Free Fruit Land at Paisley

Don't be afraid of U.S. Government Carey Act Irrigation projects in Oregon. The day of irresponsible irrigation companies in this state is past. When the Northwest Townsite Co. of Philadelphia took over the Paisley Project, in Lake county, it gave the largest bond ever given in the state-$50,000guaranteeing completion of the project. Every three months it makes an itemized statement of expenses to the Desert Land Board. All of its advertising books, maps, contracts, subscription agreements and literature is submitted to the Desert Land Board for inspection before being issued.

The land is level, free from rock, and is a rich volcanic ash soil. The climate is perfect for fruit, which now grows to perfection at Paisley-apples, peaches, plums, pears, prunes.

Construction work upon the dam and reservoir has now been in progress for three months, with Thomas Hawthorn, state inspector, on the ground. He was formerly with the U.S. Govt. Reclamation Service on the Umatilla Project.

Send for 32-page illustrated book. Go to Paisley by automobile stage from Bend and see the land. Our agent at Paisley, Hugh K. Gilmour, will show you the land. It is free to those who pay the cost of putting water on it.

Northwest Townsite Co. are among the largest taxpayers in Oregon, owning townsite sub-divisions at Prineville, Madras, Redmond, Bend, Burns, Vale and also the 840-acre Conn Ranch at Paisley, including a 50-barrel-a-day capacity flour mill, and a general store.

"What's that? Died a millionaire. did he?

The maid's reply was crushing: "No; he was accidentally drowned

Why He Was Brusque,

When Daniel Webster was secretary of state he visited England, and while in London the American minister took run. Out of town orders must be of Redmond and the Deschutes valof the and his reception Belcher, being the father of the distinguished American was exceedtown, and who laid out the townsite. Ingly brusque and indifferent. The Mr. Jones has also been identified minister was naturally very much with the city government since its mortified, and, asking Webster to ex organization, being a member of the cuse him a moment, he drew Lord Brongham aside, when the following whispered conversation ensued: "My lord, do you know who Mr. Webster is? He is secretary of state "Why didn't you say so?" was the "I thought he was that con reply. R. C. Immele is also one of the founded fellow who made the diction ie. Eiffel Tower's Changes

That the Effei tower moves daily vertically and horizontally has long been beyond doubt. It may be seen in a gale swaying from side to side. M. Guillaume has been investigating these movements and has given the results in a paper read before the Academy of Science. He finds that the great iron structure may vary from two to three centimeters in height every day. The elevation and depression are not equally distributed, as only one of its sides may be affected by the rise or fall of the temperature, and thus the tower may be compared to a person shifting his weight alternately from one foot to another. If a cloud covers the tower and hides the sun the temperature falls a few degrees and the tower diminishes, and when the sun shines again it rapidly rises a centimeter or two. But the bolts holding the frame together are affected only to an infinitesimal degree. Therefore there is no danger of any violent dislocation .-Exchange.

The Dog's Day.

Luckily for the human race, though styles come and go, mankind itself never goes out of fashion. Dogs are not so lucky. Every age has its prefer ence for a particular breed of canine beauty. The greyhound, with his light, sketchy outlines, was in high favor during the reign of Louis XL, and the Great Dane, that had previously been the fashion, declined into a period of "nobody loves me." Danes became scarce and greybounds plenty. But under Louis XV the Dane "came back" and multiplied again. The king's dog wore a collar of gold set with diamonds Following this, the Scotch terrier had his turn. Then the greybound came back in favor. Charles VIII., Henry IV. and Louis XIII. loved their dogs so well that the dogs slept in the royal bedrooms .- New York Mail.

Highest and Lowest State,

Almost everybody knows which is the smallest and which is the largest state in the Union, but how many know which is the lowest and which is the highest? According to the measurements and calculations made by the United States geological survey. Delaware is the lowest state, its elevation above sea level averaging only sixty feet. Colorado is the highest, av eraging 6.800 feet above the sea, while Wyoming is a close second, only 100 feet lower than Colorado In minimum elevation Florida and Louisiana dispute second place after Delaware, their sverage elevation being, for each, 100 feet. Taking the United States as a whole, our country lies slightly above the average elevation of the land of the globe .- New York Press

Hopi Indian Debutantes.

Among the Hopi girls of marriageable age signify their willingness for matrimony by doing their bair up in whorls, one over each ear. In the symbolism of the tribe these whorls represent the blossoms of the squash vine These whoris are taken down at marriage, and thereafter the matron wears her hair in two rolls, one hanging down each side of her face. These rolls are said to represent the fruit of the squash.-Christian Herald.
