IS GRIEVED AT STATE'S WASTE

published on deckled-edged parchment bound in a "luscious red, scarlet suede and altogether stunning in physique," were telegraphed from Oregon. These chapters deal with the currency question now before Congress and Mr. Lawson ordered the preparation of this work, at the cost of more than $10,000 for 1,000 copies because he had learned that "the devil was afoot in the currency bill."

Mr. Lawson mentioned that he knew a number of young fellows, heirs to "small fortunes" of from $5,000,000 to $20,000,000 or so, who were ashamed of the manner in which their dads had accumulated the wealth and who desired to come to Oregon to make more money in a manner that would reflect glory instead of doubt on the family escutcheon.

Son of the House (to caller)—I wanted to see you 'cos father says you made yourself.
 Caller—Yes, my lad, and I'm proud of it.
 Son of the House—B-ut why did you do it like that?

MONEY IS NO OBJECT TO THOMAS LAWSON

HAS PLENTY OF IT TO GRATIFY HIS DESIRES

Breaks Oregon's Express Bill Record
 —Pays $974 for Use of Saddle Mare

Tom Lawson doesn't care for expenses; he has plenty of 'em, says the Portland Telegram of October 4.

For example, he has just shipped from Portland to Boston a beautiful little saddle mare by express, the charge for the journey being $487. The mare was brought out here originally from the Lawson stable of thoroughbreds at "Dreamworld," the Lawson estate just outside of Beantown, so that the round trip for the exquisite little pure-blooded animal cost the millionaire a neat little sum of $974.

The mare is the property of Miss Lawson, the magnate's daughter, and she had it brought out here for her own personal use and for the pleasure of her chum, Miss Jean Morrison, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Morrison of this city.

This express bill is by far the largest charge of that kind ever paid for a single animal in the history of Oregon and is nearly seven times the cost of a first-class passenger ticket from Portland to the "Hub," the fare from here to Boston being $77.15.

The Lawson party, which has been in Portland and Oregon for several weeks, broke up this morning when Mrs. Henry McCall and Miss Lawson, the magnate's daughters, started for Boston at 10 o'clock. Mr. Lawson and his son-in-law, Henry McCall, took the same train, but dropped off at Deschutes Junction and went in to Prineville, where McCall owns a large ranch. It is understood that Mr. Lawson will remain in the interior for a short time before returning to New England. He is working on a new hobby of his intensified agricultural development, which he has promised to "spring" on Oregon in the near future.

AMERICAN APPLE CROP IS 54,000,000 BOXES of them.

In cars the apple crop of the United States this season would reach a distance of over 852 miles. This does not include locomotives and cabooses which must go with each train. As a rule American fruit trains haul perhaps 20 cars each, therefore, the line of cars running on regular train schedule and operating with the usual amount would reach several times across the United States.

The entire crop of apples this year shows better quality than usual and there are indications that there will not be a sufficient amount to feed the public's wants notwithstanding the huge quantity that has been grown.

Many of the leading states of the country have already declared for apple day. The governor of every state in the Union will be asked to set aside Tuesday, November 18, as "Apple Day," solely in the interest of health.

During the week that apple day will be celebrated the National Apple Show will be held at Spokane, when the best product of the American hemisphere will be placed on public view. At the same time there will be a celebration at Washington, D. C., when the American Pomological Society, the Society for Horticultural Science, the Eastern Fruit-growers' Association and the Northern Nut Growers' Association will hold their meetings. Washington, D. C., will celebrate an entire week, from November 17 to 22, as "Fruit Week."

WANT POTATOES FROM HERE

Railroad People Will Buy 500 Sacks at 75c

Manager C. H. Miller of the Redmond Union Warehouse Company, has received an order from the Oregon Trunk Railway for 500 sacks of potatoes from this section for use in their dining cars, hotels, boarding houses, construction camps and other places on their lines. The company offers 75 cents per 100 pounds, and the potatoes will be taken in quantities of 10 to 20 sacks, according to the amount that can be used.

Mr. Miller states that if the farmers will co-operate with the warehouse people in this matter they can hold the railroad trade in vegetables that the company buys during the season. He figures that the vegetable product from 150 acres can be sold to the Oregon Trunk road the coming season by co-operation between the farmers and the warehouse. This is a matter that should appeal to the farmers, not only at the present, but for future sales of their product.

Another reason why a girl cannot eat as many strawberries as a man can is because he is looking.
