LEANS PUT IT OVER THE FATS

In Ball Game Sunday by a Score of 17 to 16

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT THE BALL PARK

Two Horse Races Pulled Off —Band Receives Substantial Benefit

A large crowd turned out last Sunday to see the base ball game between the Fats and Leans, played for the benefit of the Redmond Concert Band. The spectators sure had the worth of their money, for the game was exciting and laughable from the first to the close of the seventh inning.

The Fats went to bat first and closed their inning with two runs. The Leans only got one man across the rubber in their half of the inning.

The 2d inning the Fats piled up 5 runs, and there was all kinds of fireworks then. The Leans could only register up 3 runs as their share of the inning, and betting began to run in favor of the Fats.

In the third inning Potter went into the box for the Leans and held the Fats down to goose eggs in the third, fourth and fifth innings. In the meantime the Leans got their second wind and began to play ball. In the third Duffy brought in one run. In the fourth 5 scores were made and in the fifth the balloon went up and six men of Captain Haney's team trotted home.

By this time it looked a cinch for the Leans as the score stood 16 to 7 in their favor. Captain Mills of the Fats, called his men together and gave them some good advice, and the result was that in their half of the sixth they swatted the ball all over the garden and 7 runs were chalked up on the bulletin to their credit when the inning was finished. This made the score 14 to 16 in favor of the Leans.

In their half of the sixth the Leans gathered in one score which was made by Templeton. It was now a case of do or die for the Fats, and they spit on their hands with the determination to do something, and they did—they got in two runs, which made the score 16 to 17 in favor of the Leans, without their playing their half of the seventh.

At the conclusion of the game Umpire Hosch presented Captain Haney of the Leans with the Deschutes county pennant amid the cheers of the crowd.

An admission fee of 25 cents was charged and $37 dollars was realized for the band. The band was scheduled to play at the game but three of the principal players were out of the city, and the organization did not turn out.

The line-up was as follows:

LEANS
Roberts, left field.
Haney, 2d base.
Duffy, catcher.
Huffman, pitcher.
F. L. Applegate, short stop.
Neilson, right field.
Chris Ehret, 3d base.
Templeton, center field.
Potter, 1st base.

FATS
E. B. Applegate, center field.
Mayor White, short stop.
Mills, pitcher.
Taliaferro, catcher.
G. M. Huffman, left field.
Mieth, third base.
Williams, right field.
Spring, second base.
F. Zumwalt, first base.

SCORE BY INNINGS
1 2 3 4 5 6 7
Leans 1 3 1 5 6 1 x—17
Fats 2 5 0 0 0 7 2—16

Umpires—J. F. Hosch and W. G. Phoenix.

After the ball game two running races were pulled off, which the crowd remained to see. The first race was a 300 yard dash between a roan pony and McCloy & Templeton's "Patsy," which was won by the roan by about half a length.

The second race was a quarter of a mile between Snell & Green's "Bessie Green" and S. R. Snider's bay pony. This race was won by "Bessie Green" by about half a dozen lengths.

It is understood that there will be a race next Sunday afternoon between "Bessie Green" and C. F. Bartlett's "Babe."

HORSE RACE FOR SUNDAY

Several races are scheduled for Sunday at the driving park here. A free for all with the following entries so far: "Bessie Green," "Babe Bartlett," McCloy's "Patsy" and "Nellie Weaver," a Crooked River horse.

A race between Brown's roan pony and Elmer Covert's well known "Psyche."

There may be a match race between "Babe Bartlett" and McCloy's "Patsy."

APPLES GROWN IN THIS DIST.

Fine Samples From Tetherow Orchard Shown

SPECIMENS WILL BE SENT TO PORTLAND

Expert Horticulturist Says This Is Fruit Growing District

Specimens of seven varieties of apples were brought to this city Saturday by J. S. Tetherow, who grew them in his orchard six miles northwest of Redmond. This orchard is on the Deschutes river, and is eighteen years old.

Among the varieties shown were Rome Beauty, Bellflower, Spitzenberg and Rhode Island Greening. The apples were all of the finest kind, and some of them were of mammoth size, three rows covering the bottom of a box. Some of these apples will be sent to Portland to be placed on exhibition and show that the Redmond District is a fruit country, and especially adapted to growing apples.

For the past fourteen years the Tetherow orchard has yielded good returns, but this season has been the record. All thru the Redmond District there are a number of young orchards with apple trees three and four years old, and this year these trees have shown a remarkable yield. Some of the trees have been so heavily laden that it was necessary to prop up the branches to keep them from breaking down from the weight of the fruit.

E. J. Krand, assistant horticulturist of the Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis, was in this section recently looking the country over with a view to reporting on the fruit prospects of this part of the state. Prof. Krand is a fruit expert, and he stated that apples can be grown in this district successfully. He says that the only thing that will retard the general growth of this crop is the occasional frost of the late spring, and that that will be no worse here than it is in some of the most famous apple countries in the northwest.

He advised the use of smudge pots and other devices to prevent injury to the fruit.

All kinds of fruits have been grown so successfully in the Redmond District this year that ranchers who heretofore have turned their attention solely to agriculture are going to set out orchards and small fruits the coming year. All the fruit raised here meets with a ready market at good prices.

Is an Index of a Live Town

Send The Spokesman to your friends and let them see what an enterprising, hustling lot of citizens there are in Redmond and how the town is growing. A glance at the advertising and news columns of the paper will show that the people here are live wires, and doing something all the time. A paper filled with live ads and good local reading matter is the best index of the character of a town or city, and The Spokesman shows that Redmond is in the front rank of live cities.

Sunday school will be held in the new church next Sunday at 10 a. m.

R. R. WORK TO BE CONTINUED

No Let Up Planned for This Section On O. T.

CONTRACTED WORK TO BE COMPLETED

Financial Flurry Will Not Affect Railroads in This District

"We are not going to discontinue any of the projects already under way," said President John F. Stevens, of the Oregon Trunk line, in a recent Portland interview in explaining the withdrawal of some of the Hill engineering forces from field work.

"All the work contracted for and under way will be carried to completion as rapidly as possible," Mr. Stevens continued, "but new work will be taken up cautiously because of the financial situation. There has been no change in our plans since the announcement was made several months ago that the contract for grading for the extension of the Oregon Trunk beyond Bend thru the Klamath reservation was cancelled. Surveyors and engineers who are coming in are those who have finished the work laid down for them. We are not calling in men from projects actually under way, and do not expect to until there is nothing more for them to do."

NEW MAIL SCHEDULE

The Spokesman has been informed that, beginning November 1st, Redmond will be served with mail from Shaniko via Madras. The mail will arrive daily at 12 m, six hours earlier than now. The mail will also depart at 12 m daily instead of 6 a. m. Redmond will be the distributing office for the Cline Falls and Sisters mail. The new schedule will be a help to Sisters.

ROOT CROPS YIELD WELL

This District Has Produced Some Record Breakers This Season

This has been a prolific year for the raising of root crops in the Redmond District, and many kinds of vegetables are being brought into the market here that would take prizes at almost any fair exhibition. Potatoes are yielding well and are of large size and excellent quality. Onions grow to a large size, and the yield has been beyond the average this year. Carrots also reach a mammoth size, and some brought in Saturday were so large that three of them weighed five pounds and a half. Beets to the growing of which this soil is especially adapted, have been a bumper crop this year, and many hundred weight will be marketed. All kinds of root crops do well here, as this is an irrigated country, and the long drouth during the summer did not retard their growth.
