

Put Your Crops in the Bank

Summer time is the farmer's work time. He is gathering in what must keep him the whole year through. In order to tide him over the winter and spring, what he takes in now, must be stored some where.

Where can he store it better than in our bank? Not only is your money safe with us, but by keeping an account, you get acquainted with business principles and business men. Try it and see. We are always glad to see you at this bank.

Entered as second-class matter July 14, 1910 at the Postoffice at Redmond, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Redmond, Oregon, Oct. 20, 1910

The best way to manage a wife is to keep yourself always her lover.

Make yourself happy by seeing the best in people and things about you.

Half the things we groan over at night will right themselves by tomorrow night if let alone.

It is worth a thousand dollars a year to have the habit of looking on the bright side of things.

If your wife is the best woman in the world, tell her so; it will her keep young and lengthen her life.

If you have found some one who knows how to scratch your back just where it itches you have come pretty near finding your affinity.

Much more happiness is found in homes where the little courtesies of life are observed, for it is, after all, the little things that make our lives pleasant or unpleasant.

You don't have to go to war to be patriotic. Improve your locality, uphold your town, enlarge its interests, and lend a hand to progress, and you are a patriot—a lover of your country—as truly as the soldier who shoulders his musket.

Liberality never killed a town. Every public enterprise ought to receive substantial aid and encouragement. When you give a dollar toward improving the town, you do not throw away your money but simply make a good investment.

An advertisement is to a merchant very much what sowing seed is to a farmer. It may take a little time for the results to become apparent, but they are sure to come. The wise farmer is not niggardly with his seed, nor the wise merchant with his advertisement.

There are some people who do not talk about hard times, but go right ahead doing business and making themselves and others happy, just as though they were right in the swim and leading the way. Why not go right ahead without grumbling and do the best you can?

Never condemn your neighbor unheard, however many the accusations which may be preferred against him. Every story has two ways of being told and justice requires that you should hear the defense as well as the accusation. Remember that the malignity of enemies may place you in a similar predicament.

The father who is "chummy" with his boy gets down to that eager, inquiring, restless little soul and explains and encourages, and does not need to cut a birch gad in order to maintain discipline; and the mother who sympathizes, cuddles and plays with her children can keep her slippers on her feet and her hair brush on the dressing table. Children need love and sympathy as much as flowers need air and sunshine.

Spokesman for job printing.
