Got Socks for a Cigar

One of the quickest action deals ever made in Redmond was made Sunday between a couple of business men here. One man was wearing a loud pair of socks, and the other man said he would give him a cigar for the hosiery. "You're on," said the possessor of the socks, and he immediately took off the socks and made the other fellow put them on. The original owner of the socks went sockless until he could connect with another pair of hose, but he showed that he was game and wouldn't take a bluff.

NEW CREWS BEING PUT ON BY IRRIGATION CO.

Large Crew Is Working On Laterals and Ditches Near the City

A crew of men in charge of Claud McCauley was started out last Thursday by the Central Oregon Irrigation Co. to enlarge laterals and do necessary irrigation work two miles northwest of the city. This work will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

The Central Oregon Irrigation Co. is going right ahead as fast as possible with their irrigation work in the Redmond District, and it will take quite a force of men to get water on all the land the company has lately been selling, but the company states they will see that every man who buys a water right will have the goods delivered to him.

"HERE WITH THE GOODS"

"To be SILENT when you have knowledge to impart is a CRIME—like unto being GAR-RULOUS when you have nothing to say."

We have said a great deal about our various items in our previous issues, that it way be you are skeptical, (you have lots of company all over the country). Missouri is the greatest birth state in the Union. Missouri is a good state, and "Show me" is a good adage, but there are some better states, and a majority of people on the Pacific Slope believe that this is a better country than Missouri, so is the belief and knowledge that we are "there with the goods." Compare prices and quality, and if you are not in the satisfied class, advice us and the money you have paid will be refunded or full credit will be given if you have an account with us.

"TO SAY LESS WOULD BE USELESS. TO ASK MORE WOULD BE FOOLISH."

THEY MAKE REDMOND THEIR HEADQUARTERS

Autos Carry Many New- comers to Different Parts of County

Redmond is getting to be distributing point for people coming into this section of the county from Madras and Metolius, and nearly every day a number of autos can be seen on the corner of 6th and E streets. Redmond is headquarters for several auto companies and a stage and express line and people coming into the interior, after leaving the railroad at Madras, make a stop at Redmond to see that country and town they have heard so much about. Side trips are made from this place into the irrigated land district surrounding the town, and the newcomers are almost unanimously well pleased with the land and climate.

One day last week twelve autos were gathered on the corner of 6th and E streets waiting to take out passengers who had come in from the railroad, and it is a common occurrence to see six, eight and ten of the "gas wagons" on the above corner waiting to take prospective land buyers to different parts of the Redmond District.

Meeting of the Juniper Circle

On Wednesday of last week seventeen ladies of the Juniper Reading Circle enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. M. E. Landes at her attractive home west of the city. The rooms were appropriately decorated with juniper boughs in honor of the occasion, and each lady received a boutonniere of juniper tied with gold colored ribbon, the club colors. The subject for the afternoon's study was "The Work of Marcus Whitman," and Mrs. Tinsley read a very interesting paper on the subject. Vocal and instrumental music was furnished by Mrs. Hobbs and Mrs. Anderson. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess. The members of the club are very appreciative of the kindness of Mr. Kulesch in providing a conveyance to and from the home of Mrs. Landes.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. M. L. Tinsley on Wednesday, April 19.
