Town and County.

Snow is still piled up deep in the Coast Range mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Peirce of Sixes river, were trading in town one day last week.

Clasde Walker passed up the coast Friday on his way to visit relatives at Bandon.

Geo. Quigley returned home last week, after having spent several days at Rogue river.

Geo. Curry and wife have been visiting with the latter's mother, Mrs. Pisterer, at Brushy creek.

Ben Hoyt, the Bandon Barber and insurance agent, spent a couple of days in town the first of the week.

A new porch has taken the place of the old one at the church—P. J. Lindberg doing the carpenter work.

Rev. Ranch will hold services in the Port Orford church Sunday, and will preach an Easter sermon in the morning.

John Unican and wife went to Bandon on business Saturday, and while in Coos they will visit relatives at Coquille.

Chas. Neuman was in town Sunday night on his way with a team from his Bear creek farm in Coos, to Dick Quillen's at Corbin.

Deputy game warden, Jas. Lane, spent several days in the northern end of the county last week trying to apprehend violators of the game law, but was unsuccessful.

Dr. Glanville is able to be up again after having been confined to his bed for a week or ten days, from the results of a severe strain of the back caused from a fall.

Mrs. Walter Sutton returned to her home at Port Orford Thursday last after having visited with her daughter, Mrs. Jesse Turner of Gold Beach, for a couple of weeks.

The Globe was in error in stating that Mr. Bruchekie was connected with the P. F. & L. Co., it was the Corbin company not the Pacific Lumber and Furniture company.

It is now denied that King Edward of England, who suffered a stroke of paralysis, and while he has not fully recovered from his late illness his physicians state that he is steadily improving.

Joe Nay and his nephew, Marshall Nay, were in town yesterday. The former is contemplating a visit to his old home in the east, while Marshall, until other arrangements are made, will stay and look out for the Elk river farm.

Frank E. Alley, the prominent horseman and real estate dealer of Roseburg, passed through Port Orford Sunday on business calling him to the county seat. Mr. Alley was accompanied by a gentleman whose name we did not learn.

A. B. Currey was in Port Orford Sunday, returning from a trip to Coos county. On his way up he took a wagon load of pork to Bandon, and from there he went over to the bay where he spent several days visiting relatives.

Marion Zumwalt with a two, and Bert Johnson with a four horse team, are hauling piles from Sixes river to be used in repairing the wharf. In all 84 piles will be used, and we understand that as soon as the work is completed the Elizabeth will make this one of her way ports.

Iraddell Post, son of Mr. and Mrs. Asher Post of Bandon, was committed to the insane asylum by Judge Hall of Coos county last week. The unfortunate young man is 24 years of age, and is well known along the coast as far south as Crescent City, Cal., and while he has often acted a little queer it was never thought by his acquaintances down this way that he was mentally deranged to any extent. He was examined by Dr. Culin, of Coquille, on the complaint of E. M. Blackberry of Bandon.

Robt. Walker, who died in Bandon last week, was known by all the old settlers of this county, and during his years of residence at Gold Beach made many warm and lasting friends who will hear with deep regrets the news of his death. Mr. Walker was married at Rogue river in 1873 to Miss Mary Frame, who with five children survive him, and during the deceased's two terms as sheriff he made one of the most efficient officers Curry County ever had. His fearless and generous nature commanded the respect of all. The Tribune tenders its sympathy to the sorrowing family.

Gov. Coe of Washington, died at Paso Robles, Cal., where he had gone for his health, on Mar. 17th.

The crowning ambition of Mr. Coe's life had been to realize the high honors incumbent with the position as chief executive of one of the great states of the Union. His aspirations were realized, but pathetic, as he has passed away shortly after his inauguration, and before he had served the people of his state a single day in his official capacity.

Lieutenant-Governor Hay was sworn in on March 29th, and is now acting Governor of Washington.

Once more the days are longer than the nights!

The family of W. H. Crow left this morning for Bandon, where they will again make their home.

Frank A. Stewart left for Rogue river Thursday and expects to spend most of the time on Bander's creek.

Mr. Newton, agent for the International Correspondence School, was doing business in Port Orford several days ago.

Mark Haagerman and a young man by the name of King, who are connected with the moving picture show, have been spending several days in Port Orford while on their way down the coast.

Attorney Goss, partner of Judge J. S. Cole of Marshfield, was in Port Orford over Saturday night on his return from Wedderburn, where he had been on business connected with the settling of the Hume estate.

One of the most enjoyable dances had in Port Orford for some time was held in Nielsen's hall Saturday night. The violin music was furnished by Mark Haagerman, who is popular as a ball room musician.

It is reported that the government is going to put up a telephone line from Cape Blanco to town, and also run one out to the Forester's station, which is being established near C. H. Pearce's place on upper Elk river.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Pullen were guests at the Knapp hotel over Saturday night, while on their way to Coos County. Mrs. Pullen was formerly Miss Rosina Miller, daughter of William Miller, of Rogue river.

The moving picture show that was advertised to give a performance in town last night gave us the cold shoulder and passed down the coast without making good. From what we hear the public was not the loser.

C. H. Pearce was in town Saturday to see lawyer Goss in regard to a contract he made with the late R. D. Hume for the constructing of two piers under the Port Orford wharf. We did not learn whether or not the work will be carried out.

As will be seen elsewhere in a clipping from that paper, editor W. H. Wilson of the Crescent City News, is the proud father of a brand new type, and he gives the little fellow the editorial space that the importance of Father Stork's first visit demands.

Will Johnson now has his creamery in operation on his Elk river dairy, having received the gasoline engine, churn, etc., on the Wilhelm. Will is one of our progressive farmers, and is going to it scientifically to obtain the best possible results from his land.

Mrs. Willard, mother of Mrs. Delos Woodruff of Euchre creek will on the 13th of next June, arrive at the 96th anniversary of her birth. For the past 10 or 15 years Mrs. Willard has been practically helpless and dependent upon the devoted nursing of her daughter, with whom she lives, and while she is now both blind and deaf the fires of life still burn strong and she bids fair to pass the century mark.

Dean & Hensley the enterprising butchers have purchased the grocery stock of J. R. Miller and will in future conduct a joint grocery and meat market. The new business will occupy the east half of the building now occupied by Mr. Miller and will move in as soon as the necessary changes can be made. In the building, Mr. Miller will still occupy the west half of the building and carry the regular line of dry goods and clothing—Sentinel.

Dies at Health Resort.

Governor Coe of Washington, died at Paso Robles, Cal., where he had gone for his health, on Mar. 17th.

The crowning ambition of Mr. Coe's life had been to realize the high honors incumbent with the position as chief executive of one of the great states of the Union. His aspirations were realized, but pathetic, as he has passed away shortly after his inauguration, and before he had served the people of his state a single day in his official capacity.

Lieutenant-Governor Hay was sworn in on March 29th, and is now acting Governor of Washington.

Gilbert Anderson of Wedderburn was in town last night on his way to Bandon.

Messrs Wallace and Cook, who are connected with the Lee-Bowlder Co., were in Port Orford for a few hours Monday while driving to Gold Beach on business. The Tribune acknowledges a pleasant call from the gentlemen, who are wide-awake capable business men, that believe they see a promising future in store for Curry county, and are confident of the success of the new enterprise at Denmark in developing some of the latent resources of this section. Mr. Wallace, who is associate editor of Bonville's Western Monthly and a writer of considerable ability and prominence, says that he expects to soon move his family to this county to make their future home in the town of Crittenden. Several erroneous reports that have been circulated about the company were corrected by the gentlemen. They say that Mr. Bruchekie has nothing whatever to do with the Co.; that the canal they are going to dig will not be through the sand spit but to one side of it where they will enter the ocean on a bed-rock or sand stone formation; that the company is proceeding on strictly business lines, and has and will continue to meet all of its obligations, and that it is now paying out more than it is taking in and if the venture should prove a failure the company will be by far the heaviest loser. These, and many other interesting side lights, which space forbids, we mention, were gleamed from the interview, and in return for the money they are expending in an effort to develop a huge and lasting industry in Curry county, the Lee-Bowlder Co. ask, and are entitled to, until such a time as fraud has been detected, the friendship and good will of our people.

Robert Walker Sr. Passes away
On Tuesday morning March 30th Robert Walker, post master and well known citizen of Bandon answered the final summons, after a prolonged illness, in which he battled bravely for his life. Mr. Walker was born in Ontario, April 17, 1844 and was 65 years, 10 months and 13 days old at the time of his death.

Deceased was one of the best known citizens of southwestern Oregon, having been one of the early settlers here and was always prominent in all movements for the up-building of this entire section. He was well known in Curry county as well as Coos, and was sheriff of Curry two terms before coming to this county. In Coos he has also been prominent in business and political circles, he was for a number of years chairman of the Coos County Republican Central Committee and was also a member of the state board of equalization, and for eight years has served as post master of Bandon and was recently reappointed for another term, his service in that capacity has given good satisfaction and under his management, the local post office has risen in rank very rapidly. As a citizen, Mr. Walker was held in the highest esteem by all with whom he came in contact as he dealt honestly and fairly with everyone. Mr. Walker was a veteran of the Civil War and served with distinction, he was also a prominent Mason and was laid to rest by the local Masonic lodge, the beautiful burial ritual of that order being said at the grave.

Mr. Walker leaves a wife, three daughters, Misses Mae and Pearl and Mrs. C. T. Trudgold, also two sons, Robert and Harry to mourn their great loss. The family have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their great bereavement.—Bandon Recorder.

The remains of Axel Carlson, who has been missing since February 11 were found floating in the Smith bog near Bay Park, Tuesday afternoon. While the body was badly decomposed it was identified by acquaintances of deceased. Carlson was employed at the Smith mill and was supposed to have had a large sum of money on his person when he disappeared. Just 70 cents was found on his person when investigated by the coroner's jury, which found that "death came from a rupture of the heart. Cause unknown."—Sun.

WANTED—A dining room girl in the Knapp hotel. Call on or address L. KNAPP Port Orford, Or.

As Seen by Ye Editor.

Bring forth your trumpets and blow them; get out your brass bands and let them play the most joyous music human ever heard; ring the bells as they were never rung before; let hill and rock re-echo the glad some sounds; let all rejoice and join in the procession of welcome, for behold, the editor has a son! Beat your drums and play your life merrily! all get in the band wagon; if you can't play a horn get in the march; if you can't do something to make a noise pay your subscription! Yes, the editor has a son—a new addition to the News force. He looks just like the old man too: He is lean and bony and hungry looking, with broom-stick legs, a don't look at me expression and a disposition as sweet as soured lemons pickled in vinegar, and he makes a big fuss over everything that don't suit him. When he grows up he's going to be an editor or a socialist—we don't know which—but he is going to be something that requires a disatisfied disposition.

If there's nothing in this week's issue of the News don't blame us, for we are busy taking care of the baby—the dearest, sweetest, prettiest, best baby that ever lived. And all because he belongs to us. He is the only little baby we ever saw that don't look like all other small babies.—Crescent City News.

(MYRTLE POINT ENTERPRISE)
Mr. and Mrs. George Rackleff returned to their home in Myrtle Point Wednesday. Mr. Rackleff has been assisting his brother Ed. in his store at Langlois for some weeks. Melvin Rackleff accompanied them up for a visit with Myrtle Point relatives.

Miss Calla Chandler, who is teaching a winter term of school near Port Orford, is home for a visit with her parents and friends. Miss Chandler has three pupils enrolled at her school, and sometimes they do not appear for instruction. The teacher waits until an hour after school time and then goes home. Receiving good wages, to some this would appear to be an easy job, but it becomes irksome just the same and the teacher thinks she would prefer teaching a room full of little ones as a steady thing.

Monmouth, Or., March 25, 1909.
Editor, TRIBUNE.—The Student Body of the Oregon State Normal School at Monmouth, requests the courtesy of a hearing, through your columns, in regard to the Normal School controversy. We feel that our school and its faculty and students have been grossly wronged, not only in the failure of the Legislature to provide support but in the unjust and untrue statements published in many newspapers.

The Monmouth school has been operated since January 1, 1907 without state funds. In addition, great publicity has been given the fact that the Board of Regents had closed the institution in July 1907 for lack of funds and little notice taken of the fact that the same Board accepted large donations from friends of the Normal and reopened it in August 1907. These facts, coupled with the natural fear of students and their parents that the school might be unable to complete the year, combined to shake confidence and made a handicap almost insuperable. In spite of all these adversities, the old "Monmouth Spirit" rose to the occasion and alumni and friends raised and paid into the State treasury six thousand dollars to enable the regents to carry on the school during the year 1907-8. The local school district doubled its special tax and added five thousand dollars. Tuition receipts amounted to more than three thousand dollars. The faculty donated in salary reductions five thousand dollars, making a total provision of nineteen thousand dollars for the year's budget, not one cent of which was supplied by the state.

A similar plan was followed for the present year, 1908-9, only of necessity the resources were more limited. The local school district paid the salaries of the Principal of the Training Department and of the four critics, and other expenses to the amount of five thousand dollars. Seven additional instructors were employed, five accepting the mere pittance of fifty dollars a month and two, President Bessler and Mr. Butler, donating their services. The teachers' salary sacrifice this year

Alcohol to Children

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely. Children do not need stimulating." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Then ask him about Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla as a tonic for the young. Follow his advice. He knows. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The first great rule of health—"Daily movement of the bowels." Ask your doctor if this is not so. Then ask him about Ayer's Pills. Sold for nearly sixty years.

amounts to nearly six thousand dollars. Tuition receipts will be above twenty five hundred dollars. The cash donations will amount to over three thousand dollars, making a total for the year of about seventeen thousand dollars, with not a penny from the state.

Last year, Monmouth students paid twenty-five dollars tuition, double the charges made at the other State Normals and at the State University and Agricultural College. This year, the students have cheerfully paid the same fee and when the regular session of the Legislature adjourned without making an appropriation, a student mass meeting was called, where one hundred ten students subscribed over four hundred dollars in order that the school should not be closed. Practically all of us are self-supporting and yet we gladly put up our hard-earned money both because we want Normal training and because we mean to stand by our dear old school to the very last.

We are also self-respecting and resent bitterly the unfair and untrue charges against our school. We know and every fair-minded person may know by the least investigation that Monmouth is and has been a bona fide Normal school. Under the adverse conditions, forty-eight graduates were sent out last year and there will be over forty the coming June. Of last year's Senior class, forty five are now teaching, two are students in College and one is married. Ninety-three of last year's one hundred seventy-four students are known to be teaching. Most of the remaining have returned to school this year. Ninety-one and eight tenths per cent of the graduates during the past five years are still teaching and the percentage for the whole twenty seven years is over sixty.

These and other reliable and authentic statistics have been published from year to year and are available to all. Our school and its good name and reputation are the capital of graduates and students, and the loss of that capital through abuse and misrepresentation means bankruptcy. Monmouth cannot be crushed. Like Truth, "though crushed to earth, she will rise again; the eternal years of God are hers." Gentlemen of the press, give us a "square deal."

Very truly yours,
The Student Body,
By, P. M. STROUD, Pres.
MARY WHITNEY, Sec.

"I have taken Scott's Emulsion for six weeks and have found it a wonderful remedy. Before I took the Emulsion I had no appetite; was weak; had lost nearly fifty pounds of flesh, and now I eat well and am gaining every day. I find Scott's Emulsion to be very easily digested and a good food for all weak people."—FLORENCE BLEEKER, No. 1 Myrtle Avenue, Bridgeton, N. J.

This is only one of thousands of cases where

has given an appetite. It's so easily digested that it doesn't tax the digestive organs and they rest; yet the body is wonderfully nourished and built up. The digestion is improved—then ordinary food is sufficient. Growing boys and girls, who need so much food to keep them well and strong, and also growing, should be given a bottle of Scott's Emulsion every few weeks. It does wonders for them. It prevents their getting run down and spindly. Nothing does them so much good.
