

REDMOND and VICINITY

GET YOUR COPY IN EARLY.

As The Spokesman since being burned out is being printed in Portland until the new plant is installed. It will be necessary for advertisers and others to get their copy into The Spokesman office by Sunday morning of each week. This is due to the fact that copy for the current week has to be sent out from here Sunday night in order to reach the Portland office in time for that week's issue. This condition will obtain only until The Spokesman plant is installed.

Mrs. G. F. Johnson, mother of Mrs. Ike Buckley of this city, left Monday for her home in Mountain Home, Idaho, after an extended visit here with her daughter.

Nelson Van Buskirk, of Cline Falls, has been seriously ill at his home with appendicitis.

S. H. Snyder, of Bend, was here last week looking for business for the insurance company he represents—the Horticultural Fire Relief, a mutual concern of Salem. The Spokesman had a $1100 policy in that company and received prompt returns after its recent fire.

The Redmond Concert Band livened up things to some extent last Thursday night by giving an open air concert in front of the Hotel Redmond.

News has been received here that C. W. Kemper, who left several months ago for West Virginia, is going to return to Redmond. They say there is no climate like the Central Oregon climate.

Metellus Oregonian: Mrs. J. R. Wright returned to Redmond the first of the week, after shipping her household goods to that place. Mr. and Mrs. Wright will reside at Redmond in the future, where Mr. Wright is engaged in the saloon business.

S. Sam Smith, of Prineville, was in Redmond last week looking over the democratic political situation in the interest of some of the democratic candidates.

The telephone situation, as far as the connection of the local exchange with the long distance line is concerned, has not materially changed. The long distance people have refused to connect with the local line, and subscribers who want to talk over the wire outside of the city and connections the Mutual line has, have to trot off to the long distance central, which is very inconvenient.

Strange how some business men will enter into a deal to keep up certain prices, and then immediately "break" their word. Still it is being done every day.

If you can save money on the thing you must buy today, why not look at the ads in The Spokesman? There are many money-saving chances there.

The stores here are advertising a fine line of millinery goods this spring. All the latest styles, etc., and dad will have to dig down in his jeans for that new Easter hat.

C. A. Parvin and wife, who arrived in Redmond some time ago with the intention of buying Ehret Bros. store, left last week after the deal was declared off by the Ehret Bros.

The Spokesman understands that former sheriff Frank Elkins is a candidate for nomination for sheriff at the primaries April 19th.

If every advertisement of a store makes known some items of real "Opportunity News" for shoppers, then every advertisement of that store gains new readers, new investigators, new patrons and friends for the store.

If you have not yet registered you had better do so without delay, as the time is short, and you cannot vote at the primaries or election unless you are registered. The registration books are at the law office of G. A. McFarlane.

Ed Erickson left several days ago for Sioux City, Iowa, where he will join the ball team with which he will play this summer. His team is in the Western League.

Postmaster Moore states that deposits at the postal savings bank, while not large, are coming in steadily.

Some of the Portland people who have been in Redmond since the first of the year, predict that in years to come this city will be a second Portland. The people in the Rose City, both business men and others, think this city has a great future before it.

The Ehret Bros. have been receiving congratulations from their numerous friends in Redmond and vicinity over the fact that they did not sell out to Parvin & Co., as has been reported.

Easter this year comes on April 7th, and the women folks, and some of the men, too, are planning for their new dresses and suits of clothes. The stores carrying millinery goods are doing a good business in anticipation of Easter day.

C. N. Ehret returned Saturday night from a trip to Portland, where he had gone to buy a new stock of spring and summer goods.
