Local Happenings

The dance in Port Orford last Saturday night was well attended. Harry Eubank, the Marshfield commercial man, was in town yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Colebrook, from their home near Corbin, made a trip to Bandon in their auto one day last week.

The W. U. Sabin and Jas. Crew families, from Langlois, were visiting Sunday at the W. J. Sabin home in Port Orford.

J. I. Hoopes, who came to this section recently from Beaverton Or., has bought the Shing place on Sixes from F. M. Robinson.

Walter McGill said his Ford truck last week to George Clough. The latter is one of the boys who recently returned from the service.

Bert True, who recently sold his confectionery store at Langlois, has written to have the TRIBUNE forwarded to him at Long Beach.

Ed. Purfield and his two sisters, the Misses Edna and Ethel, came up from Eugene creek Saturday evening to attend the dance in town.

The Langlois hotel changed hands the first of August, Andrew Olsen retiring as proprietor and Mr. Henry, a late arrival at Langlois, taking charge.

Deputy sheriff Howard Jeter was in town one day last week on his return to Gold Beach from a trip to Marshfield.

Mr. Sullivan, proprietor of the Hub Clothing store at Marshfield, accompanied by Mrs. Sullivan and little daughter, was a Port Orford visitor Sunday.

Wm. Chandler, head of the State Highway work in Coos and Curry counties, was in town the first of the week checking up on the Hubbards-Brush creek road.

Frank Nordberg went to Eckley last week where he has accepted a position with the Forestry Department as fire guard. He is stationed at what is known as the Avery place.

Mrs. Will White and two little daughters and Miss Meservy returned to their home at Wedderburn Saturday after having spent three weeks visiting friends and relatives in Port Orford.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fromm were in town yesterday from their Brush creek home. A few days previous to killing the bear Will Coy's dogs (read Mr. Fromm caught a coyote in a trap on his range).

Walton F. Miller came up from his home on Rogue river and spent Sunday visiting friends and attending to business matters in Port Orford. Mr. Miller owns 200 acres of land on Hubbards-creek, where he resided for several years.

That northern Curry ranchers are enjoying a prosperous season is evidenced by the number of new autos that have gone into that section this fall, three deliveries having been made within the past ten days. J. Kreutzer receiving a Chevrolet, and John Hawkins and W. U. Sabin each a Ford.

The Eastern Star, of Bandon, held a very enjoyable picnic for Masons and their wives at Floras creek Sunday. A few from Port Orford and a number from Langlois, about fifty persons in all, were present and lots of good eats and a splendid time was reported.

C. A. Long has christened his lit-tle launch the "Fish". He has been deep sea fishing the past week or two with good success. His launch, which he built last winter, during old spells, is an excellent little sea-boat. It is 22 feet 6 inches long, equipped with a 4 horse engine and develops a speed of from 6 to 8 miles an hour.

Several families from town went out to the David McKenzie home on Elk river Sunday and enjoyed an excellent picnic dinner. Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie, with their two children, plan on leaving within the next two or three weeks for Canada.

While they are going away primarily upon the advice of a physician for the benefit of their little daughter's health, yet they may decide to locate in British Columbia. They have leased their Elk river farm to Roger Hanley whose wife is a sister of Mrs. McKenzie.

County Judge W. A. Wood and Atty. J. C. Johnson, of Gold Beach, were in town last night enroute on business to Marshfield.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Baker passed through town yesterday, from their home near Corbin, enroute to Bandon where they will stop a few days for medical treatment. Steve Spoor drove them up in his new Dodge.

Game Warden, John Adams, who last week caused the arrest and fine of six violators of the game law in the Rogue river country, was in town last night, and the northern Curry hunter will do well to leave his gun in the rack for a few days.

The Moon company received a new Chevrolet truck Monday which will be used in delivering supplies for the Hubbards-Brush creek road. About 40 men and several teams are now engaged in clearing the right of way for this highway.

John E. Moles was down from Langlois, Monday, and filed under the Stock Raising act on a 40 acre tract adjoining his present home-stand. Mr. Moles was accompanied by J. A. Bowman and E. J. Denton who acted as witnesses for him.

E. A. Lindberg, the local garage man, received his State license last week as an auto mechanic. This is the result of an examination Mr. Lindberg took at Marshfield several weeks ago, and as was expected by those who are familiar with his work he was given a first class rating.

The Yuba tractor is at work in the Langlois District hauling gravel on the road. Three trail wagons are used, and the gravel is being taken from Willow creek to the road in the Green Timber. This has long been one of the worst pieces of road in northern Curry, as it was rough in the summer time and muddy in the winter.

In going out to Bald Mountain Sunday to look after some cattle Jesse Sutton saw a coyote that he could easily have killed had he had his rifle with him. It is getting so it is no uncommon occurrence to see one of these animals in this neighborhood, where a few years ago they were unknown. Two of these little pests have lately been making the night hideous with their howling in the vicinity of the David McKenzie home on Elk river.

A. B. Carey and Louis Sparling were assigned before Justice A. Adolphson, of Denmark, yesterday by Forest Ranger J. B. Carl for letting a camp fire get beyond control near the Indian mines on Sixes a few days ago. The two men admitted their carelessness and were fined $10 each and costs. The small fine was due to the evident fact that the fire was accidental and that Messrs. Carey and Sparling volunteered to pay the expense of putting it out, which amounted to an additional $18.25 each.

A very pleasant social gathering was held by a number of the ladies last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. H. Larsoh. The guests of honor were Mrs. David McKenzie and Mrs. John Gillings, both of whom will be leaving Port Orford in about two weeks. The former will go with her family to Canada, while Mrs. Gillings and children will return to their home at Billings, Montana. A delicious two course luncheon was served, and the afternoon was said to have been a most enjoyable one.

County Surveyor E. J. Canfield was in Port Orford over Sunday while returning to Gold Beach from surveying the Langlois-Lakeport road. He also did some private surveying in that neighborhood. The Port of Port Orford had planned on having Mr. Canfield establish the lines of the property that may be affected by the building of the proposed wharf, but not having the proper field notes and lacking the time to wait for them, he appointed Chas. Fitzhugh, of Sixes, his deputy to do this work.

McCracken's Furrow.

A pretty home wedding was that of Miss Agnes McCracken and Lieutenant Louis E. Furrow who were married recently at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. R. L. Wagner of Elk river, Rev. S. S. Reed officiating. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Oregon and the bride has taught school in Curry county for the past two years and has made many friends here. Mr. and Mrs. Furrow will make their home in Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Merrill passed through town last evening on their way to Eugene creek. They have been located for the past year at Santa Cruz, California, but have sold their property at that place, making the trip here by auto via Roseburg. They will visit at their old home at Eugene creek a month or two and then return to California.

Bishop Sumner Will Visit Port Orford Again.

Mrs. Wm. Gillings is in receipt of a letter from Bishop Walter T. Sumner, of Portland, in which he expresses his appreciation of the cordial reception extended him by the people of Port Orford when he was here about a month ago and stated that he would send the Arch-Deacon here to hold services sometime during the month of September.

Bishop Sumner is an able speaker and our people should avail themselves of the privilege of hearing him when he comes again.

Gold Beach Hardware Man Leaves.

P. M. Little, who for the past several years has been engaged in the hardware business at Gold Beach, passed up the coast last week enroute to Portland where he will locate. Mrs. Little is still at Gold Beach, but will join her husband shortly.

Mr. Little is an enterprising, public spirited man, and Mrs. Little took an active interest in community and war work while residing in our county, and their decision to seek a new field of endeavor is a loss to the Gold Beach community. Their hardware store at the county seat was destroyed by the fire that swept that town several months ago, and it was this that caused them to change locations.

Young Man Who Has Seen Much Service Visits Mother on Elk River.

Sergeant Carl W. Watson arrived at Port Orford last Friday on a visit to his mother, Mrs. W. C. Par-din of Elk river.

Mr. Watson was among the first marines sent overseas, landing in France in November, 1917. He was in the battles of Verdun, Chateau Thierry and Soissons, and in the fighting of the latter place was struck with a spent machine gun bullet that ranged downward through one cheek and after shattering the jaw-bone on the opposite side, lodged there. This was July, 1918, and it was January, 1919 before the young man was released from the hospital but the surgeons fixed his face until scarcely a scar remains. Shortly after he left the hospital Corporal Watson's four years' service with the marines expired, and he re-enlisted for four months to help in the reconstruction work in France, returning to this country the latter part of last June.

Mr. Watson was given a splendid discharge from the service, and his interesting experiences "over there" would fill a book. He will spend two or three weeks visiting with his mother.

Some Bear Dogs.

Last week the TRIBUNE had an item to the effect that Will Coy, of Eugene creek, had come up to the Bobt. Fromm ranch with his dogs after a bear that was killing sheep on the latter's ranch, and that the bear was started but got away. The latter part of the item was a mistake. The bear was started all right, and it and the dogs got out of the hearing of the hunters. It was thought they headed towards the Eugene or Lobster creek country, and search was made for them in that direction without avail. Two days later, Mrs. C. H. Parze, at Middle Elk, heard dogs barking and telephoned to the Fromm home and when Mr. Fromm arrived on the scene he found the dogs at the foot of the tree where they had been for more than 48 hours, and the bear which was a big black one, was in the tree.

Mr. Coy usually gets from 10 to 15 bears a year with these dogs, and no doubt the reason they stayed at this tree so long is that he always goes to them even though it may mean laying out over night in a winter storm without food or blankets. He was still scouring the woods, and it was welcome news to him this time when he heard they had been found all right with their game.

Belief Grown That Boy Murdered— See Girl.

As the evidence in the case has been considered, the belief is growing stronger that in Harold Howell, the 14 year and nine month old Bandon boy, the murderer of Lillian Leuthold has been found. The Warden boy who was arrested at the time young Howell was apprehended, was exonerated. The two boys had been hunting together during the afternoon of the murder, but had separated and Warden was at home before the crime was committed.

The odd calibre of the gun carried by Harold Howell that afternoon and the particular marking its re-bore made upon the bullet found in Lillian Leuthold's head, blood stains upon the boy's clothing, and other circumstantial evidence tend to connect him with the crime. He denies his guilt, but has been held without bail to appear before the grand jury. Sheriff Gage is credited with saying that the officers are in possession of evidence which is convincing that the boy is guilty.

The mother of the murdered girl had been in a critical condition, from the shock of the tragedy, at the Leuthold home near Bandon, and it is feared that if she regains her physical strength her mind will always be impaired.

Would Cultivate Wild Blackberry.

The following by Ward K. Ed-ardson in the Portland Journal is interesting here:

I have often wondered why people especially city dwellers, do not grow the native wild blackberry (not the Evergreen) in their own gardens. It is considered one of the finest flavoured berries, and every year many go to a great deal of pains to get them. With less trouble, time and expense they can be grown at home, of finer quality than in their wild state, where conditions are not always the most favorable. It is much easier to grow your own and pick the berries fresh as they ripen than it is to spend valuable time hunting for a few palatable among clumps, brush and poison oak probably trespassing on some farmer's well.

"Grown on a trellis like loganberries, they will respond to cultivation with large berries and a surprisingly heavy crop. The berry differs from most others in that the blossoms are not self-fertilizing. There are both male and female vines, and care must be taken to plant one or more male vines for fertilization, as the female vines produce pistillate blossoms only. This fact accounts for the numerous clumps of healthy vines which bloom profusely each year, but mysteriously 'blight.' These are the male vines. The fruit is produced on the growth of the previous year, which dies down after bearing and should be cut out to make room for the new vines."

Making the Nation's Credit Liquid

RESERVOIR systems insure a steady water supply in every city and large town. The faucet is of very little value without the reservoir behind it.

The Federal Reserve Banking System is a simple and practical means of making the nation's credit liquid at all times.

As a member of that system, this bank is as independent of local conditions as it is humanly possible to make it.
