HOW RETURNS ARE NOTED

Map System to Be Used During Third Liberty Loan Drive.

Returns from the various counties of the state will be indicated at the Oregon State Central Liberty Loan headquarters, Portland, [illegible] map, as will every town and district [illegible] a quota has been assigned, by a yellow thumb tack. The counties will have a large yellow tack and the districts a small yellow one.

As soon as one-half of the assigned quota has been reached in each town or district, a red thumb tack will replace the yellow one on the map. Similarly with the counties on the state map. Each county headquarters will have their own map with the county divided into convenient districts, which are to be [illegible] likewise.

When the full quota in each town and district is attained it will be designated by a blue thumb tack. This system will afford an [illegible] and will indicate those counties and districts of the state which are doing the most effective work in the Third Liberty Loan Campaign.

In each town and district a [illegible] will be sent out [illegible] the Government household questionnaire upon which is written pertinent facts concerning the individual's [illegible] to subscribe. [illegible]

MANUFACTURING OREGON'S NEED

Louis J. Simpson Favors Development of Our Home Industries.

PROFITS SHOULD REMAIN AT HOME

Raw Materials Should Be Transformed Into Finished Articles Where They Are Produced.

Oregon [illegible] never have fear about [illegible] future if its people will [illegible] make [illegible] of giving to the [illegible] justice for less money [illegible] other portions of the state, [illegible] J. Simpson, an authority on community development, in a recent talk made before the people of Washington County, on the occasion of the opening of the [illegible] Company's plant at Beaverton, showed how lack of proper [illegible] has failed to give the public the proper appreciation of goods that are made right here at home.

For example: [illegible] and miles of streets in Boston, London, Paris and Berlin are paved with wooden blocks, and only a few years ago Boston took out more than 100 miles of Belgian block pavement and replaced it with wooden blocks.

Yet in cities [illegible] west there is today [illegible] block pavement.

Recently [illegible] brought out that a [illegible] advertisements are seen in [illegible] magazine and whose business is ready-made houses runs into [illegible] gets much of its lumber from [illegible] forests, Mr. Simpson said.

"There is no reason in the world why people [illegible] of Oregon should make the greatest profit on the things which we produce [illegible] until the first and last profit on the goods stays within our boundaries we have not done ourselves [illegible] justice.

"It is these things which we must face and act upon now. They are matters that certainly will not improve with age.

"There are a thousand and one things [illegible] of Oregon on which the [illegible] profit [illegible] away.

"When I speak of these things, I am not dealing in generalities. Some will naturally ask, 'Well, what is to be done?'

"On that, I want to tell you of the situation at Coos Bay. That, incidentally, is a great community. It's great because every man there has a chance and because people there have come to realize that what is good for the community is also the best thing for them.

"In that comparatively small part of Oregon, there are more [illegible] manufacturing plants than in any other similarly populated [illegible] with the exception of [illegible] Portland.

"Of course, some of the [illegible] of the region are still shipped [illegible] in crude form, but on the other hand there is much manufacturing in the Coos Bay cities and the profit stays there.

"For example, timber when it leaves Coos Bay is almost in its final form. No logs are shipped from there.

"The box factories are busy. Then, there are a dozen other plants which do the work right down to the last bit of finishing on novelty goods made from the myrtle and other fancy woods of the Coos Bay region."

Mr. Simpson encourages and is a believer in co-operative community development, of communities fostering new plants and industries. He commended the people of Washington County on their interest in the new starch plant.

"When the people of Oregon get into the habit of keeping their raw materials here until they are manufactured, then, and not till then, will the state be on a basis of permanent prosperity," he concluded.

FAITH IS NEEDED

Capital Should Be Invested in Industries to Develop Oregon.

Claiming that what Oregon needed was a little more faith on the part of the individual, L. J. Simpson recently pointed out how [illegible], progressive state administration could help [illegible] this feeling in private enterprise.

"Oregon today needs more of the faith that will cause men to invest their money in some enterprise which will develop an industry which should logically be Oregon's," said Mr. Simpson.

He is a great believer in "starting something" and believes if the average man knew how often he could get [illegible] with his ideas, there would be more successful ventures. If [illegible] the courage to start anything that has basic merit, [illegible] surprising how [illegible]

[illegible] Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common [illegible] with your water and let it stand [illegible] hours; a sediment or settling [illegible] unhealthy condition of the kidneys; [illegible] frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1 sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.
