$1.50 PER YEAR

A HEAVY CALENDAR AT THIS TERM OF THE CIRCUIT COURT

Prineville Journal: District court met at Prineville last Tuesday. This was the first meeting under the new law. According to the statutes the district court should meet the first Monday in September, the first Monday in December and the second Monday in March. In case of a legal holiday falling on Monday, the day following is the court day. This year Monday was Labor Day and so court did not convene until Tuesday. Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Wirtz has quite a long list of criminal cases and other matters to be brought to the attention of the grand jury.

John McPherson, charged with the larceny of a mare and colt belonging to George Millican, will be retried at this term on the old indictment. At the May term the jury hung 11 to 1 for conviction. After being out all night Judge Bradshaw discharged them.

George Kentner, who was acquitted of horse stealing at the May term, will be tried next week on another indictment. He was implicated with W. L. and V. M. Robertson in the three carloads of stolen horses shipped from Bend to Tappanish, Wn.

Emmett Holman and Jack Seeley will be tried on a charge of selling liquors to minors, namely, Charles Stevenson, Orrin Jones and Gilbert Simpson. Seeley is out on his own recognizance and Holman is under $150 bonds. The witnesses were placed under $75 bonds to appear when wanted.

Bert Brown and Charles Thompson, accused of the larceny of a team from J. E. Morson of La Pine, will have to face the grand jury. These are the boys from the valley that got tired of walking and wanted to get back home in an earlier way. Brown and Thompson are the only boarders at the county jail.

Winfield Griffin of Bend, will be tried on a charge of attempted rape. He is out on $500 bonds.

Camillo Del Mastro of Bend, is accused of the crime of adultery. He is under $140 cash bail to appear at this term of court.

J. N. Quinberg of Sisters, is accused of obstructing an adjudicated ditch on the Squaw creek irrigation system.

Thomas Ewing of Hampton Butte, is charged with malicious injury to an animal. He shot a steer that broke into his pasture. He is under $250 bonds to appear for trial.

Tom Sly of La Pine, accused of breaking into homestead cabins, will have to dance on the legal carpet if Sheriff Elkins can get his hands on him. Tom took leg bail for it some time ago and has not been heard from since.

An investigation into the cause and responsibility for the fire on Willow creek last month will be made by the grand jury. Some 50,000 feet of timber was burned. It isn't so much the financial loss involved in this case as the carelessness in burning up trash and neglecting to see that the fire was properly extinguished. The law is severe in cases of this kind. The maximum penalty is $1,000 fine or one year in jail or both. You must not set out fire between June 1 and October 1 without a permit from the fire warden.

INQUIRIES ARE MADE ABOUT OUR LANDS

REAL ESTATE MEN AND OTHERS DAILY RECEIVING LETTERS FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS OF THE UNITED STATES REQUESTING INFORMATION ABOUT THE REDMOND DISTRICT—ASK FOR LITERATURE REGARDING THIS SECTION

Every day real estate men and different business men here are receiving letters from people all over the United States asking for information about the Redmond district. The extensive advertising this section of the county has received by the railroads and the Redmond Commercial Club in the Middle West, East and South, is bringing results. The creditable exhibits the Redmond district has had on the demonstration trains the Great Northern Railway has sent all over the country is another factor that has been the means of drawing attention this way. The showing made at the different land shows held in all parts of the United States, wherein this section was well represented, has been another means of turning the eyes of the land seeker this way.

Our root crop exhibits, grains and grasses have excited wonder and surprise wherever seen, and the person looking for a new agricultural location has been favorably impressed with the possibilities of the irrigated section of which the Redmond district is the center.

These people who have heard about Central Oregon, and Redmond in particular, are anxious for all the information they can get, and hence the numerous inquiries for literature about this section.

In order to keep in touch with these prospective settlers and satisfy their thirst for knowledge about this part of Central Oregon, D. C. Freeman, advertising and publicity agent of the Oregon Trunk Railway, is contemplating the issue of four booklets a year dealing almost exclusively with this part of Central Oregon. In this way he figures the information seeker and the land seeker will be better posted and kept in better touch with Central Oregon sections than if only one booklet was issued

Real Estate Loans

THE REDMOND BANK OF COMMERCE is prepared to make the best terms on long time REAL ESTATE LOANS that have been made in this territory.

The bank has gone to much expense to interest capital in the Central Oregon District and feel very much gratified at the results obtained.

Through their efforts the rate of interest that formerly maintained here has been materially reduced and the true value of lands made known to those who have money to invest in mortgages.

Before negotiating a loan it would be well to call and talk the matter over with the officers of the bank.

THE ADS THAT PAY

Ads that are effective are the ads that are simple and filled with common sense. The common sense of the advertiser comes into play in the preparation of every ad, and the more ads he prepares the more experienced he becomes. It is the experienced advertiser after all who appreciates the value of newspaper advertising, knows how to advertise, and writes the ads that count.

If a merchant is going to advertise, there are but three things for him to put into his ads—name the article for sale, tell why the article is good to have, and then say that he sells it.

An ad should catch the eye of the reader. This can be done by so preparing the ad as to have it easily distinguished from other ads in the paper. It is up to the advertiser or merchant to lay out his ads and then he puts his own taste and ideas into his ads. By continually studying this phase of his advertising and putting his best ideas into practice he will find that his ads will grow in attractiveness.

Ads must interest by appealing to the intelligence of the people. For instance, let us illustrate a good way to advertise soap. To make the soap ad interesting and convey information we might show the value of cleanliness, use and misuse of soap, value of this particular kind of soap, how it is made and the ingredients it contains, and wherein it excels other kinds of soap. In this way we secure the attention and interest, and if the soap can stand the test the ad will be convincing.

The attractive, interesting and convincing ads are the ones that sell the goods. They are the telling ads and those that pay.

THE SPOKESMAN CAN HELP YOU WITH YOUR ADVERTISING TO GET RESULTS. LET US DEMONSTRATE.

KIRK WHITED HAS GOOD SUCCESS WITH APPLES

OTHER KINDS OF FRUIT ALSO DO WELL ON HIS FARMS SOUTHWEST OF THE CITY—FINE SPECIMENS OF APPLES THIS YEAR.

Kirk Whited, who has farms southwest of Redmond, and one of the best growing orchards in the Redmond district, was in town last Saturday and brought some Duchess apples to The Spokesman office that were as nice apples as could be grown in any section of the United States.

The apples were grown on six-year-old trees that have been bearing for three years, and Mr. Whited said the trees this year were loaded down with fruit. Last year the trees bore equally as well. Mr. Whited has other varieties of apples in his orchard, but he says the Duchess are the best growers he has had experience with. His orchard is on a slope and fully protected from early and late frosts, and all the large and small fruits do well. Aside from growing apples Mr. Whited has several varieties of grapes that are bearing and doing well.

In conversation with Mr. Whited he said that it was a mistaken idea to think that fruits would not grow in this section—that all they needed was intelligent care, the right location of trees and bushes and the selection of the right kind of varieties.

It is understood that Guy Syford has traded his Tacoma property for the Anderson ranch, southwest of the city, and moved on to his property Monday with his two sons.

WARM WEATHER HELP TO GROWING CROPS

THE RECENT CONTINUED SPELL OF EXTREME WARM WEATHER IN THIS SECTION BROUGHT THE ALFALFA CROP ALONG AT A RAPID RATE

Not for many years has this section of Central Oregon experienced such a continued spell of hot weather as prevailed during the month of August. In former years one or two extreme hot days were the limit, and then the weather would turn normal again, but this year August brought forth two weeks of continual hot weather that was a surprise to the old timers who have been in this section for the past eight or ten years.

While the hot weather was uncomfortable in one way, it was very comfortable in another, in that it assured a bumper crop of all kinds of field grains and made the alfalfa fairly jump out of the ground and brought a happy smile to the face of the farmer.

Farmers who are in a position to know state that this section will raise three good crops of alfalfa this year, and that the large acreage that was sown to this crop this season has had the best kind of a start.

Root crops have also been benefited by the hot weather, and the potato crop promises to be large.

Oats and wheat will give a large yield. In some fields the oats measure six feet high, with good heads. Wheat, while not so tall, will be well headed out and yield good returns.

Taken all around, the warm weather of August is just what this
