

Home Industry

Hams, Bacon, Lard,
Buy from the man
who buys from you

MOTTO:

"Help Those Who Help You."

Redmond Market

J. B. ROE, Proprietor

Central Oregon Garage

—NOW HAS—

Presto-Lite Gas Tanks

STYLE B, $25.00 EXCHANGE, $2.75

CLEAN GAS, NO CLOGGED PIPES AS WITH CARBIDE GENERATORS.

TURN ON THE GAS WITH A KEY AND PRESTO-LITE, CLEAN GAS.

ALSO GASOLINE, SUNDRIES, DIAMOND TIRES.

HESS & REEDY, Prop'rs. Phone 704

A. E. WYATT'S Pool and Billiard Hall

The most complete place of its kind in Central Oregon.

Every attention for the comfort of our patrons.

FINE LINE OF CIGARS, TOBACCOS, ETC.

Buckley Express Co

DRAYING AND
HEAVY HAULING

City Express Called for and Delivered

Furniture

See me before you place your furniture orders. I have a complete stock

C. H. IRVIN, Furniture & Undertaking

The Spokesman

Keeps you posted on news matters all the time

OREGON CITY WOMEN SPURN CHANCE TO GET ONE OF SEX AS MAYOR

An Oregon City dispatch dated the 30th of Nov. says:

Those who are favoring the candidacy of Mrs. Kate Newton for the mayoralty race in Oregon City received a slight jolt yesterday afternoon when about 40 well known women of Oregon City gathered at the Presbyterian church and went on record as opposed to Mrs. Newton's aspirations.

In endorsing Lynn E. Jones for the office of mayor, the women argued that it was not the proper time to place the affairs of Oregon City in the hands of a woman, on the ground that the newly conferred citizens had not as yet had enough time to acquaint themselves with the political situation. Mrs. N. M. Alldredge, a well known resident, presided.

The women were the same ones, for the most part, who a week ago met to learn the ins and outs of election procedure, and to discuss the various measures to which they will have a voice in the municipal election next Monday. In the meeting they devoted a large part of the afternoon to formulating a clear cut attitude against the saloon interests.

GOLD STRIKE NEAR MALHEUR CITY IS EXCITING MINERS

A report comes from Vale that mining men are becoming greatly interested in a new strike made about 10 days ago by F. L. Johnson on the property of the Drexel Mining company, one-fourth mile from Malheur City, in the extreme northern part of Malheur county, 50 miles north of Vale. A dozen creditable witnesses attest to the fact that apparently almost free milling gold ore, found in an andesite formation at a depth of 20 feet, will run from $300 to $400 to the ton. The vein in which it lies is said to be 20 feet wide, though its extent at present is unknown. Malheur City, as a result, is fast becoming a tent city, and every day sees a few more mining men and prospectors going in and staking out claims.

F. E. Johnesse, mining engineer of Boise, Idaho, formerly for 3 years milling engineer for the department of the interior, returned recently to Boise after an extensive survey of the district, during which he made a personal inspection of the Johnson prospect and other adjacent properties, besides obtaining ore samples from the famous Rainbow mine, six miles away in the Mormon basin, for which the United States Smelting Co. of Salt Lake City paid $750,000 two years ago.

"It is an exceedingly good prospect," Johnesse said. "Johnson is down 20 feet and hasn't done any crosscutting to speak of, but is already in an andesite formation which yields apparently mostly free milling ore worth between $300 and $400 per ton. I judge this high grade vein is 20 feet wide, but can't say how far it extends. The balance of the ore is low grade, from $3 to $15 per ton, but all fairly good."

Vale People Excited
"The formation appears to be regular, and the mine promises to develop into a large property. I believe also that by systematic prospecting, other adjacent properties will show equally as well, though of course no one can say definitely how far pay ore will extend."

"I told Johnson in Boise last spring that the property he was then working on was not the best he had, and advised him at that time to cut into his present location. This he did not do until in November, however, but when he set to work on the rich ledge he uncovered the ore in a distance of just three feet."

After Dave Worsham, an oldtimer of Malheur county, returned from Boise several days ago, claim owners of the camp, at first, noncommunicative, began to talk. The secret, if such it might be termed, was too big to keep.

George S. Mills of Vale, who visited the camp recently, returned to Vale with cheeks aglow after his 50-mile ride in the cold, and mind agog with the possibilities of the Malheur district. He reports that F. L. Johnson took out a piece of rock weighing 75 pounds which bears streaks of gold plainly visible to the eye. This chunk is now on exhibition in the store at Malheur City.

Many Leases Made

George H. Bodfish has sold his mill on the Red, White and Blue claim to Dr. S. D. Taylor and others of Vale, in bond for $25,000, the initial payment of $2500 being made last week.

F. L. Johnson has made three leases across his Drexel claim, each 200 feet long by 600 feet wide, to C. H. Morritt, store keeper at Malheur City, and two to the Humboldt Mining Co. and associates of Mormon basin.

Claude Worsham, a Vale man, 19 days ago staked out vacant ground adjoining the latest strike, and six days later bonded the property to Baker parties for $100,000.

Ice of Palermo.

If you wish to realize what devotion to ice means you should go to Palermo. All over the south of Italy ices are eaten to an extent of which we do not dream, but in Sicily and Palermo in particular the custom has attained amazing proportions. Ices are eaten by people of all ranks and ages from morning to night. Where a true Briton would demand a glass of beer the Palearian asks for an ice. Morning, noon and night the consumption of ices goes on. They are in wonderful variety and cheap. The stranger in that beautiful country finds the cafes invaded between 4 and 5 by ice eaters. He sees officers and men of the army, merchants and work people, the rich and the poor of both sexes consuming ices with gusto. No one evades this pleasant duty. Lines of carriages draw up at the side of the pavement before the cafes, the occupants, the coachman and the footman all with their favorite delicacy. At first the stranger wonders, then he falls a victim.—London Chronicle.

Answering the Critics.

Some members of the congregation of the late Dr. Joseph Brown of Glasgow objected to his frequent absence from home and complained of it—some of them to him personally and more of them behind his back. When he thought he had heard enough of it he addressed his congregation one Sunday thus:

"With regard to objection concerning my absence, I have to say, first, when I am out of the pulpit I am usually in some other body's pulpit. When you are not in your own pew, are you in some other body's pew? Second, when I am out of my pulpit I put some other body into it. When you are out of your pew, do you put some other body into it? Third, when I am out of my pulpit I sometimes get better men than myself to fill it, and you have a chance of hearing the leading preachers in the church, and sometimes I get worse men than myself to fill it, and the chance of hearing them ought to make you thankful for your mercies."

Why is a Pergola?

An interesting question is raised by a writer on gardens in the Atlantic Monthly. Why should so many American gardens have that queer, irrelevant, useless thing called a "pergola"? Generally it is built in a spot where shade is called for, but the pergola, having no roof, affords no shade. It is really a trellis and is borrowed from countries where it is used to support grapevines, but American grapevines are kept pruned back to mere stumps, and the pergola, as affected by our suburbanites, is of no use at all as a grape trellis. What is its use we have never been able to find out. Perhaps some one knows. As one generally sees it, the pergola is a sprawling, extremely naked object, suggesting a shed which has had its roof blown off by a gale or a henroost that has been deserted by the hens because it is no good. Can it be that it is regarded by some people as ornamental?

Preparing for the Wedding.

There was to be a wedding in eastern Kentucky. Many of the mountaineers would be there. Early in the morning of the nuptial day Bud Hightower was noticed sitting an old No. 12 shoe with slugs and nails and plaster of paris.

"Wot you doin', Bud?" drawled Sim Bessley.

"Kant' you see wot I'm doin'?" I'm makin' moonshine sperrits out o' cheese sculpin's."

Sim chuckled.

"Gettin' good an' ready fr' th' weddin', I reckon."

"I reckon."

"Goin' to throw it at th' bridegroom, maybe?"

"Goin' to throw it at him, maybe, but it ain't goin' to hit him. It's goin' to break th' face o' Snipe Tolliver an' do it accidental too. I been layin' fr' that ther Snipe fr' a right smart spell."

And he drove an extra railway spike in the hardening mass.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Business Instinct.

"A strange kind of thrift was brought to light when I advertised a ring that I had found," a woman said. "Among the communications I received was a letter from a woman who frankly admitted that she had not lost a ring."

"But I want to buy one," she said. "If the one you found is not claimed by the owner and if you do not wish to keep it I will pay according to value and assume all responsibility."

"The ring was not claimed, and I invited my correspondent to call. She bought it at a price that was cheap for her and magnificent for me."

"I get half the really nice things I have by answering lost and found advertisements," she said. "Many persons holding unclaimed articles prefer the money to the goods and let them go at bargain prices advantageous to both."—New York Times.

Spokesman Classified ads bring results—try them—don't cost much

Holiday Presents

We desire to call your attention to our fine line of
COMMUNITY SILVER

we have that will make useful and acceptable Holiday Presents. We have a good line to select from and prices have been placed very moderate on these goods.

We also have a nice new line of

TOILET AND MANICURE SETS
CARVING SETS, BRASS GOODS,
KNIVES AND TOOLS

and many other articles to select from that will make presents.

We invite an inspection of our stock, feeling assured we can please you and save you money.

KENDALL & CHAPMAN

REDMOND, OREGON

GOLDEN GATE CEMENT

Building Paper
Deadening Paper
Genasco Roofing
Paroid Roofing
Tar Paper
Roofing Paint

Lumber Sash Doors
R. I. C. Immele

SEND IN YOUR CROP REPORTS---DO IT NOW

Nothing speaks better for Redmond and the agricultural district in this section of Central Oregon than the reports of actual crop production. The Spokesman is anxious to secure these reports from all localities, and therefore requests every farmer to clip out and mail the form below.

If there are any additional comments on crop conditions you wish to make, write on a separate sheet of paper and enclose with the report.

No. of Acres	Kind of Crop	Yield per Acre
.....	Wheat	.....
.....	Barley	.....
.....	Rye	.....
.....	Oats	.....
.....	Alfalfa	.....
.....	Timothy Hay	.....
.....	Millet	.....
.....	Potatoes, variety	.....
.....	Onions, variety	.....
.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....
.....	.....	.....

Signed .....

P. O. Address .....