CHRISTMAS ADVICE.

By Minnie J. Reynolds.
Go through your list of friends carefully and cross off those who didn't give you anything last year.
It is to be hoped you have postponed all Christmas shopping until Monday, the 21st. It is such a comfort to the salespeople.
If you are engaged to a young man it is perfectly proper for you to consider yourself acquired if he does not spend his November salary on your present.
Buy a showy present for your daughter to give her teacher, and when she gets home ask her if any of the other children gave a present as good as hers.
In passing on Christmas presents care should be taken not inadvertently to retain them to the donor.
If your boy wants to give his teacher a Christmas present tell him you pay taxes for the support of the public schools and that's enough.
Do not pay any attention to the individuality of the person to whom you are making a gift. Buy the thing that will be the most shrewd and effective.
Calculate your presents carefully, according to the wealth and social position of those who are to receive them.
Give more than when you desire should give into you.
It is more blessed to give than to receive.
The Christmas both make demands of us all.—E. Y. Times.

VAST MINERAL RESOURCES

A report published by the geologists of the United States Geological Survey gives a summary of the mineral resources of the United States for the past ten years. The report shows that the value of the mineral products of the United States has increased by more than one-half in that period and the figures for 1909 are greater than in any previous year, totaling up the enormous total of $1,000,000,000.

GREAT PHENOMENON.

Strange as it may seem in this day and age, the rising and setting of the sun was the greatest of natural phenomena to the ancient Greeks. They were greatly puzzled to know how the sun came which plunged into the ocean at a fabulous distance in the west and reappeared the next morning at an equally great distance in the east.

REVIVAL OF ASIA'S PRESTIGE

Being of the Pendulum of Ascendancy Between East and West—History Repeats Itself.
It is now more than twenty-three hundred years since Herodotus expounded to the assembled Greeks his celebrated theory that the cardinal fact in history was the intervention of Asia.

TEACHERS IN CAMBODIA.

All children who present themselves at the seat for study are received. It is not ever required that their parents bring them or send them, says Popular Science Monthly. The newcomer chooses his professor, and if accepted, begins at once to study under his direction, installs himself in his cell or in the school hall, and becomes his servant.
