The Spokesman wishes all its readers a Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

A small message can be told in a small space. A large store has a large message to tell.

Zumwalt & Miller who have been operating the Redmond Hotel Bar, last week sold out to Pickard & Wright of Metolius.

"A merchant who advertises only as much as he can AFFORD, soon finds himself unable to afford to advertise at all!"

D. L. Miller and Lee Zumwalt last week went to Blue and Turtle lakes on a hunting trip, and had very satisfactory success.

Patrons of the Redmond Public Library are urged to be careful with the books they take out and not soil or turn down the leaves to mark a place, as such treatment soon ruins a book.

J. C. Cotter, who is a track foreman for the Oregon Trunk railroad, recently arrived with his family and has begun keeping house. Mr. Cotter has section No. 22 out of this city.

The water users in this district will hold a meeting in this city on January 6th. It is urged that all the water users be present as important business will come before the meeting.

New calendars for 1912 have arrived for the business men here and are being distributed. W. H. Anderson and J. C. Williams have each very handy and handsome calendars and the demand for them was so great that the stock was soon exhausted.

The Redmond Concert Band is making preparations to make their holiday dances, Dec. 25th and Jan. 1st, the most popular event of the old year and the ushering in of the new. A number of invitations have been sent out to outside people.

Col. W. A. Belcher left yesterday for Portland to visit with his daughters and grand children during the holidays. The colonel has four grand children there, and they do not think the holidays can be celebrated rightly unless their grand father is with them.

Several farmers and ranchers from the Redmond District are in Salem today attending a meeting of the State Land Board to observe what action will be taken to compel the Central Oregon Irrigation Co., formerly the D. L. & P. Co., to fulfill their contracts entered into with the state for the reclamation of desert land in this section. It is expected that the land board will insist that the irrigation company at least furnish water for lands already sold, that carry a water right.

JUNIPER READING CIRCLE MEETING

The club spent an exceedingly pleasant and profitable afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hanks on Wednesday of last week.

"A survey of New Japan before the Chinese War," was the subject of the first paper. The writer, Mrs. Irvin, spoke of the power of foreign influence on Japan; the results of Christian missions, and the commercial and industrial progress of the nation.

The second paper of the afternoon was devoted to the Japanese war with China, and was given by Mrs. Rodman. She told of the causes of the war, Japan's preparation for it, the secrets of Japanese success and the effect of the war on foreign nations.

Following refreshments, which were served by the hostess, music was furnished by Mesdames Hobbs, Anderson and Irvin, which was received with much pleasure.

The club members expressed their appreciation of Mr. Rodman's kindness in conveying them to and from the club meeting in his automobile.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Herrick on December 27. The roll call will be responded to by quotations from the Bible.

A prosperous store makes the most of its advertising material—its service, its price-concessions, its exclusive stocks. A store that does not have plenty of advertising material will, of course, not do much advertising—nor much prospering.
