A HOT BLAZE LAST NIGHT

Matt Kulesch's Large Feed Barn and Blacksmith Shop Burned

LARGE AMOUNT OF DYNAMITE EXPLODES

Efficient Work of Volunteer Firemen Saves Ad- jacent Buildings

Last night at 10:15 fire broke out in the large feed barn on 7th between E and F streets, owned by Matt Kulesch, and in a short time the building and the blacksmith shop adjoining were burned to the ground.

For a time the large livery stable of Mr. Kulesch next to the blacksmith shop was also in danger of being burned down, but as there was no wind, the building was saved.

The fire broke out in a burst of flame in the upper part of the feed barn where the hay was stored, and in less than five minutes the whole building was enveloped in flames.

In the blacksmith shop a large quantity of dynamite caps were stored, and when the fire reached these there was a continuous explosion though no danger resulted.

S. R. Snider's restaurant and the Henry & McFee commissary building across the street had a narrow escape from burning, and were only saved by heroic work on the part of volunteer firemen.

This is the second and largest fire Redmond has had, and had there been any wind at the time the chances are that a large part of the business section of the city would have been burned down.

Mr. Kulesch had $2500 insurance on the burned building and contents.

The origin of the fire is not known. The chemical engine did good work in assisting in saving the livery stable.

RUSSIAN MILLET IS A GOOD GROWER HERE

T. E. Simpson's Millet Is 6 Feet High and Heads 8 Inches Long

T. E. Simpson who has a small ranch in the canyon on the west of the city, brought in some samples of Russian millet Monday raised on his place. The heads of the millet measured 8 inches in length, and the grass grew nearly 6 feet high. This is the first Russian millet to be grown in this section so far as known, and according to Mr. Simpson's samples an acre will yield 60,000 pounds. This crop was grown on the canyon land where the prediction had been made to Mr. Simpson that nothing would grow but which he has proven to the contrary.

Aside from raising the large crop of millet Mr. Simpson has this season grown sunflowers that measure 17 inches across the heads and grew to be 13 feet high. Rutabagas two feet in circumference and carrots six and a half inches in circumference were raised by him without any irrigation whatever and without hoeing during the season.

Some of these samples from Mr. Simpson's place will be shown in the exhibits on Railroad Day the 30th.

MASS MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

The Executive Committee of the Commercial Club has called a mass meeting for Friday night, Sept. 23d, to consider ways and means of securing a proper water supply for the city, and also for better fire protection. All are urged to attend.

CLEAN-UP DAY IS SATURDAY

The city council has designated Saturday, Sept. 23d as "Clean-Up" Day for the city, and all residents are ordered to clean up their premises so the city will present a neat appearance on Railroad Day.

and march south on 6th street to F street, thence west on F street to 7th street, thence north on 7th to C street, east on C street to 6th, south on 6th to D street, west on D street to the school house where the speaking will be held. Plenty of seats will be provided at the school house grounds for the assemblage.

Some of the features of the parade will be the Commercial Club float decorated with products of this section, a company of little girls dressed in white, and the Boy Scouts. It is expected that a large number of handsomely decorated automobiles will occupy a conspicuous place in the parade.

The full program will have been worked out in time for publication in the next issue of The Spokesman.

The reception committee of the day will meet the special trains from Portland when they arrive here the evening of the 29th, escort them uptown and present them with the freedom of the city.

The following committees have been appointed by President Brewer of the Commercial Club:

Reception—H. F. Jones, M. A. Lynch, G. W. Wells, F. M. White, J. F. Hosch, F. McCaffery, Col. W. A. Belcher, F. T. Red-

TRY to imagine your house belonging to someone else, and that you had come on a visit, and were "sizing it up". Would your impression of the owner be exactly what you hope your friends think of YOU?

This is a disquieting question to put to you—of course; but if it causes you to give some attention right now to the matter of how well your house represents YOU—then it is excusable.

We have Furniture to furnish your house with that will put it above criticism. Let us show you.
