Was Good Sleighting—

For the first time this winter sleighing was good in Redmond this week. The ground had frozen and light snowfalls and rains had put a good slippery surface on the roads. Some of the sleigh and cutter owners had their rigs out.

Improving Hotel Redmond—

Landlord H. F. Jones of the Hotel Redmond, is making a very decided improvement in the dining room of the house. The side walls of the room are being finished in oak and white enamel effect, which will present an attractive appearance. Geo. Kohl, the painter and decorator, is doing the work.

Will Be Retired—

A. A. Morse, special representative of the traffic department of the Harriman lines, will be retired from his office on account of the age limit. Mr. Morse is 70 years old and has been with the Harriman people for 25 years, which entitles him to retire on a pension. His many friends in Redmond and vicinity will miss him and his usual customary cheery greeting.

Lights Are Bad—

Some complaints have been made that in certain sections of the business district the electric lights furnished by the new system are not giving as much satisfaction as under the old system. The lights in The Spokesman office are almost worse than none at all, and the same conditions obtains in other stores and business places.

Tax Is Still in Force—

It was hoped by a majority of the business men of the city that with the coming of a new year the burden of the city occupation tax that has been paid by certain classes of business since the incorporation of the city, would be done away with. But the tax is still in force. It is an unjust tax, for the reason that it does not tax all classes of business and professions, but specializes.

May Establish New Industry—

F. A. Polke was in from his farm north of the city last Thursday, and in talking over the potato crop last year said he raised an average of 100 bushels of potatoes to the acre on dry land. Mr. Polke is thinking of going into the commercial chicken hatching business on a large scale this year.

Good Man for Town—

J. B. Roe, the meat market man, is a man who helps the territory in which he is located. He buys all his cattle and other stock from the stock men around here and thus keeps the money in the home section.

Walker Is Justice—

PLEASED WITH POULTRY SHOW

H. H. Keck Has Nothing But Words of Commendation

Since being invited to judge Barred Rocks and Rhode Island Red class of chickens at your poultry show I care to say that I was agreeably surprised at the showing made, and the pens would take a place in any show of birds, not only in Oregon, but in the states at large. Your Barred Rock class was good, your Rhode Island Reds class better. More stress should be directed in the interest of turkeys, geese, pigeons, etc. In conclusion I would advise that an admission be charged at the next annual show, as this show has certainly merited an admission fee, and the next show will, of course, be much larger than this one.

H. H. KECK.

The thrifty German proprietor of a circulating library charged for wear and tear. One volume came back to his scrutiny. "See here," he exclaimed, "there is a hole on page 19 of my beautiful book. And see here" he went on, turning over the leaf, "there's another on page 20."
