may be a Democratic senator from the state elected as a colleague of Sena tor Bristow.

In Tennessee the legislature will be Democratic, as it will in probably all of the southern states, thus insuring a solid delegation of United States senators to assist in carrying through the Wilson ideas.

Democrats Add to Strength in House The next house of representatives will be overwhelmingly Democratic. Early returns indicated there would be 277 Democrats, 148 Republicans and ten of other parties, mostly Progressives, in the new lower congressional body.

This would mean a Democratic majority of 119 votes over all opposing party strength.

There is nothing uncertain about the next house of representatives. All the southern states have accorded their usual quota of Democratic members, whereas the Wilson landslide in various eastern and northern sections will add to the former majority of the party.

It looks as if Indiana will send a solid Democratic delegation to the lower body.
