

W. S. Rodman, Pres. Joseph H. Jackson, Vice-Pres.
Roy A. Bush, Cashier

State Bank of Redmond

Without the element of chance, no progress could be made in any calling. The farmer would not put in crops for fear the elements and many other enemies of vegetation would destroy them. He would raise no stock because they might die. No one would travel by rail or water for fear of death or maiming by accident, and no one would enter business or manufacture, because loss often occurs; and yet all these chances are taken daily. Yet in the face of these facts thousands of people hoard their money and keep it out of use for fear the bank might "bust".

Those who pursue this policy are enemies of progress, of their neighbors and their country. They are not good citizens in the best sense of the word. Therefore be a gentleman, a good citizen, a progressive man and a public benefactor by coming to the STATE BANK OF REDMOND for all kinds of banking business and the best of treatment.

Eat

the best the market affords, which is your privilege, and which is always served at our place. Quick service and satisfactory prices at the

Oregon Cafe

GEO. L. WHEELER, Prop.

Hobb's Bakery

Now in complete running order and turning out High Grade Bread and all kinds of Bakery Goods, which are sold on a CASH basis.

12 Loaves of Bread for a Dollar
Fresh Doughnuts every Saturday

In connection with the bakery I carry a nice line of Staple and Fancy Groceries that I sell at moderate prices for CASH. Your patronage solicited.

CASH GROCERY AND BAKERY

WM. H. HOBBS, Proprietor

Headquarters for Good Things to Eat

South 6th St.

REDMOND

Subscribe for The Spokesman

$1.50 per year in advance

RAISING HOGS IN THIS SECTION

Cashier of Portland Bank Sees Wonderful Future for Central Oregon--He Admires the "Pull Together" Spirit

LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY IS BEING IMPROVED

He Predicts Central Oregon Will Become Famous as Hog Country

That central Oregon will soon become as famous for its hog raising, as it has been in the past for its cattle and sheep, is the opinion of F. A. Freeman, cashier of the Lumbermen's National bank of Portland, who recently made a trip into this section. Mr. Freeman is enthusiastic over the resources of the central Oregon empire, predicting rapid development of the country.

"There is a tendency towards revolution of the livestock industry," he said. "Instead of conducting it in the old way by using wide open ranges and driving the stock many miles to market, the business is being put on a modern and entirely different basis. Railroad shipping facilities now provided will make the industry even more substantial, and every influence is in favor of a greater livestock development. It means better livestock and greater profit.

"The great wealth of water available for irrigation as it is applied to the land increases the production of crops in a remarkable way. Much land which cannot be irrigated is being made highly profitable by dry farming methods and large areas are being broken to the plow. Alfalfa and wheat raised on irrigated lands and field peas and wheat on dry farming sections afford a great profit in hog raising.

"This industry is now being developed commercially and its possibilities are enormous. Hogs raised on alfalfa or field peas and hardened on wheat make a quality of pork second to none.

"One of the impressive things about the trip to central Oregon was the evidence of the cordial relations between the people and the transportation companies.

FATAL WRECK

Continued from first page

those badly scalded, rushed toward the Deschutes river, 200 feet away, screaming in agony. Fellow passengers, seeing that he intended to jump into the stream, hurried after the crazed man and pulled him out of the river just in time to save his life.

The 7-year old son of Louis Rising, who was killed instantly, was riding in the same seat with his father, but escaped unhurt. The boy does not know that his father is dead and that his mother will die. He is staying at the home of a physician in The Dalles.

(Additional and later news on page 3)

LAND BOARD PROMISES

Continued from 1st page

tion system as they viewed it, and the unfair manner in which the settlers had been treated on their contracts with the irrigation company for years up to the present time.

At the conclusion of the remarks by the settlers Governor West promised the aid of the land board in remedying the grievances complained of, and said the board would station a man permanently in this section to aid the water users in getting their rights. In his remarks the governor stated he thought the contracts made by the original irrigation company were fraudulent. He said the land board would go the limit and do what was right to aid the water users in getting what they were entitled to; that the board was going to help the settlers play the game square all down the line, and he did not want the settlers to imagine there was a barb wire fence between them and the board, but that the board was their friend and wanted to get in closer touch with them and help them in every possible way that was right. He also said he was of the opinion that it would be a good plan for the board to hold meetings here at least twice a year. He congratulated the people on the nerve they had displayed in making their complaints, and predicted that much benefit would result from the meeting. The governor wanted the people to suspend judgment on the board until they see what results have been obtained.

J. J. Ellinger thanked the governor for the friendly spirit he and the board had exhibited toward the settlers.

Mr. Ellinger asked if the board had decided on plans for the north canal, and the governor said he was of the opinion that the canal should be built at once.

State Treasurer Kay stated that he would do all in his power to see that the settlers get their rights.

Mr. Howard, manager of the irrigation company, said the company was not selling any land they could not furnish water to. He further stated that it was the intention to build the north canal this fall, and said the company would do everything to help the settlers and would put in systems this year so that all would get water.

The result of the meeting has brought the settlers and land board into closer touch and a more friendly feeling between them has been fostered.

Support the manufacturers of home first, last and all the time, and you will help yourself to prosperity. But if your local factories cannot supply your is reminding you again of the cool Porch Chairs, Hammocks, Camp Chairs, Folding Cots and Camp Supplies that add to the comfort of home and camp these days.

Hot Weather

Fly-tight screened Cupboards will keep fruit and meat cool and clean.

At the FURNITURE STORE

C. H. IRVIN

The House Furnisher

wants insist that the merchant carries "Made in Oregon" goods from other Oregon sources to supply your needs.

Dr. J. BARR DENTIST

Johnson Building
Redmond, - Oregon

McSherry's Feed Store

Jobbers of

FLOUR and FEED

Dray Line in Connection

G. A. McFarlane LAWYER

Practice in all courts and U. S. Land Office

Redmond, - Oregon

J. C. WILLIAMS Watchmaker and Jeweler

Postoffice Building
REDMOND, - OREGON

J. F. HOSCH, M. D. PHYSICIAN and SURGEON

Office in Redmond & Phoenix Building
Redmond, Ore.

F. H. RODEMEYER Physician and Surgeon

Eyes Tested. Glasses Properly Fitted
Office in Ehret Bros. block
Redmond, Oregon

BUCKLEY EXP CO.

Daily stages to and from all passenger trains on the Oregon Trunk Line and Deschutes R. R.

Madras, Metolius and Opal City

Passenger and Express

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION

Department of the Interior, U. S. Land Office at The Dalles, Ore. June 19, 1911.

Notice is hereby given that Fred R. Wilson, of Laidlaw, Oregon, who January 28th, 1910, made Homestead No. 05909, for NW 1/4, Section 32, Township 15 South, Range 12 East, Willamette Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make Final commutation to establish claim to the land above described, before H. C. Ellis, U. S. Commissioner at his office, at Redmond, on the 24th day of July, 1911. Claimant names as witnesses: James Breen of Bend, Ore.; Chauncey P. Becker, Grover G. King, David M. Siry, all of Laidlaw, Oregon.

C. W. Moore, Register
First publication June 15-July 15

ELLINGER'S ADDITION

The most desirable residence section in Redmond. Water now in the streets for irrigation. Lots are being sold fast. Better pick out a lot or two now---you'll never regret it. The soil is well adapted for gardens and lawns.

PRICES AND TERMS WILL SUIT YOU IN THIS DESIRABLE SECTION.

LET US SHOW YOU THIS PROPERTY

See any of our Selling Agents for further particulars