

Free Fruit Land at Paisley

Don't be afraid of U. S. Government Carey Act Irrigation projects in Oregon. The day of irresponsible irrigation companies in this state is past. When the Northwest Townsite Co. of Philadelphia took over the Paisley Project, in Lake county, it gave the largest bond ever given in the state—$50,000—guaranteeing completion of the project. Every three months it makes an itemized statement of expenses to the Desert Land Board. All of its advertising books, maps, contracts, subscription agreements and literature is submitted to the Desert Land Board for inspection before being issued.

The land is level, free from rock, and is a rich volcanic ash soil. The climate is perfect for fruit, which now grows to perfection at Paisley—apples, peaches, plums, pears, prunes.

Construction work upon the dam and reservoir has now been in progress for three months, with Thomas Hawthorn, state inspector, on the ground. He was formerly with the U. S. Govt. Reclamation Service on the Umatilla Project.

Send for 32-page illustrated book. Go to Paisley by automobile stage from Bend and see the land. Our agent at Paisley, Hugh K. Gilmour, will show you the land. It is free to those who pay the cost of putting water on it.

Northwest Townsite Co. are among the largest taxpayers in Oregon, owning townsite sub-divisions at Prineville, Madras, Redmond, Bend, Burns, Vale and also the 840-acre Conn Ranch at Paisley, including a 50-barrel-a-day capacity flour mill, and a general store.

POWELL BUTTE

December 17.

Mrs. George Kissler and children returned home Sunday from a weeks visit in Redmond, the guest of Mrs. Frank Kissler.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edwards visited at Redmond on Saturday.

Allen Wilcox returned home Friday from Prineville where he served on the jury the past week.

Leland Casey and mother transacted business with Redmond merchants last Thursday.

Geo. Beckman lost a valuable Jersey cow last week from the effects of potato blight. That a cow would die from the effects of overeating potatoes was an unheard of thing in this section until recently. However, this makes the second loss that can be traced to that cause with in a short time and farmers are fast learning that they must guard the potato pits.

Geo. Morgan is building a bungalow on his farm on the upper Buttes.

N. P. Alley is doing the carpenter work on the new barn being built by John Skein.

Geo. L. Brazee returned Sunday from the mills above Bend where he went for lumber.

Sam Vaughn is at the A. H. Rohde place with his sheep for the winter. Lumber has been hauled and distributed at the numerous ditch crossings in this section where work will be started on bridges in the near future. This is certainly the best piece of road news we have heard recently. However, Geo. Beckman, the new road supervisor, assures us we are to have considerable work done on our roads this winter.

A singing school has been organized by our music friends, and will be held Sunday evenings at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Galbraith.

Business looked rushing for Alva Elliott last Friday morning. When going to attend his traps he discovered he had caught two large coyotes. This is some trapping for a school boy.

Mrs. E. A. Bussett and family moved to Prineville last week where they will live for the remainder of the winter while the young folks attend the excellent schools of that city. Mr. Bussett will remain on the farm for awhile, or until the new owners become accustomed to the run of things.

John Tengman and Frank Bayn last week loaded a car of wheat for shipment to Bend.

Miss Gladys Bayn visited in Prineville Monday.

Teacher and pupils of the Shepherd school will give a Christmas program Friday afternoon. All patrons of the school are invited.

Messrs. Fry and Hanks of Redmond, were in this vicinity Monday contracting with the farmers for work to be done later with their gasoline wood and grain chopper which they intend bringing over in a short time. These men will doubtless find plenty of work out here, especially in the wood sawing line.

as they would be safe in offering a thousand dollar reward for information leading to the whereabouts of any man in the Powell Butte district who cheerfully performs the necessary amount of labor required to change a juniper log into stove lengths of wood.

appointment by a vote of 4 to 2. Those voting against the appointment were Bush, Phoenix, Anderson and Ehret. Those voting for the appointment were Lynch and Wells.

When the mayor presented the name of Mr. Roberts, Mr. Bush said he thought the city money should be deposited in the Redmond State bank (of which he is cashier) that the Redmond Bank of Commerce, the present depository for city money, had had the deposits of city money long enough, and he moved that C. H. Irvin be appointed city treasurer in place of Mr. Slocum, resigned. Mayor Hosch did not recognize Mr. Bush's motion as it was considered out of order.

G. M. Slocum is, according to the opinion of the city attorney, still city treasurer and will so remain until his successor is elected and qualified.

A Good Reason.

Two Irishmen were digging a sewer. One of them was a big, strong man about six feet four inches in height, and the other one was a little, puny man about four feet six inches. The foreman came along to see how the work was progressing and noticed that one of them was doing more work than the other. "Look here," he cried, "how is it that little Dennis Dugan, who is only half your size, is doing nearly twice as much work as you, Patrick?" Glancing down to his partner, Pat replied: "And why shouldn't he? Ain't he nearer to it?"

Double Meaning.

"Umbrellas Recovered," was a sign that attracted our attention the other day, but only for a minute. We shook our heads sadly and walked on. It would take a whole galaxy of clairvoyants and a large squad of detectives to get back a few of our lost ones.—Boston News Letter.

Hope He Can't.

"I don't like that new neighbor of yours," said the grocer.

"Why not?" asked the old time customer.

"He always seems surprised when I tell him I can change a ten dollar bill."—Detroit Free Press.
