open their Photographers gallery and be prepared to do all the latest and best work in the Photo line.

Mrs. Marguerette Haagensen, who has been ill for some time, suddenly grew seriously worse, but under the care of Dr. Mann is now slowly improving, and we hope will soon regain her natural good health.

Ethel Cheever left for Albany Monday where she goes to continue her study of music. We regret seeing so many young people leave, but are glad of their opportunities and that they will bring back some of the advantages of the outside world.

A quiet wedding took place at Hotel Langlois last Tuesday when Mr. John Fromm and Miss Violet White were joined as one by Justice of the Peace Cox. Both young people are well known in Curry, and have a host of friends who wish them a happy and prosperous journey through life.

The case of Geo. Martin vs E. S. Wells for the killing of the former's dog, after carefully considering the arguments of both sides was summed up as follows: The sworn statement of the defendant that he had threatened to kill said dog and carried a gun for that purpose, was "snowed under" for lack of evidence to prove that he had actually carried out his threat, so binding the prisoner over to the Circuit Court under $100 bonds, Justice Cox told us to "go home the show was over."

The dance Saturday night as a final celebration of the completed Denmark–Sixes road was well attended and everyone had a good time. The supper at the Pioneer hotel was above par, and the music excellent. Among those present from our sister towns were—Miss Anna Dean and Jas. Sutton of Port Orford; Misses Talbot, Cox and Olsen, Messers Sydnam and Haft of Sixes. (P. S. Fred Jamieson was there too, but George Guerin wasn't!)

St. Petersburg, Sept. 21.—Premier Stolypin has personally assumed charge of the cholera situation here. His first act was the removal of a number of incompetent authorities and the creation of new sanitary districts. The premier had already ordered the sale of liquor restricted and the stricken districts of the city policed with regularity and rigor.

More nurses were stricken today and the situation is hourly growing worse. All ordinary patients have been turned away from the hospitals to make room for those stricken with cholera. The city authorities today voted 500,000 roubles (about $250,000) for the erection of new hospitals to care for the plague stricken populace.

It is generally admitted that there are at least 4,000 cases of cholera in St. Petersburg alone. Many deaths have occurred on the streets, and many of the stricken people have died before they could be rushed to the hospitals.

Thousands of people are leaving the city, the exodus being particularly heavy among the well to do classes. An official order, presumably emanating from the czar, that all bodies of cholera victims are to be cremated instead of buried was given out today. It is said that the czar is alarmed because of the appearance of the disease among the population surrounding Tsarskoe-Selo, the czar's summer palace.

(DEL NORTE RECORD)

Many boxes of the Rogue River Valley peaches were brought over the mountains to this place the past week, selling readily. They are far superior in flavor to those shipped up from San Francisco.

He was afoot and had to cross Smith river and pulling off his shoes, overalls and cap started to wade, and this is the way he told the story: I walka vera gas', I slipa, losa da shoe, losa da caps, losa da overall. Pay two dolla da overall, pay two dolla half shoes. Vera bad luck this country." He put in a half day fishing for the overalls but did not recover them.

Walter Jones, one of the forest rangers in the Siskiyou reserve, came down from Curry county the latter part of last week to spend a day or two with his family, residing in this place. N. F. McDuff, also a ranger, who has headquarters in Grants Pass, Oregon, accompanied Mr. Jones. Mr. McDuff informed us that the trail being built down Rogue river is progressing. It starts from a few miles below Galice creek and is being built near the river's edge, the greater portion through solid rock, requiring much labor.

Cultivation and Roads

Two things are of more importance to the country people—and to all of us—than any passing phase of politics, the success of one party rather than another. These are: Better Cultivation of soil; and Better Roads.

The people of Oregon are improving in these matters year by year, but there is need of greater, more rapid and more intelligent improvement.

In a good many instances a man can raise $1,000 worth of stuff per acre, or even more on a small tract of land. In far more numerous cases he can raise $100 an acre. This can be done on hundreds of thousands of acres of Oregon soil. And then on millions of other acres the returns will amount to $50, $40, $30 or $25 an acre if the best cultivation is done—enough to make families cheerful and thankful that the lines have fallen to them in pleasant places.

Now thousands of people should be striving, not spasmodically and feverishly, but steadily, thoughtfully, progressively, to raise $1,000 or $100 or $50 an acre of products on small tracts of land—40, 20 or 10 acres. Such families are "the salt of the earth," industrially. They are sure as a rule to be pretty good citizens, however the men may vote.

And get good roads. They pay in various ways that the Journal has often pointed out. They are a distinguishing physical evidence of civilization and progress.

More scientific, thorough cultivation, and more good roads, are among the needs of Oregon. And they will materialize gradually as the years pass. Help the good work along. We have indeed a goodly land; we should be an exceedingly prosperous and contented people.—Journal.

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Medicines of Known Composition.

If by this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their sexes. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native, medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bracing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

There is a probability that a fog signal will be established on Port Orford reef, near Cape Blanco. Capt. Pond, inspector of the light house district, is to examine and report definitely in the near future. A fog signal on the reef would be of great benefit to shipping interests

A scow containing 25 tons of coal being brought to town by John Wall from the Newcastle mine on Catching slough, Tuesday afternoon capsized at the edge of the channel, opposite the cold storage plant. The scow was brought to the wharf and righted, but of course the coal was a total loss to the owners.

Geo. Laingor was in town Friday from the Tioga country. He says the elk have left that section this fall and have gone over towards the North Coos river country. The brush is thick where the elk now range, and it's almost impossible for hunters to find them. He heard of only one buck being killed since the season opened, and that was a six-point, killed by John Berry of Myrtle Point. He noticed the tracks of several calves with a small band of cows this fall, and thinks if the next legislature again affords protection to elk they will soon be numerous on the headwaters of Coos river.

Life on the Farm

Life on the farm is a good deal what we make it. It is pretty much that way in the cities and the towns, except that we have more freedom on the farm. It is there we breathe the pure air, hear the songs of the birds and the babbling of brooks, and see the blue sky unclouded by smoke. It is there we get acquainted with the noises of nature and enter into her moods. I would rather hear the little cricket tell of the shrill notes of the owl than listen to a description of the efforts of the finest opera singer. There is something in country life that is soothing in its effects. The noises are those of nature and have not the jarring effect on the nerves as those of the city. I am not cranky. There are some things in the city that I admire, and there are many good people living there.

Many of the buildings are master pieces of art, and decorations grand beyond description. But everything is in a whirl; everybody chasing the almighty dollar or seeking their own pleasure. The signs of sin and wickedness are ever present. Wickedness is licensed, and the privilege to sin is licensed at so much per year. For real enjoyment the old fashioned spelling school can knock the socks off the city hall, where women wear long skirts and low necked dresses. There is more enjoyment to the square inch of an old-time singing school than there is to a whole block of city amusements.

A country boy can unbutton five buttons, take off his clothes and jump into the water in seventeen seconds by the watch. It would take a city boy longer than that to take off his starched collar. When I see a country boy with nothing on but a straw hat, a shirt or waist, and a pair of pants rolled up to the knees, and an honest look from his clear, bright eye, my heart warms toward him, and I feel a warm and encouraging hope for the future of my country.—Uncle Toby.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O
