Storer Petros and wife went down to Gold Beach to spend the Fourth and visit Mrs. Petros's relatives.

B. W. Dean came down last week with his team of quick steppers and mowers, and cut Walter Sutton's hay in jig time.

The "Coast", a small gasoline boat came down from Bandon Tuesday with some freight for Port Orford; she returned the same day.

Mr. P. J. Lindberg of Port Orford is spending the Fourth with his son Edward, at Marshfield. We confess to a hankering to be there also.

Hay cutting is now the order of the day, and the crop is fine. Farmers wear broad smiles, and their wives put more sugar in their pies.

John Fromm and wife came up last Thursday to attend the close of the school, and to take their son George home after his long period in school.

Some of Al Marsh's young folks went down to Rogue river to celebrate, while "Al" stays at home this year, and tickles himself doing the chores.

The run of fish has been very slack in Rogue river lately, and the new companies that have started up operations there are somewhat discouraged.

Charles Crew, who has been mining on Sixes near the Forks, for a few weeks, was in town Thursday after supplies, and reports that he has made good wages.

W. T. White went down to Gold Beach on Friday's stage, combining business with the fun of the Fourth, and to compare sketches with his new-found Bard.

Mrs. Wood, wife of Prof. Wood, came down from Bandon Friday and will spend a few days here with her husband, when they will return to their Bandon home.

Frank B. Tichenor, General Organizer of the Woodmen, has a fine portrait in last week's Marshfield Times. He will hold a big "Log Rolling" in Coos, before long.

Francis Hughes and wife were in town on business Friday. Mr. Hughes is nursing, or rather cursing, a felon on his hand, which he has slung in a sling, but can't sling away.

There are only a few blackberries in the woods this year, but there are lots of people for each berry. Our merchants get the best of the situation by selling clothes to the racing pickers.

Rube Gardner has for some months past been working on his home on Four Mile. Why Rube works single, but not double, surprises all his old Curry County friends.

Geo. H. Adams of Myrtle Point, passed up the coast yesterday, returning to his home after having spent several days at Gold Beach exhibiting his fine stallion, "Black Prince."

Steve Gallier is now Mayor of Bandon, and Herbert Manciet is a Councilman. If Rube Gardner had only held on as Marshall, Bandon would seem like a Curry County town, with Mrs. Walker as Postmistress.

Prof. Peter Costello, for many years a prominent citizen and educator of Chetco, is now an inmate of a Soldiers' Home in Calif.; so we were informed by his son who was in Port Orford, lately, on his way to Bandon.

Only a few gray-heads and broken-hearted youngsters, were seen in Port Orford during the National holiday. All others had gone to Gold Beach or Dairyville, to meet old friends, to make new ones, and help make the eagle scream.

Johnny Swing's swift boat, the Ranger, with George Forty and sons as partners, is doing a fine business, darting in and out to the rocks near by, gathering eggs and killing sea lions. They will, perhaps, average a hundred dozen eggs a day, and as many lions as they can handle.

In going to the celebration at Gold Beach last week a team belonging to Geo. B. Miller ran away with the wagon in which Walter and Lawrence Miller were riding, bruising the boys up some and breaking the wagon beyond repair. The accident was caused by the brake failing to hold when going down a steep pitch near the old hatchery at the mouth of Cedar Fork.

Supt. Guerin and Commissioner Syphers were at Knapp's hotel Monday night on their way to attend County Court this week.

The Gerald C. from Coos Bay, landed some freight here Sunday for our merchants and went on down to Rogue river.

A fine box of cigars came through the mail for the Taisuna yesterday, and as we do not smoke, we cannot help thinking, as we watch our father enjoying them, that he cast an anchor a long way to windward when he advised us in our boyhood not to use tobacco.

Mr. Young, a salesman for a San Francisco Wagon and Carriage firm, spent Sunday in Port Orford on his way down the coast. He is a great lover of Agates and says that those at Port Orford excel those of any other place that he ever visited, in variety and richness of colors.

Forster Milbury arrived here Monday from a northern scout of his district and went out to his station on Elk river. He expects a visit from Supt. Anderson before long. Mr. Milbury is an efficient officer, and is popular with our people, because of his firm but gentlemanly qualities.

People who celebrated on the 3rd, are now congratulating their good luck, as the morning of the 5th unfolded in a rainy day which marred the celebrations fixed for that date. A great many have cut their hay, not heeding the warning, that it is never safe to cut hay in this climate before July 4th.

Last Friday Capt. Swing's Ranger took Geo. Forty and his son Robert down to Rogue river reef, where they killed over 60 salmon in one day, getting back here about midnight. They killed only males, and some were very large, though none reach as great a size as they did in the days of old, when unmoored.

The school at Port Orford closed last Friday after a long and successful term under Prof. Wood. Prof. Wood is a college man of wide experience in scientific fields, and having discovered just south of Cape Blanco, a beach and bluff rich in fossils, he regrettably leaves before more thorough investigation. As it is he has gathered a fine collection of gems and fossils.

The Catalogue issued by the Oregon Agricultural College for this year is a most thorough and satisfactory publication, giving all essential information, and many fine illustrations of the buildings and grounds, and of groups of students in their diversified occupations in both their studies and amusements. It is the most useful institution in our state, and we are proud to see it is achieving a world wide appreciation.

The celebration at Langlois was attended by a large crowd, and was fittingly successful. Port Orford, Elk and Sixes captured about all the prizes. Carl White of Port Orford won the men's foot race, and with Bud Poste won two three-legged races. Miss Lilly Hurst of Elk captured the young ladies' race, and the egg race. Sy Davis of Sixes won the wrestling matches in fine style. We have not the names of other winners.

The following from the Drain Nonpareil will be of interest to our readers who are acquainted with the former editor of that paper. "S. P. Shutt and two sons are stopping for the present at Dunsuir, Calif., 22 miles south of Weed, where the Klamath Falls branches off from the main line. They spent a week at Klamath Falls and vicinity, but the high altitude of 5000 feet caused Mr. Shutt to almost bleed to death from the lungs and nose. Upon the advice of physicians he left the place, and went to the lower altitude of Dunsuir, which is only 2000 feet above sea level."

Charles Keane, who for the past year has been book keeper for the late R. D. Hume, came up from Wedderburn Monday on his way to Marshfield where he has a better position awaiting him. He remained here a couple of days in order to go out to the reef on the Ranger with Capt. Swing and Geo. Forty and enjoy a sea lion hunt, and also to see them gather eggs on Island Rock. It is a rare experience, around which he can weave a brilliant tale of hair-raising adventures. Mr. Keane has made a host of friends in this County who regret his departure.

Miss Mamie Masterson, who has been attending school in Portland, is visiting at home.

J. S. Diller of Washington, D. C., a prominent member of the United States Geological Survey Service, and who made the first geological survey and investigation of the mineral resources of Coos county and Southwestern Oregon, has come to Coos Bay to make additional researches in that section.

W. O. Cook, who formerly ran Egan's large stock ranch this side of Mussel creek, was camped for a few days at Port Orford lately and shaking hands with his old friends. He is accompanied by his family, has a mule team and a complete outfit, and as his health has been bad, he proposes to get all the benefit and pleasure to be obtained by a free and unlimited outing along the coast as far as Los Angeles where he proposes to winter before returning to his home in Eugene. From here he will go to Euchre creek and Rogue river, and spend some time in the pure air, and waters of Lobster mountain, and test the virtues of the White Sulphur Spring near Soldier Camp. So far they have enjoyed their trip immensely, and Mr. Cook already feels like a new man.

The 4th at Gold Beach.

The Fourth of July celebration at Gold Beach last Saturday was a success in every particular, and those who gathered there from far and near to do honor to the Nation's birthday returned to their homes well content with having spent a pleasant and patriotic 4th.

Port Orford, Illabe and Chetco, with intervening points, were well represented, and the assembly was free from rowdiness or unpleasant features.

The forenoon exercises were held in A. H. Gauntlett's orchard, where "neath the shade of the old apple trees" an entertaining program was rendered. The selections by the choir were good, and Miss Gladys Miller read the immortal Declaration in a clear and forceful manner. An original prose poem, full of patriotic inspiration, was ably delivered by Miss Mildred Kelsey, while Atty. W. A. Wood held the close attention of his hearers during the delivery of an instructive oration.

After the serving of hot coffee and an excellent basket lunch the crowd repaired to the ball grounds where the afternoon sports took place. We failed to get a list of the children winning races, but all were happy and even the losers seemed to enjoy the fun. The young ladies' race was won by Miss Gladys Miller, while Floyd Huntley won the free for all by winning the run-off of a tie between himself and Harry Gauntlett. The ball game between Pistol river and Agness was exciting, although Big League form was not in evidence and errors were quite numerous. The rough ground, however, accounted for a number of the runs that were made. At the close of the fourth inning the score was 8 to 0 in favor of the Pistol river boys. Agness then changed her battery and from that time on held the opposing batters at their mercy, putting them out in one, two, three order, and in the meantime getting onto the curves of the other slabster they chased each other around the diamond—winning by the score of 18 to 8.

The horse race in the evening between horses belonging to Will Colebrook, Floyd Huntley and H. T. Stewart was an interesting and hotly contested feature as the result shows. The first heat went to Huntley's horse, while the editor's nag took the next. Colebrook then took a hand in the fun by winning the third dash. The fourth heat was declared a tie between Colebrook and Stewart and the race called off on account of the darkness—the purse being divided between their horses.

The horse races came nearly being marred by an accident as one of the horses ran into the crowd, knocking Zahnie Crockett down and bruising him considerably. It was fortunate that no one was seriously injured.

There were five launches in the gasoline boat race Sunday afternoon—Johnny Fry and Johnny Woodworth tying for first place. A ball game was also played that afternoon between Agness and Gold Beach, which was called off at the end of the fifth inning with the score standing 15 to 0 in favor of the latter team.

Miss Eua McKenzie is visiting with her parents on Elk river.

Mrs. Woodruff Passes Away.

Mrs. Eliza Woodruff, widow of the late Dejos Woodruff, died at her home on Euchre creek on Monday, July 5, 1909. A few weeks ago she suffered a stroke of paralysis, which complicated with serious heart trouble, left her in a helpless condition and her death had been expected for some time.

Mrs. Woodruff—nee Willard—was born in Aurora, New York, was married in San Francisco, and came to Curry county in 1874. She is survived by her aged mother, who is now near the century mark and whose enfeebled condition requires constant care, and no daughter was ever more dutiful in her devotion to her mother.

The deceased was buried by the side of her husband in the Euchre creek cemetery at one o'clock P. M. to day in the presence of a large concourse of friends and neighbors.

Langlois Items.

William Anderson of North Bend is spending a month's vacation in Curry.

Miss Nellie Jensen left Monday for Smith River, where she goes to visit relatives.

John Haagenen came home to spend the Fourth. He has been working near Gold Beach.

Ethel Cheever, Sylvia Rackleff and a Mr. Thompson, went to Bandon Monday to attend the dance.

Several of our young people including some from Port Orford, went to Bandon Sunday to attend the celebration there Monday.

Mr. Olenberg Sr., is again in town and informs us that matters concerning the Lee-Bowlder Co. will soon be readjusted so all payments can be met.

Notices are out for a dance in Bowman's Hall, July 17th, to which every one is cordially invited, music to be furnished by a very talented musician from North Bend.

Last Sunday while photographing the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Matheny, it accidentally fell from a chair injuring the spine, how badly, with the exception of the intense suffering so plainly shown, could not be learned. Mr. and Mrs. Matheny immediately took the little one to Bandon. We hope to say nothing serious will result from the fall.

One of the most perfect days of the year was July 3rd when a large crowd from far and near gathered to celebrate our Independence. Port Orford, Sixes and Bandon were well represented. The speaker of the day failed to put in an appearance. Nevertheless the program was well rendered by the following numbers: Opening address—E. Rackleff. Song—Choir.

Sketch on real incidents of the Civil War and reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech—Mr. Lynch. Song—Choir.

Reading of Declaration of Independence—W. S. Guerin. Song "Good old U. S. A."—David Rackleff. Song—America.

A beautiful dinner was then spread with every good thing imaginable to eat; hot coffee was furnished by a special committee.

The afternoon sports were won by the following:

Boy's race 6 to 9—M. Rackleff. Boy's race 9 to 12—Lester Clausen. Boy's race 12 to 15—Lester White. Girl's race 9 to 12—Alice Bement. Girl's race 12 to 15—Lilly Hurst. Ladies' race—Lilly Hurst. Men's race—Carl White. Three-legged race—Carl White and Bud Poste.

The dance hall was crowded and excellent music was furnished by the Langlois Orchestra. Supper was served at both hotels.

Sunday the horse races were an interesting feature. A good natured rivalry between the home racers was won by Guerin's "Baldy," while Ralph Kennedy put his "Dixie" a rod ahead of Bethel's thoroughbred "Barney." Dug Cook is expected in on Ingleman's "Brown Betsy" any day.

A boxing match was arranged between "Red" Wyant and David Crowley, closing the days sports, Wyant winning from Crowley in the fourth round, W. Anderson acting as referee and C. A. Wolley time keeper.

Alcohol to Children

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely. Children do not need stimulating." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Then ask him about Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla as a tonic for the young. Follow his advice. He knows. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

The first great rule of health—"Daily movement of the bowels." Ask your doctor if this is not so. Then ask him about Ayer's Pills. Sold for nearly sixty years.

The funeral of Alex Urquhart, a well known Coos county pioneer took place at St. James church in this city, conducted by Rev. W. Horsfall on the 26th inst. Death occurred at the state hospital at Salem on the 21st, and was caused by the rupture of a blood vessel on the brain. He was 67 years of age and leaves a wife and son to mourn his departure. He has been a resident of Coos county for more than forty years.—Coquille Herald.

The proud and haughty manner which J. O. Langworthy has on exhibition at his tonsorial emporium today is caused by the receipt of the pleasing news of the birth of a baby girl at the home of his daughter, Mrs. P. J. Peralta in Oakland Calif. Mrs. Peralta was formerly Miss Iva Langworthy of this city and "Mr. Peralta" will be remembered as a baseball player and later railway agent in Coquille. Their many friends in Coos county will hasten to extend congratulations. Mrs. J. O. Langworthy and daughter are visiting at the Peralta home.—Times.

Dr. G. D. Elgin is in from Eckley. At the present time the people of that neighborhood are getting their mail at Port Orford, receiving it as regularly as someone happens to have business calling them to that place, which may be once a month or oftener. Congressman Hawley has secured from the department an order for the establishment of a route from Denmark, the postmaster at that place being authorized to hire a carrier at not more than three-fourths of his salary. The amount of wages for the carrier on this basis has not yet been determined and no carrier has been hired. Dr. Elgin reports that several homesteaders have located in the neighborhood of Edson Butte and that there are two camps with seven men prospecting the Sixes channel.—Myrtle Point Enterprise.
