A year or so ago L. Knapp bought a government buoy which went adrift at Eel river, California, and was found by Franz Nordberg on the beach south of Port Orford. The buoy was taken on board last week by the Heather and Mr. Knapp was compensated for his trouble although he did not realize the value of the find as it was at all times the property of Uncle Sam and all that the finder is entitled to is salvage.

The Godfrey family gave one of their high class performances in Nielsen's hall last night. They excel in acrobatic feats, and the two little girls are the source of much wonder among the younger folks. The troupe are on their way down the coast and deserve the peoples' patronage, as they are not grafters, and present one of the cleanest and most entertaining programs of any show that has ever passed along the coast. They give another performance tonight, with an entire change of program, and although the patronage was liberal last night a larger attendance is expected this evening. It can well be said of the Godfrey family that they are all stars.

The Wilhelmina came down from Coos bay Monday with a load of merchandise for the stores and people of this place. Mrs. M. O. Hawkins, wife of Coquille's mayor, and Miss Letta Cooper, daughter of W. O. Cooper and wife of Myrtle Point, were departing passengers per steamer Plant last Sunday. Miss Cooper goes to the San Jose normal school to further add to her educational attainments.

Hark Dunham got a present of a "merry widow" hat from some kind friend a number of days ago. So now in the cranium that would be covered by this massive lid there is being debated with "harkless" elegance and emphasis the question of whether to consecrate the hat to the purpose of a lid for his odoriferous corncob, or whether to use it for a damper-lid on the firebox of the good steamer "Shagroost." The opinion of Gus Bennett of the Coos Bay News is eagerly awaited ere the problem is finally disposed of.

Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless boon to prepare the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, anteversion or retro-version or other displacements of womanly organs from weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famed specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native, medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients printed in plain English on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

The Empire cannery refused to pay the price for fish demanded by the fishermen, and are laying fish at the figures which they offered at the opening of the season—15 cents for silversides and 35 cents for chinooks.

The new dredge will be ready to commence work this week. We understand that the channels between Empire and Marshfield are to be dredged to a depth of 18 feet at low water, the channel through the shoals to be 300 feet wide.

The steamship Waiweira left San Francisco last week for Australia, a portion of her cargo being 20,000 boxes of apples, of which 2,700 were Coos county Gravensteins. By the time the apples reach their destination, which will be nearly a month, they will be worth a little over $8 per box wholesale, and will retail at five cents each.

Lewis Cutlip, aged 7 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Cutlip, of Coos river, died last week from diphtheria. The other two children who were attacked by the disease are recovering. Mr. Cutlip was also taken down with it, but at last accounts was improving. Miss Hunt, the nurse in attendance, was taken ill Saturday. She was brought to town and is at present in a cottage in South Marshfield.

Shippers of Curry county will obtain a reduction of one dollar per ton on freight when the Osprey goes into commission. The Southern Pacific has made arrangements with R. D. Hume whereby a through rate of $5 per ton is established on general merchandise from Portland and San Francisco to Port Orford and $6 to Wedderburn and from these latter places to the two former. The rate on wool and butter will be $10 per ton. These rates are subject to classification according to traffic schedule. The freight from Portland will come on the Breakwater and that from San Francisco on the Czarina, to Coos Bay, and there be transferred to the Osprey. The new rates will work quite a saving to Curry county people and the announcement will likely be received as good news.—Radium.

Roseburg, Oregon., Sept. 28.—In Olalla Canyon, 27 miles west of this city, last Friday, George Buxton, aged 24, son of William Buxton, of Brockway, was killed in a battle with a large buck deer, which he had wounded. He was hunting alone at the time, but only a few minutes before he had chatted in the woods with George Smith, a Portland streetcar conductor, who was on a vacation. When the two parted Buxton went to the bottom of the canyon and Smith heard him shoot. Supposing Buxton had jumped a deer Smith felt no concern and returned to Roseburg.

Upon Buxton's failure to return home, Smith was sent for and piloted a party of searchers to the place where he had heard the crack of Buxton's rifle. Nearby he found Buxton and the deer together, both dead. The deer had been shot and Buxton's body had been horribly gored by the animal's horns. A knife lying near them indicated that Buxton felled the deer and, supposing it dead, started to cut its throat when it attacked him.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

New York, Sept. 26.—With William Travers Jerome practically jockeyed out of the case, Harry K. Thaw tonight is believed to be nearer freedom than at any time since the night of June 25, 1906, when he killed Stanford White on the roof of Madison Square garden. Following the decision of Justice Mills at White Plains today to give Thaw a hearing as to his sanity and his refusal to make New York the place of hearing, Jerome practically admitted that Thaw would soon be free.

"It looks to me," he said "as if the prediction made when White was shot down, that Thaw's millions would save him, is about to become a fact. Without money we cannot produce the evidence to show that the man is a dangerous lunatic."

Jerome's reference to money was caused by the fact that District Attorney Winslow of West Chester county has little or no money to spend at the trial, which was set for October 12. New York's comptroller cannot audit bills for any case in Westchester, and this fact has frozen out of the case the man who since the night of the tragedy has been Thaw's Nemesis.

The general belief on Broadway and among the people of the tenderloin who have been deeply interested in the case tonight is that Jerome has been worsted and that his persistent attempts to send Thaw back to Matteawan will now end. Under the new order the young millionaire will stay in the Westchester county jail until his hearing in December, and the chance of any formidable array of insanity experts being lined up againt him has been thwarted by the defense in keeping the case out of New York. But two experts will be allowed to testify for each side, and so poor is Westchester county that District Attorney Winslow will have little opportunity to muster high priced talent against the two most skilled experts in the business, whom Thaw will doubtless summon.

Justice Mills' attitude, which caused Thaw to smile broadly at today's hearing, came out when the jurist said: "I want the trial to proceed summarily. This has been summarily. This has been a case of great notoriety, and I think every one should aid in having it disposed of as quickly as possible. While I am sure that the original committment of Thaw was in every way proper, still if he is not at the present moment insane he should go free."

CREEPING HORNED THINGS.

Lizards, Bugs and Snakes in Nevada All Have Horns, Declares a Lida Resident.

"Everything that creeps has horns down in Nevada," says J. H. Price of Lida, Nevada, in the Portland Oregonian. "The lizards, bugs and snakes all have horns. We have a species of the rattlesnake down in Nevada which I do not believe is found in any other part of the United States. It never grows to be more than a foot long, and is very slender.

"It has a small horn on the top of its head and one rattle attached to the end of its tail. A bite from this small reptile nearly always results in death. Its venom is said to be even more poisonous than that of the common rattlesnake. You take one of these common prairie snakes and you have a chance to escape, as they will never attack you unless angered. Besides they give you plenty of time to get away, as their rattle can be distinctly heard quite a ways off.

"But not so with the small rattlesnake we have down there. If man goes within three or four feet of that reptile it will attack him. It will sound the alarm with its rattle, but it is so small that it is rarely heard. Our rattler can spring at least three times its length, so you can see that you have to be very careful when wandering about in the sagebrush.

"Just before I came to Portland I was in Goldfields and Tonopah. There is no doubt but that lots of people have died recently in that mining district, but I believe that fatal disease they talk so much about is nothing less than pneumonia. I have known persons to take down with pneumonia in that climate and die within six hours.

"You see when people go into that country their system becomes permeated with alkali. They neglect to take the proper care of themselves, and the first thing they know they catch cold, followed by the dreaded pneumonia. Then if the system is in bad condition death nearly always results. Of course there may be an unknown disease down there, but I believe it is straight pneumonia intensified by the peculiar climate conditions. You see it is intensely hot during the daytime, and at night it becomes very cold. These extremes do the work, in my opinion.

"Nevertheless, I would not advise anyone to go into that section of the country at present unless they have friends there. If a man takes down sick it is hard to find anyone to take care of him. Besides work is hard to obtain now in these mining camps. There are lots of good properties down there, but development is being retarded by inadequate transportation facilities. There are several railroad projects under contemplation, and I think all these camps will be connected with the outside world within a year or two."
