

DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR

More Than 1,375,000 Are In Use

The Best Investment Any Cow Owner Can Make

That's what nearly a million and a half of cow owners the world over have found the De Laval cream separator to be.

A De Laval farm separator costs from $35 to $160—according to capacity. It saves butter fat and produces a cream of superior quality over any setting system or any other separator every time it is used—twice a day—730 times a year.

It involves far less labor than any setting system, and runs easier, has greater capacity and lasts from two to ten times longer than any other separator.

That's how a De Laval separator saves at least its cost the first year, and frequently in a few months, and then goes right along saving your money year after year.

We have an arrangement whereby you can make a partial payment at time of purchase, and pay the balance on such liberal terms that your machine will more than save its cost while you are paying for it.

Easiest to turn, easiest to wash, skims the cleanest and lasts the longest Entered as second-class matter July 14, 1910, at the postoffice at Redmond, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1912

The province of a newspaper is to get all the advertising it can. If advertising cannot be gotten in one locality, other fields must be canvassed to get the business. The columns of The Spokesman are open for advertising for any reputable business concern any where.

The Spokesman is in touch with a number of different business enterprises that desire to locate here.

Strange how much more interested some people are in other people's affairs than they are in their own.

When a new comer sees the soil and crops around here it does not take any talking to sell the land—the land sells itself.

Times may be a little dull at present in this section, but wait until the big crop of potatoes, hay, etc. is harvested, and the gold dollars will then begin to roll in.

The 101 Ranch Wild West show will give Redmond some good advertising on the outside, as being a live town, and the Redmond District the garden spot of Central Oregon.

The ladies at the Hotel Sisters got an unexpected bath last night and they surely needed it.—Sisters Herald.

Wonder how the Herald editor knew the ladies needed a bath.

The Bend Bulletin is going to get out a 40 page Industrial Edition of the paper for July 4. Those are the kind of newspaper stunts that advertise a city and community well.

We would suggest to the school board that it would be a good idea to hire some one to remove the small piece of rag, once an American flag, that is on the school house flag pole. It is a disgrace to have such a thing flying on the school building.

Is any move being made to provide ware house facilities to care for the big crop of potatoes that will be harvested here this fall? If not, it is time the matter was given immediate attention. The potato crop is an item that cannot be overlooked. Now is the time to get busy and do something.

There seemed to be plenty of eatables for all who attended the Wild West show here last Thursday. Ample preparation had been made to care for the large crowd that was expected, and the result showed that Redmond can properly care for any large assemblage that may convene here.

The wise business man advertises all the more when times are dull. When times are good and money is plenty he has less need of publicity. But the short sighted man, as soon as trade begins to fall off, starts to cut off his advertising, practically letting the people think he has gone out of business and is not seeking their trade. It is the persistent, stick to it advertiser who wins out in the end.

Redmond received a whole lot of good advertising by having the circus here. It showed beyond a doubt that Redmond was certainly the "Hub" of Central Oregon. Show managers are wise men, and in selecting Redmond as the place for showing they knew what they were doing, and their expectations were fully realized as far as Redmond being the center of population was concerned.

DON'T COMPARE WITH OUR CROP

IOWA'S BANNER CROP GROWING COUNTY FALLS SHORT OF THIS

J. A. Willcox handed in the following crop statistics taken from the auditor's office of O'Brien county, in Iowa, the banner crop growing county of the state, and the same is published to show what a vast difference there is in the crops there and what is grown in this section. The same kind of crops in this section would beat the Iowa crop by at least 100 per cent.

The auditor's office is in possession of the crop statistics for the year 1911 and they make a rather poor showing for small grains. Sixty acres of pop corn went 21 bushels per acre; 102,544 acres corn went 34 bushels per acre; 76,700 acres of oats went 16 1/2 bushels per acre; 9,439 acres of barley went 12 bushels per acre; 22,134 acres of tame hay went 43 of a ton per acre; 9,323 acres wild hay went .83 of a ton per acre; 1763 acres of timothy produced 1 1/2 bushels seed per acre; 15 acres of clover produced 1 2-3 bushels per acre; 303 acres of apple trees produced 40 bushels per acre; 256,656 head of poultry produced an average of 3 dozen eggs per bird for the year. The average wages of farm hands was $10.17 a month for summer and $19.66 for winter service. Only 25 acres of alfalfa is reported and it produced 27 tons of hay.
