WHEN a country becomes civilized it demands typewriters. When in becomes posted on comparative values it demands

THE SMITH PREMIER TYPEWRITER

The fact that The Smith Premier Typewriter is used in every civilized country on the globe is not so important as the further fact that the demand increases year after year.

The reputation of The Smith Premier is world-wide. World-wide use has made it so.

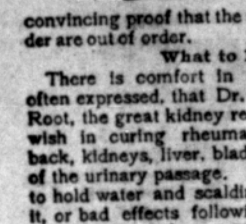
Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.



Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

THE SOUTH'S LITERARY WEEKLY

Published at Atlanta, Ga.

THE SUNNY SOUTH is the Great Literary Weekly of the South. It is devoted to Literature, Romance, Fact and Fiction, and gives the best of all that is current in its field. Among its contributors the most noted southern writers appear—Joel Chandler Harris, Harry Still well Edwards and others of growing fame. Serial stories from Anthony Hope, Maurice Thompson, Sidney R. Crockett, Mrs. George Corbett and Arthur W. Marchmont have appeared, and others are in waiting from the pen of authors of national note. A short story contest brought out nearly five hundred splendid short stories, all worthy a place in The SUNNY SOUTH'S readable columns. Other contests are contemplated that will successfully exploit the ripening field of talent that only needs such fostering to illustrate the wealth that is shy to assert itself.

The SUNNY SOUTH teems with the life of the great south. The genial sunshine warms everything into activity and the season is never cold enough to check the hand of industry. The paper comes fragrant with the breath of the magnolia and pine, and gives out the very air of the orange, palm and bay. The beauty and pathos, the romance and mystery of the land where the corn stores up the golden sunshine and the cotton whitens in the moonlight, will be given in the well-filled columns of this fascinating weekly.

The subscription price is Only Fifty Cents a year, alike to all persons, agents, newspapers, postmasters and every one else. Clubs of five, accompanied by the full $2.50, entitle the club raiser to the paper one year gratis.

Send on a Postal Card the names of six of your neighbors who would appreciate the opportunity to read a copy of The Sunny South, and one sample will be mailed free. You can get your club of five out of these very people.

The SUNNY SOUTH enters over 50,000 American homes now; and during 190 is sure to be welcomed in fully as many more homes, as the great weekly feast of good things, the Southern Literary Weekly, whose columns for 190 will be the most readable of all the papers that come to you.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7, 1902.

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Georgia Dunker

CRISP BANK NOTES.

WILL BE SUPPLANTED BY SOFT AND VELVETY BILLS.

New Process to Be Employed by Government Printing Bureau—Some Interesting Particulars.

The days of the crisp bank-note are numbered. Instead of being crisp, the money which the government bureau of engraving and printing will hereafter turn out will be soft and velvety, if important experiments which are now being conducted in the presence of treasury officials for the purpose of demonstrating the advantages of a novel chemical treatment for paper prove satisfactory. The result of the adoption of the new secret process, says Geyer's Stationer, will be to revolutionize a portion of the work connected with the printing of the paper money of the United States. Under the new process it will takes just 60 days' less time to manufacture a bank-note than under the present method. The chemical solution not only renders the paper soft and velvety, but it also makes it non-shrinkable. By applying it to a Japanese napkin that article becomes as soft and pliable as a tissue of silk. The chemical preparation acts as an antiseptic and preservative. When applied to old documents it seems to knit the fiber together and prevent further decay. Under the present process of printing paper money the paper has to be thoroughly soaked in water. While it is in this soaked condition, one side of the paper is printed. The sheet is then placed in a steam-room and kept under a high temperature for 30 days, the time necessary for the ink to dry. The sheet is again soaked as in the first instance and the reverse side of the bill printed. The 30-day drying process then has to be repeated. In cases where a third impression on the bill is necessary, which is required when the printing is done in two colors, the wetting and drying process has to be repeated for a third time, and another month is thus consumed in its production. Besides the delay of this process, the wetting and drying rot the fiber of the paper, and although it is "starched" to give it the crisp appearance, the starch soon wears out and the bill becomes limp and worn. In printing bills on paper that has been treated by the new process no wetting is necessary. The ink loses none of its luster when applied to the paper, as under the old process, and is thoroughly dry within 48 hours after the printing is done.

SMOOTHLY RUNNING WHEEL

It Went Around All Right Until the Visitor Scraped His Heel on the Floor.

"Yes," said the manager, as they stood in awe before the great machine. "It's perfect. See how smoothly it runs, and remember the weight of that fly-wheel, will you?" The great wheel, 20 feet in diameter, revolved noiselessly, the belt flapping, with an occasional jerk, as the joint came in sight, says the Dallas (Tex.) News.

An oily person in blue cottonade scowled at the visitors and continued to pour oil into the little glass cups, thick, yellow oil that seemed a most satisfactory lubricant. As the party turned one scratched his heel on the iron-covered floor, and a weird shriek rent the air. The person in blue leaped in the air with his hair bristling. The party, including the manager, made for the door. The only brave one was the man who had caused the trouble. He was interested.

The engineer poked his head into the whirling belts and began to scatter oil.

"Cre-e-e-e-ak!" the visitor ran his foot across the floor again.

The engineer dodged back with affrighted face and around the machine, where he peeped into every crevice.

"Come out!" called the manager. "Something's about to break."

"Cre-e-e-ak!"

Again the engineer tore around the great machine, dripping oil all over it. The machine gave another creak, this time a hollow groan, for the visitor had miscalculated the force, and with a howl the engineer threw off the belt, and the ponderous wheel slowly halted.

"Well," said the engineer, "I'll be hanged if I know what it is, but I got to find out."

"Maybe it was my foot scraping the floor," said the visitor, feeling a pity for him.

"Foot nothin'," said the engineer, rudely. "Th' machine's busted. If people would only ten' to their business they'd get along better."

Then the visitor left, and the engineer began to unscrew all the nuts and bolts, swearing enthusiastically under his breath until such time as the manager should be out of hearing.

Rejected Foods.

Cows' milk is said to be abhorred by the Japanese and rabbits are never eaten by the Abyssinians, who explain that rabbits are too much like big rats. The natives of the Sandwich islands would not take caviar for a gift. Cheese in Mexico is simply curds desiccated and pressed in pancake shape, and even then it is patronized only by the Caucasion colonists. The half-breeds accept it with hesitation and a two-ounce slice of Limburger would stampede a tribe of mountain Indians. They resent it as a practical joke in questionable taste. But why the Koreans eschew ice cream, as a traveler reports is the case, is less easy to explain. Perhaps they share the Japanese prejudice against dairy products or the Chinese predilection for superheated tidbits.—Chicago Daily News.
