BACHELORS WIN BALL GAME FROM MARRIED MEN 12 TO 3

The base ball game pulled off last Friday afternoon between the Married Men and Single Men teams was a very one-sided affair, and did not come up to expectations of the fans here who had seen games between the same nines before. The games last year were close and the runs kept down to a reasonable number. This Friday game was too one-sided to be interesting, the score being 12 to 3 in favor of the Men.

A feature of the game was in the fourth inning, while the Married Men made all of their runs in the fourth inning, while the Single Men kept gathering in runs in every inning except in the seventh and eighth.

The attendance at the game was fairly good, and the rooting seemed to be mainly for the Married Men. It is expected a return game will be played before long, when the Married Men will tighten up their team and make a desperate struggle to pull down a game from their opponents.

THE GAME IN DETAIL

First Inning
 Married Men, Erickson in the box. Fleming first up and went out on liner to first, Marlon fanned, Moore hit to third and caught at first. No runs.
 Single Men, Adams pitching. Jess Tetherow first at bat and hit to left field; Fleming was walked and Tetherow stole second and third. Marlon flew out to short; Bozell flew out at first, and Tetherow fanned and Fleming got to third; Adams flew out to right and Fleming fanned; Walker hit between the bases and first and was tagged by Adams.

ANOTHER SLAP AT REDMOND

PRINCIPAL AND TEACHERS OF REDMOND PUBLIC SCHOOLS ARE INSULTED BY A VISITOR TO REDMOND LAST WEEK

(Communicated)
 Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, state president of the W. C. T. U., at the M. E. church here last Thursday afternoon lauded Governor West as being "raised up by God" for a great reform movement. After a prayer by the woman, in which she petitioned for courage to be engaged in

ASKS JUDGE SPRINGER TO EXPLAIN ABOUT REPORT

Sisters Herald: There is a report going over the county that Judge Springer appropriated for his own use 200 sacks of cement, or thereabouts, belonging to the Oregon Trunk railroad. The report goes further and states that the railroad sent in a detective and traced the loss to the judge and gave him 48 hours to pay for the same or be arrested. The editor does not believe the above story, but as the judge has been in print lately, saying he is willing at all times to inform the

BROKEN CONTRACT IS CHARGE Irrigation Company to Explain Why Central Ditch Not Enlarged

A Salem dispatch of April 22 says: That the Central Oregon Irrigation Co. will be compelled to show cause within the next 15 days why it should not fulfill the provisions of its contract relative to the enlargement of the Central Oregon ditch, and why the bond of $25,000 given to ensure the enlargement of that ditch should not be foreclosed, was the substance of an order made by the Desert Land Board today.

In addition the company is called upon to make a financial statement as to how its money was expended during 1912.

a battle which was the Lord's, and that we must submit ourselves into His hands and co-operate to accomplish His purpose, she said in her address:

"I am wondering what work the women here of the W. C. T. U. are planning to do in this town? We ought to be concerned to know the duties relative to the dark moral problem. We must use our ballot to solve this problem, and you ought to take immediate action to educate women voters, get them into line before they ignorantly drift into the two old political parties. Now is the golden opportunity. The W. C. T. U. literature is very educative, but be sure you receive it in your post-office boxes. The Bend postmaster left a bundle of W. C. T. U. literature undistributed, giving the whole parcel to one person.

"At the regular meetings of the W. C. T. U. the following topics should be studied: Election Laws on Corrupt Practice, Widows's Pensions and Minimum Wages. Governor West has studied the Constitution

SCHOOL PLAY DRAWS WELL

PACKED HOUSE GREET'S HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS AT THEIR ENTERTAINMENT LAST FRIDAY NIGHT—GOOD SHOW GIVEN

The entertainment given at the Sparks Theater last Friday night by pupils of the Redmond High School was greeted with a packed house, and the different numbers on the program were well rendered, several of them being encored. The entertainment was an agreeable surprise to the audience for they did not expect to be so well entertained.

The music by the High School orchestra was good, much appreciated and helped out the program. The hit of the evening was little Marjorie Brewer in a blackface sketch. Her monologue, and singing of "Kentucky Babe" brought down the house.

Golden and Fleming in negro comedy was a clever stunt, and they worked off a lot of local gags that pleased the audience immensely.

Bessie Harader's rendition of the reading of "The Light From Over the Range" was a finished piece of elocution, and received a hearty encore.

Laura Jones' singing of "Sing Me to Sleep" was much appreciated by the audience and she was compelled to respond to an encore, when she sang "Take Me to Dreamland."

Evelyn Smith and Mildred Whitney played a piano duet which received a good "hand," and they responded with a second selection.

COLUMBIA SOUTHERN PROJECT GETS TIME

TWO YEARS' EXTENSION HAS BEEN GRANTED BY THE STATE WATER BOARD

The State Water Board at a meeting held at Salem last Friday gave the Columbia Southern irrigating project an extension of two years in which to complete its water rights. While the project was in private hands an extension until October 1, 1913, was granted, and it now has until October 1, 1915. Preparations are being made by the state to reclaim the lands in this project, $450,000 having been appropriated for the purpose by the Legislature, and it is estimated that it will take at least two years for the state to build and complete its ditches.

The board also issued an order defining the completed water rights on Squaw Creek, and is ready to prepare findings with relation to the water rights on the North Powder River, and Crooked River.

SINNOTT TRIES TO FIND WHY ENTRIES REFUSED

Representative Sinnott recently visited the forest service at Washington to ask why homestead entries had been refused on the Deschutes reserve in Crook county and the Innaha reserve in Wallowa county. The service alleges the lands are either forest or rocky and non-agricultural. A promise was made to Sinnott that a man would be sent to investigate the character of the land.

Nothing pleases some people, but they get a kind of satisfaction out of knocking.

ARE INCREASING HOG DROVES

HOG INDUSTRY IN THIS SECTION IS GETTING MUCH ATTENTION AND HOGS BRING TOP PRICES IN PORTLAND MARKET

Farmers and ranchers in this section are going more and more into dairying and hog raising and increasing their herds and droves. There is now in the territory tributary to Redmond some of the best thoroughbred dairy cattle to be found in the state. It is the aim of the dairymen to weed out all their scrub stock and get the best breeds. Calves from some of the stock here have been sent back to Iowa and Indiana, and always command good prices. Where only two years ago the dairy stock in the Redmond District could easily be summed up and was of inferior grade, now nearly every farmer has a good sized herd and is continually adding more.

The hog industry has also received much attention the past year and nearly all the farmers have found out that the hog is indeed a "mortgage raiser." A recent shipment of hogs from this section commanded the top market price at the Portland stock yards. The Duroc Red is getting a good hold here, and some of the farmers raise no other kind. In the Powell Butte section, a few miles east of here, can be found large droves of hogs. The people there have come to the conclusion that raising hogs, with potatoes to fatten them on, is the solution of the way to dispose of their potatoes

ANNOUNCEMENT

This paper will run a series of articles the coming year in this space, one each week, designed to bring the merchant and the newspaper into closer touch with each other, and with the definite purpose of presenting veritable facts prepared for the merchant who wants a better business. These articles are being prepared under copyright by one who has for many years made a close study of advertising from the standpoint of the direct benefits to the merchant. The articles will analyse step by step the great problem of advertising a business.

Some of the subjects to be discussed are: Business boomers, kinds of advertising, best advertising, cheapest advertising, why advertise at all, how local merchants can kill mail order business, relation of newspaper advertising to other advertising, relation of newspaper to advertiser, relation of newspaper to public, relation of advertiser to progress of the town, relation of advertising and salesmanship, selecting advertising medium, requisites of good ads, difference in good and bad ads, difference in good and bad advertisers, the power in an ad, value of season advertising, value of display advertising, value of illustrated advertising, honest ads and honest goods, descriptions in ads, etc., etc. These and other subjects will be handled in logical order. Later the articles will take up each individual kind of business and show what advertising will do for that business.

Keep your eye on this space and you will get something good, short and "hot off the griddle" each week.
