OFFICERS UNDER PAID.

That the officers of Curry county are being underpaid, almost without exception, there can be no question. Even before the war their salaries were inadequate, and with the increased cost of living of the present time, they are wholly out of proportion to the labor performed.

A good example of this is in the office of county surveyor, which official recently informed the writer that on several occasions where he was working for private parties, where his fees were regulated by law, he had actnally lost money on the job, and that it was a common occurrence for men working under him to be paid higher wages than he was getting.

Such conditions are demoralizing and can lead to but one result, and that is, that unless they are remedied it will soon become impossible to get our qualified citizens to take a public office. Furthermore, it is fundamentally wrong to require the person who has spent years of his life fitting himself for some special work to give his service for a less wage than is being received by unskilled labor. Such a policy destroys the incentive for an education and training, and will lower the standard of service Curry county may expect from her officers.

The voters of our county should take action, before the next Legislature convenes, to the end that salaries be raised until they give a fair reward for the service performed—something near what the officer might receive if doing similar work for a private individual. The motto should be "a fair day's wage for a fair day's work."

WHO FOR PRESIDENT?

A recent canvass of the Republican newspapers of the state by the Oregonian shows that W. H. Taft is the first choice of the Oregon editors for President, and General Leonard Wood second choice.

Mr. Taft may be the man of the hour, but his record hardly justifies such a hope. As Supreme Judge and later as President he did not stand very close to the laboring man. He is possessed of fine judicial ability, but of rather questionable executive force. Under a strenuous leader like Theodore Roosevelt Mr. Taft made a splendid lieutenant and was a fairly good President under normal conditions, but, is he the leader our nation should have at the present time?

General Wood is not lacking in executive ability, but his statesmanship that would qualify him for such a position is more or less an unknown quantity. And the proposition of electing a man to the presidency because he is a popular hero does not appeal to the TRIBUNE.

The Man of the Hour may be Mr. Taft or he may be Mr. Wood, but it is not at all unlikely that he is neither one of them.

Items From Away Back.

From the issue of the TRIBUNE of Aug. 28, 1894, Walter Sutton, pulisher.

Miss Polly Culver is visiting friends in Port Orford.

Born—In Port Orford on Sept. 12th, 1894, to Mr. and Mrs. P. J Masterson a daughter.

Northern Curry will be well represented at the Circuit Court this week.

W. H. Wilbur shut down his saw mill for the season last week, and will go to the city by the next steamer.

The steamer Alice Blanchard is to be put on the Coquille-San Francisco route in opposition to the Bandorille.

The following attorneys have reported at Gold Beach, ready for business: Dist. Atty. Brown, J Huntley, J. M Siglin, John Hall, J. H. Upton, J. M. Upton.

The old Indian Whiskers, whose coffin has been awaiting his occupancy for ten days or more, was still alive on Sunday, lingering between life and death. He is said to be over 100 years old.

Edwin Marsh, who, with some of his wife's family, of Douglas county, have been camping at Bandon, came down Friday, to spend a few days with friends in Port Orford and vicinity.

The infant child of Will Miller and wife of Euchre creek, was reported dangerously sick, the latter part of last week, and a messenger was sent after Dr. Tyler, who was in Port Orford.

Rt. Rev. B. Wistar Morris, and Rev. W. Horsfall and wife arrived in Port Orford Saturday evening and the Bishop conducted services in the church on Sunday morning, at which there were four confirmations. Mr. Horsfall held services in the evening, the Bishop being indisposed. Mr. Horsfall will visit Euchre creek, and will again hold services here Thursday evening.

Died—At the residence of Nels Neygren, in Port Orford, Oregon, on Friday evening, Sept. 14th, 1894, Louis Brown, aged 36 years. Mr. Brown returned from a successful sealing cruise in Japanese waters a little over a month ago. On his arrival in San Francisco he was married to a lady whom he had been previously engaged. They took passage on the steamer Argo bound for home via. Coos Bay, and Louie took a severe cold on the trip up, which continued to grow worse, until it developed into pneumonia, to be followed by quick consumption On his arrival at Port Orford a month ago he was immediatly taken down, and continued to grow worse, Dr. Tyler stating at the start that the chances were against him. He had the best of medical attention, and the most careful and tender nursing at the hands of Mr. Neygren's family and his devoted wife. He was buried at 2 o'clock last Sunday, Rev. W. Horsfall conducting the funeral services, there being a large attendance of sympathising friends.

WESTERN WORLD.

S. A Malehorn was down at Gold Beach the latter part of the past week on business for Bandon Hardware Co.

Elbert Dyer and A. F. Deringer motored to Elk river Saturday night where they camped and spent the following day fishing. Angling has not been up to standard in Elk river this season, and their catch was nothing unusual in points of numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McPhillamey and Miss Elizabeth Vail of Sixes came up Friday to meet Miss Vail's mother, Mrs. E. H. Vail who is now visiting them at Sixes.

Mrs. W. M. Hunter of Gold Beach passed through Bandon Sunday enroute to her home after spending some time in Portland.

H. M. Axtell returned last week from Stockton, Cal. where he purchased a large donkey boiler and equipment which he shipped here for work on the Moon & Co. highway job in Curry county.

Mrs. J. F. Juza passed through here last Friday en route to her home at Gilmer, Wash., after being at the bedside of her son, John F. Juza, editor of the Gold Beach Reporter. She reports her son much improved but still confined to his bed and it will be a month or so before he can be removed to a Portland hospital for treatment.

M. and Mrs. Fromm and son of Port Orford, accompanied by Mrs. Willis White Jr., and daughters of Wedderburn, were Bandon visitors Friday. Mrs. White and daughters have been visiting at the Fromm home for several weeks.

There was a time when applicants for positions in the Coast Guard were plentiful, says Captain Robert Johnson, but now the positions go begging. He is advertising for men as the crew is short handed. Applicants will be considered for temporary service or for permanent enlistments.

To Install Cheese Factory.

A cheese factory with a capacity to handle the product of 100 cows will be ready for operation on the Turner ranch on Hunter's creek in Curry county early next Spring, according to the plans of Jesse and Asa Turner and Chas. Smith. They have placed an order for a complete cheese making plant with the Bandon Hardware Co. through the latter's salesman, S. A. Malehorn, who was down at the Turner ranch last Friday. The dairymen of the Curry section are preparing to enlarge their herds and increase their output. The prospects of a highway down the coast is encouraging development in all lines.

COQUILLE SENTINEL.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O Hawkins and children left for Portland last Sunday in their car intending to be absent a week.

John E. Quick went down to Port Orford last Saturday to attend the institution of the Masnoic lodge there that evening. He reports a very interesting session. On his return he stopped a day in Bandon, reaching home on Monday.

The Coos and Curry Telephone Co announces that the various departments of the company are receiving a general increase in wages, effective August 1. The total amount of the increase is $641.24 per month.

Dr. C. W. Endicott and family returned last Saturday from their vacation spent in the hills 15 miles above Powers. They enjoyed great fishing up there, landing Chinnook salmon 40 inches long, fat, and in perfect condition from holes 25 feet deep. The whole party enjoyed the outing immensely.

Last Sunday Mrs. Laura F. Young died at Bunker Hill at the ripe old age of 94 years. Possibly she was the oldest person in the country, though Grandma Leneve of this city, is within a year of that age.
