TO ESTABLISH FIRE LIMITS

City Council Will Pass an Ordinance Prohibiting Construction of Frame Buildings Within Certain Limits of City.

At an adjourned regular meeting of the city council last Thursday night ordinance No. 24 was introduced and read for the first time.
This ordinance establishes a fire limit in the city, and restricts the kind of buildings to be built within that district. The limits are from C street to F street on Sixth street to the alleys between Fifth and Sixth and Sixth and Seventh streets.
The ordinance prescribes the kind of buildings that will have to be constructed within this area, and also restricts the addition to buildings already built, and repairs to same. After the ordinance goes into effect no building except constructed of stone, bricks or concrete will be allowed erected within the above limits.

All of the councilmen are in favor of the above ordinance and there is no question but what the same will be passed. With the above restrictions it will be only a short time before Redmond will become a well built city of stone or brick buildings.
The use of native stone has demonstrated that that class of building can be put up here at a slight cost over frame structures, and thereby materially afford good fire protection.

PAYETTE MEN TO WORK FOR US

Messrs. Mohler and Beckwith Made Recent Visit Here and Will Tell Idaho People of Advantages of This Section of State.

Redmond and the Redmond District will get some good advertising and publicity in the Idaho country around Payette when Albert Mohler and H. A. Beckwith return to Payette, where they now reside.

These two gentlemen were in Redmond last week and were much impressed with this section. Mr. Mohler has owned property in this section for some time, and every time he comes down into this part of the state he says the prospects look better. He eventually intends to sell out his interests in Idaho and locate in this part of Crook county.
This was Mr. Beckwith's first trip into Central Oregon, and he at once fell in love with Redmond and the fine irrigated land tributary to the city. He is an enthusiastic poultry raiser, and was much impressed with the fine strains of fowls he saw in this country. He intends to come back later and locate here.

Both of these gentlemen took back with them a lot of literature pertaining to this section, for distribution among the Idaho people, and stated they would try to induce people to come into the Redmond District and see what a prosperous and opportune making country this was.
Both Mr. Mohler and Mr. Beckwith subscribed for The Spokesman to keep in touch from week to week with what is doing here.

Mr. Mohler told The Spokesman that a number of Payette people were looking this way, and that some of them would be down here the coming season.

GRAPE CULTURE HERE IS SUCCESSFUL

Kirk Whited, who has some fine land in the Pleasant Ridge section south of the city, recently set out two acres with grape vines. This now gives him three acres of a vinyard, having put in one acre about two years ago. The varieties that Mr. Whited has set out are Moores Early, Concord, Worden and Niagara, and he states he has had good success with the first acre. Rabbits are the worst pest he has to contend with, but he hopes soon to exterminate them in his neighborhood.

CITY CAN GET 40,000 IRON MEN

Denver Bond Firm Willing to Accept $40,000 of Water Bonds of City for Putting in a System From the Deschutes River.

It now begins to look as if Redmond would have a modern water system in a short time. Causey & Co., the Denver bond firm that accepted the $27,000 bond issue voted some time ago by the city for construction of a water works plant, have signified their willingness to take bonds of the city up to $40,000.

By change in the plans of the water works it was found the cost of constructing the plant would exceed the $27,000 voted for the purpose, and the Portland contracting firm who had bid on the contract got in touch with the Denver firm, with the result mentioned above.

The final plans for the pipe line are not yet settled, but enough money will be available if the $40, 000 worth of bonds are sold to put the plant through and pay off the standing indebtedness of the city at present.

In order to issue the $40,000 of bonds the indebtedness limit in the city charter will have to be changed, and there is thought there will be no difficulty in making the change.

The Portland contractors have been notified to come here and look over the two proposed locations to the river for the pipe line, and new bids. City Engineer Woodward has all the data necessary for both lines, and it is expected the deal will shortly be closed and work begun as soon as the material can be assembled on the ground here.

ARBOR DAY IS FRIDAY, APR. 12

Superintendent of Public Instruction Sends Out a Suggested Program for Schools to Follow on Date Above Mentioned.

The second Friday in the afternoon in April of each year is, according to the statutes of Oregon, designated as Arbor Day, and must be observed in all the schools of the state in order to stimulate in the minds of the school children the benefits of the preservation and perpetuation of our forests, and the growing of timber.

State Supt. L. R. Alderman has sent out a suggested program for that day as follows to all schools: Ask your pupils to find out and report on the following topics for Arbor Day:

The trees on the farm.
What trees grow best in Oregon?
What different kinds of trees are growing in the neighborhood?
What kind of trees grow best in dry places and what in wet?
How many kinds of birds I have known to nest in the trees around here?
The birds that spend the winter in Oregon?

Tell all about the meadow lark and what it is good for.

The business of hawks and owls.
What do the game laws do for some birds?

What does the government do for birds in this State?
Topics for development for Arbor Day and all through the term: Forestry; civic improvement; schoolhouse renovation; school grounds; birds; flowers; agriculture.

HOTEL REDMOND PUTS UP FINE BILL OF FARE

The Hotel Redmond is making a specialty of Sunday dinners from 5:30 to 8 p. m., and a sample bill of fare is published in this issue.
There are all kinds of good things to eat marked up on the menu, and the person who could not satisfy their appetite there would be hard, indeed, to please. Landlord Jones has started out to make the Sunday dinner a regular affair, and states the cuisine will be kept up to the high standard put at the initial dinner, Sunday, April 7th.
