Concealed Weapons.

Just now there is much discussion in Oregon on the question of carrying concealed weapons. Inexperienced men are asking that the present law be made more stringent, and all kinds of cranky methods are suggested. These cranks seem not to know the difference between a good man and a bad man, nor that a concealed weapon is never dangerous in possession of a good man. It is our good men that obey the law and are defenseless,—while law, or no law, the burglar, robber and murderer always goes armed. Any act to restrict our right to bear arms, (and in our own way when technicality is struck out) is unconstitutional, and the Title to such Acts should read: "An Act of Tyranny and Imbecility, to encourage burglary, robbery and murder, and to protect the perpetrators thereof from personal danger, and thereby encourage such occupations."

Repeal our present law, and offer a reward of a thousand dollars for the capture or killing of every thug caught in such nefarious work, and we will have results that talk.

The World's reply to Mr. Roosevelt's message was:

"The World appreciates the importance and significance of Mr. Roosevelt's statement when he declared to congress that the proprietor of the World should be prosecuted for libel by the government authorities,' and that 'the attorney general has under consideration the form under which the proceedings against Mr. Pulitzer shall be brought.

"This is the first time a president ever asserted the doctrine of lese majeste or proposed, in the absence of specific legislation, the criminal prosecution by the government of citizens who criticised the conduct of the government or the conduct of individuals who may have had dealings with the government. Neither the King of Great Britain nor the German emperor would venture to arrogate such power to himself. John Adams' attempt to enforce the sedition law destroyed the federalist party in America. Yet Mr. Roosevelt in the absence of law officially proposes to use all the power of the greatest government on earth to cripple the freedom of the press on the pretext that the government itself has been libeled—and he is the government.

"It is true that the World printed the public reports concerning the Panama canal affair, which resulted from William Cromwell's appeal to the district attorney's office during the recent campaign to prevent the publication of a story which was said to be in the hands of the Democratic national committee. It was Mr. Cromwell's own action which raised the issue in the campaign.

"It is true also that when Mr. Roosevelt made his attack upon Delavan Smith, the World called attention to criticisms which Mr. Roosevelt must have known were false and misleading and appealed to congress to end all scandal by a full and impartial investigation. If this be the reason, let Mr. Roosevelt make the most of it.

"Mr. Roosevelt's lamentable habit of inaccurate statements makes it impossible to accept his judgments or his conclusions. In his message he does not state correctly even so simple a matter as the pretended causes of his grievance.

"The World has never said that Charles P. Taft or Douglas Robinson made any profits whatever. Mr. Taft denied that he was concerned in the transaction in any way, which denial the World published and accepted. It would have been equally glad to print Mr. Robinson's denial had it succeeded in obtaining one from him, as it frequently attempted. The World has no evidence that he was associated with Mr. Cromwell and would accept his word to that effect, for Mr. Robinson is an estimable gentleman of high character, whose reputation for veracity is infinitely better than that of his distinguished brother-in law.

"If the World has libeled any body we hope it will be punished, but we do not intend to be intimidated by Mr. Roosevelt's threats or by Mr. Roosevelt's denunciation, or by Mr. Roosevelt's power.

"No other living man ever so grossly libeled the United States as does this president, who besmirches congress, bulldozes judges, assails the integrity of courts, slanders private citizens and has shown himself the most reckless, unscrupulous demagogue whom the people ever trusted with great power and authority.

"We do not say this in anger, but in sincere sorrow. The World has immeasurably more respect for the office of president of the United States than Theodore Roosevelt has ever shown during the years in which he has maintained a reign of terror and vilified the honor and honesty of both public officials and private citizens who opposed his purposes.

"So far as the World is concerned, its proprietor may go to jail if Mr. Roosevelt succeeds, as he threatens; but even in jail the World will not cease to be a fearless champion of free speech, free press and a free people."

CURRENT TOPICS.

Editor TRIBUNE—Anent the fervor over Mr. Roosevelt's late message on the Panama problem in which he pays his respects to the New York World in terms forcible if not eloquent, it is stated in several papers that no President ever before engaged in a personal controversy with any newspaper. On the contrary, it was only as long ago as 1895 that President Cleveland denounced this same New York World as a "sensational, shameless sheet," because that paper had exposed and denounced his conspiracy with August Belmont and J. P. Morgan for his shameless secret bond deals with these gentry whereby they cleaned up eighteen million dollars in a single day, and had entered into an arrangement by which $162,000,000 more bonds were to be issued to them at 104. At this stage the World renewed the attack threatening legal proceedings to prevent this second secret bond deal from being consummated, and offered to take $1,000,000 at 112 at a public offering, which Mr. Pulitzer demanded. This broke down the conspiracy and the $162,000,000 were offered to the public and bought between 112 and 118. So, Pulitzer's laugh came last and best. Cleveland's issue of bonds were quoted for many years at 135 on the dollar, showing how fortunes are often thrown into the laps of criminal schemers. And the poor, plodding farmer, mechanic and wage earner foots the bill.

It has been said by a wise economist that, in one way and another, the expense of the state will be kept at a point at or near the limit of the ability of the people to pay taxes. This is one of the penalties the people pay under a representative form as contra distinguished from the Initiative and Referendum form of government.

---

One of the insidious motives of taxing the people with no equivalent benefit, is the multiplication of salaried positions in the public service and the steady progressive increase of salaries.

I have been moved to these reflections by the current agitation among Coos county lawyers for the setting off of Coos and Curry counties into a separate Judicial District! There is absolutely nothing to commend this proposition other than that it promises some lawyer a $3,000 job for less than 30 days service, and should the promoters succeed in lobbying it through the Legislature, the people must have recourse to the Referendum to protect themselves against the imposition, thus again illustrating the great wisdom of that remedy.

Judgships have already been increased in this state beyond any rational demand, while Districts have been multiplied up to eleven, while the first, second and third Districts have been provided with two Judges each, and the fourth District with four.

---

Right after the late session of the Legislature by which the 11th District was provided for, the State Grange made a move to hold the bill up, but through some mistake nothing came of it.

---

It was during Mr. Hamilton's first term as Judge of this (the second District) that an effort was made to have another Judge added, which the Judge opposed as not being needed. Since then however, the effort has succeeded, wherefore we now have Judge Hamilton and Judge Harris on the bench in this District.

---

The Legislature of Iowa kept adding Judges until complaints caused an investigation, which developed the fact that some of these Judges did service for only between forty and sixty days during a whole year, while the average service was only 111 days each, while lawyers were still clamoring for more Judgships.

Two years ago the California Legislature provided for another Judgship for Shasta county, and the people up there were so indignant that they had no trouble in finding a lawyer who would accept an election under a pledge not to qualify. What a God send the Referendum would have been in that and other such cases.

Petition for Bounties for the Destruction of Wild Animals.

To the Honorable, the Senate and House of Represenatives of the State of Oregon, in Legislature Convened. Your petitioners, residents and taxpayers of the State of Oregon, would respectfully beg to call the attention of your honorable body to the fact that the game animals of this state, deer and elk are rapidly disappearing, due in a large measure to the ravages of wild beasts, wolves, cougars or panthers, bears, lynx, wild cats, etc. It has been estimated by competent persons that there are now 500 cougars in this state and that they will each destroy a deer weekly this will foot up the enormous number of 26000 deer killed by these creatures annually.

Now while the approximation of 500 cougars in this state may seem to be too large, still taken into consideration that there are numerous wolves, which are equally destructive to game as cougar, besides lynx, bears, and wild cats, which destroy large numbers of fawns and young deer, it will readily be seen that the estimate of 500 carniverous animals that live off the game is not too large, and that on an average a wolf or cougar takes a deer a week has been attested to by too many experienced men to be doubted.

We would beg to suggest further, that the small bounties which have hitherto been paid in this state for the scalps of destructive wild beasts have not been productive of any considerable good results, the reason being, the bounties offered were too small to justify hunters in keeping trained dogs and making it a business to hunt for animals that the state offered bounties for, while whenever an animal was accidentally killed for which the state offered a bounty, the person who did the killing never failed to claim the bounty, thereby putting the state to a considerable expense and accomplishing no real good, that would not have resulted had not the small bounty been offered.

Again we would call your attention to the fact that coons, skunks, both large and small, digger squirrels and crows, in the nesting season, destroy great numbers of the eggs of game birds, both native and imported, and suitable bounties should be offered for their destruction.

Now in view of the above facts, taking into consideration the enormous loss occasioned by the ravages of game destroying creatures, not only on game but domestic animals as well, we respectfully ask that bounties be offered by the state for their destruction as follows.

For cougar $25.00, wolves $25.00, bear $5.00, lynx $2.50, wild cat $2.50 coons $1.00, large skunks $1.00, small skunks 50 cents, digger squirrels 10 cents, crows 10 cents.

Believing that money expended for the protection of Oregon's wild game, one of the most attractive features of the state, is money well invested, we, your petitioners will ever pray.

Words of Praise

For the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, as given by leaders in all the several schools of medicine, should have far more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle-wrapper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer from frequent headache, backache, gnawing distress in stomach, periodical pains, disagreeable, catarrhal, pelvic drain, dragging-down distress in lower abdomen or pelvis, perhaps dark spots or specks dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or other derangement of the feminine organs, you can not do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in such cases. Thereby the obnoxious examinations and local treatments of the family physician can be avoided and a thorough course of successful treatment carried out in the privacy of your home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription;" it will not perform miracles; it will not dissolve or cure tumors. No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weaknesses and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any medicine can. It must be given a fair chance by perseverance in its use for a reasonable length of time.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this remedy of known composition.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative; two or three a cathartic. Easy to take as candy.

The Problem of the Hungry Man.

(By Edwin Markham.)

The problem of the hungry man is not the problem of one people, nor of one era; it is the problem of all peoples and all eras. And after thousands of years he is still peering hungrily through the windows of civilization. Let us go out into the windy night and look him over. Let us inspect his hands, to see if he has been an idle. No, not an idler—for those hands are knotted with labor, and those shoulders are sunken and crooked with the bearing of many burdens. These are the badges that he bears from the battle; they show that in some way he tried to meet life like a man.

What shall I do? Send him to the charities? No, that remedy has been tried all these long, sorrowful centuries. On all the streets and roads of the world we have been throwing him an occasional crumb, and still he is as lean and hungry as ever. The fact that charity has been tried all these ages without lessening the disease proves that charity is a pitiful failure.

Nothing is worth while unless it unites men, and nothing unites them but justice, affectionate justice. But justice requires that every man should have the opportunity to earn a living by labor. Therefore, the thing to do for this man is to find him work, work at living wages. If there is no work for him under our system of private enterprise—if the crush and rush of competition has crowded this man out of his right to live by labor, then it is the duty of society to provide him with that work. He must have bread labor, for society has forbidden him to beg, forbidden him to steal.
