LOVING MOTHER

A father talking to his careless daughter, said: "I want to speak to you of your mother. It may be that you have noticed a careworn look upon her face lately. Of course, it has not been brought there by any act of yours, still it is your duty to chase it away. I want you to get up tomorrow morning and get breakfast; and when your mother comes and begins to express her surprise, go right up to her and kiss her on the mouth. You can't imagine how it will brighten her dear face.

"Besides, you owe her a kiss or two. Away back, when you were a little girl, she kissed you when no one else was tempted by your fever-tainted breath and swollen face. You were not as attractive then as you are now. And, through those years of childish sunshine and shadows she was always ready to cure, by the magic of a mother's kiss, the little dirty, chubby hands whenever they were injured in those first skirmishes with the rough old world.

"And then the midnight kiss with which she routed so many bad dreams, as she leaned above your restless pillow, have all been on interest these long years.

"Of course, she is not so pretty and kissable as you are; but if you had done your share of work during the last ten years the contrast would not be so marked.

"Her face has more wrinkles than yours, and yet if you were sick that face would appear far more beautiful than an angel's as it hovered over you, watching every opportunity to minister to your comfort, and every one of those wrinkles would seem to be bright wavelets of sunshine chasing each other over the dear face.

"She will leave you one of these days. These burdens, if not lifted from her shoulders, will break her down. Those rough, hard hands that have done so many necessary things for you will be crossed upon her lifeless breast.

"Those neglected lips, that gave you your first baby kiss, will be forever closed, and those sad, tired eyes will have opened in eternity, and then you will appreciate your mother—but it will be too late."—Roseburg News-Review.

TEN FACTS ABOUT MARRIAGE

Interesting indeed are the facts brought out by Dr. William Fielding Ogburn, professor of sociology in Columbia University, on the matter of marriages. Dr. Ogburn, at one time a professor of Reed College, Portland, has done extensive research along social lines for the United States Government, and his story "Marriage—The Best Insurance in the World" published in the February issue of The American is, really an admonition to young men—not to go west, but to "Go Thou and Do Likewise."

Through his analysis of marriage in the United States through the census figures, brings out the following ten facts:

1. Marriage is gaining ground. Early marriages are increasing. Fewer married men commit crimes than unmarried men.

2. Fewer married persons go insane. Fewer married persons are found in poorhouses.

3. The death rate of married men is much lower than that of unmarried men.

4. Children of immigrants are marrying less and later.

5. One person in ten remains unmarried.

6. There is one divorce to every eight marriages.

7. There are 43,000,000 married persons in the United States.

8. The report of Dr. Ogburn shows several things among them that marriage is gaining, rather than losing ground; that married men commit less crime; that fewer married persons are driven insane, either by one or the other; that the death rate of married men is much lower than those unwilling to enter the matrimonial state. These are significant facts that have much in their favor.

9. One feature brought out by Dr. Ogburn should have weight with the American people in their treatment of the immigrant problem—he found children of immigrants marrying less and later. This ought to prove to us

CURRY COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

Port Orford Schools

(Anna Lowman) Every student is very glad to be back to school again, even though heaps of work stare them boldly in the face. On account of the very unexpected vacation, unless every one works with diligence, a large portion of our work will remain incomplete. All the students excepting one have returned to school, but if the sunshine persists in its coaxings we fear it will require more than ordinary will power to resist a "sneak day."

Gold Beach School.

The upper grades and the high school attended the naturalization ceremony at the court house on Monday morning.

Pauline Gilmore is a new pupil in Mrs. Nichols' room. Pauline is in the Seventh grade.

Last Friday the pupils of Mrs. Harrenkohl's room held an art exhibit for Fire Prevention Week. Madeline Smith took first place for making the most effective and artistic poster. Ruth Sorber and Jack Wheeler tied for second place, and Maurice Walker and Darwin Caughell tied for third place.

Elsie Lawrence has returned to school after a week's absence on account of illness.

Mildred Tolman has been out of school because of eye trouble.

Gertrude Bothwell is absent on account of the illness of her mother.

This year there will be no county declamatory contest and track meet. It is planned, however, to hold a local declamatory contest and track meet. Tryouts for the former are scheduled to be held on Friday afternoon, May 8th. It is expected that the finals will be held on Thursday evening before the close of school.

Gold Beach Cooking Club

The club members met at the home of Mrs. Backensto last Saturday. All were present. Averill Walker and Robert Smith served the lunch very successfully. Mrs. Cope was our very welcome visitor.

The pupils in the Primary room perfect in attendance are: Carroll Mershon, Mary Bauer, Nancy Buffington, Billy Leith, Byron Miller, Myra Owens, Jeanne Richardson, Kenneth Walker, Mary Anne Whitsett, Hal Costelloe, Evelyn Fry and Bernice Fry.

The pupils perfect in attendance in Mrs. Harrenkohl's room are: Kermit Lynch, Amelia Miller, Darwin Caughell, Forrest Sorber, Ruth Sorber, Elsie Lynch, June McCormack, Maurice Walker and George Staples.

DISTRICT NO. 18

(By Ellen Adams)

We have only three weeks of school left. This time will go very quickly, for we will be busy with our examinations.

The Fifth grade studied Henri Lerolle's painting, "By the River," for English this week.

We made spelling pads Thursday. Each designed a May basket and cut out various colored flowers for it for the cover. Genevieve Adams had the best looking pad.

Genevieve Meservey is making a jointed toy of a May Queen.

Genevieve Meservey was our only 100 per cent speller this week.

We received our report cards Wednesday.

We have been practicing the standing and running broad-jump at school this week. Elisha and Lillian Meservey and Ellen and Dick Adams do the best.

Ray and Ruth Adams visited school Friday.

Brookings Schools

Second

For language this week we told the Japanese story "The Burning of the Rice Field" and also studied Constant Troyon's famous picture, "The Return to the Farm."

The children are writing all their memory work in their composition books.

Iona Pfefferle taught the Second grade Thursday afternoon. All the children liked the new teacher.

We had a picnic Friday after school.

Third and Fifth Grade

Those who received 100 per cent in the spelling test were: Anna Cross, that the immigrants have other motives than becoming good American citizens and with such a condition prevailing we should hesitate much as to granting the undesirables at least the right of citizenship.

Earl Ganong, Gunborg Ask, Floyd Kindel, Gladwin Montgomery, Wesley Hassett, Gwendolyn Trimble, Louisa Humphrey, Ardis Casal and Inge Franck.

For painting lessons this week we have made a border of Japanese lanterns of many varieties. They help to brighten up our room.

Fourth Grade

Harley Pipkin left school recently. The girls of the fourth and fifth grades have bought an indoor baseball and bat. They are enjoying them much on these beautiful spring days.

Sixth and Seventh Grades

Josephine Pfefferle has finished the memory selections for the year. The class has just finished memorizing "The Flower in the Crannied Wall."

Esther Shockley of the seventh grade has finished the memory work. The sixth grade has been coloring colonization maps of North America. We are reviewing our history now.

Last Friday after school we had a beach party. All seemed to have a good time.

The Sixth grade girls are putting on a blackboard border of leaves and butterflies.

Harry Fosbury fractured a bone of his forearm last Thursday while practicing the running high jump.

Eighth Grade

Mrs. Cannon taught in the Eighth grade room after recess Wednesday and three-fourths of the day Thursday while Miss Hill attended the funeral of Mrs. Kindel's mother in Crescent City.

Nites Place has been absent for two days because of his father's illness. The only times Niles has been absent this year have been when his father was ill.

We are making covers for our Oregon history note books this week. We are beginning to review Oregon History and Civics.

Last Friday we all enjoyed the historical film shown at the Redwood Theatre by Mr. Ole Jones for the benefit of the school children. On Monday we wrote a review of what we had seen.

We have completed all but two of our memory selections.

Euchre Creek School.

(By Olive Gardner)

Mrs. Cope visited us last Thursday. She gave us a very interesting talk.

We are planning to have a school picnic next Sunday.

Jewell Williams brought a very pretty bouquet of flowers to school Monday.

All the children in our school have joined the Junior Red Cross. We all have pins and we are very proud of them. We are preparing two portfolios of Oregon, and of Curry county in particular, to send to foreign countries. Every day we write a short paragraph to put under a picture to explain it.

Dolly James and Mrs. Ruth Weimer visited school Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Truax from the mill was called home on account of the illness of his wife.

Mrs. "Doc" Moore has been sick for over a week. She is getting better now.

SMALL RADIO USER CAN GO AFTER WHAT HE WANTS.

The small radio user will hear with much satisfaction that Secretary of Commerce Hoover has recognized that the former has a right to filter the air for the program he desires. In a recent brief interview he announced that the energies of the radio division of his department would be largely devoted to seeing that the small fellow, both receiver and broadcaster received a fair show. For that reason it is likely from now on that promoters who plan the erection of enormous blanketing broadcasting stations in various parts of the country will be obliged to prove to the department that the new service which they offer will not discommode or dismantle the smaller local broadcasting stations which serve a daily increasing group of interested listeners.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it. For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" The words of Jesus from Matthew's Gospel 26:24-26.

The secondary streets of Moscow are deserted; grass grows between the cobblestones; tramways half empty and most of the shops and restaurants are closed.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the forests.

NEW SETTLERS BRING TWO MILLION TO STATE

Curry county is doing little or nothing to induce new families locating within its confines. It lacks publicity features as well as efforts on the part of the majority of its various commercial bodies looking to this end, which is regrettable.

According to a report reaching this newspaper more than 700 new families representing an investment in excess of $2,000,000, have been located in Oregon during the past year through the efforts of the Land Settlement department of the Portland Chamber of Commerce. This information is contained in a report completed by W. G. Ide, manager of the department.

During the same period, the number of agricultural inquiries received totaled more than 15,000, of whom 1087 prospective settlers definitely announced their intention of coming to Oregon this year. The report stresses particularly the active co-operation received by the land settlement department from a majority of the counties of the state, and calls attention to the enormous volume of inquiries received in recent months. During March, for example, more than 4700 requests for agricultural information were received, and these inquiries have been relayed to all chambers of commerce in the state.

Many inquiries have reached the Land Settlement department concerning Curry county, but because of lack of necessary descriptive matter the department reports that this county is doubtless losing settlers, which means the investment of many thousands of dollars.

YOUR HEALTH

RAISING HEALTHY CHILDREN

The children of the State of Oregon, over two hundred thousand strong, who represent our state's future, need wise care and early training. The physical impairment of the coming generation depends entirely on the measures we adopt for prevention and correction. Although Oregon leads the United States with a low infant mortality there is still an appalling amount of unnecessary sickness and disability. Altogether too many children die from preventable diseases and many others go through their childhood weak and sickly when by proper attention they might be strong and healthy.

There are, in round numbers, in state of Oregon, over one thousand children who are mentally defective, and over one thousand who are handicapped with organic heart disease. Over four thousand children have defective vision; over three thousand have defects of hearing; over fifteen thousand have adenoids or diseased tonsils; and over fifty thousand have defective teeth. During the past year there were fifteen thousand, six hundred and seventy-four births in this state. One in twenty of these children will probably die during the first year of life. One hundred and fifty are mentally defective; over one hundred of them have organic heart disease; six hundred have defective vision; four hundred and fifty defective hearing; one-quarter of them have adenoids and diseased tonsils; and over one-half of them will develop defective teeth. By the time they reach adult life only one-third of them will be classed among the physically fit.

In a state as rich and intelligent as the state of Oregon we should have few children developing into manhood and womanhood with handicaps of remediable physical defects. The practical problem of bringing up healthy children demands that each child must be carefully considered and all remediable defects removed. It is wasted time and money trying to force defective children through the regular mill of school work. Every child should have a physical examination before his entrance to school, put in the best possible condition, and maintained in that condition by careful supervision. We are responsible for the normal development of our children. Children are born without habits, but habits are soon formed and the bad ones come more easily than the good ones.

In order to grow healthy children a comprehensive and intelligent program must be made to insure:

- 1. That every child is well born. 2. That every mother receives proper attention and care. 3. That every child is protected from improper care and that physical defects are corrected before serious harm is done. 4. That frequent physical examinations are made to insure normal development.

May Day is Child Health Day. Celebrate it by giving every child in this state a chance for health and happiness.
