

Your Attention Is Called to the Standard Types of Efficient Silos

Plans for which have just been perfected by our Engineering Department, and, together with specifications, are given FREE with the bill of material.

While the handling, storage and keeping characteristics of these SILOS are about on a par, yet individual preferences as to construction requires a choice, which is offered in the following list:

- TUM-A-LUM A Silo—Plaster inside.
- TUM-A-LUM B Silo—"Wisconsin" type wooden lining inside.
- TUM-A-LUM C Silo—Ceiled vertically inside.
- TUM-A-LUM D Silo—2x4 Staves.
- TUM-A-LUM E Silo—Flooring and Batten Hoops.

These are all designed for regular stock lumber and can therefore be purchased at much less cost than the patent Silos of equal capacity.

TUM-A-LUM M Silo—Concrete.
 AGENTS FOR "CROWN" SILO—
 BEST OF PATENTED SILOS.

RECALLS HAVE BEEN CALLED OFF NOW

SHERIFF, ASSESSOR AND COMMISSIONERS SAFE

Commissioner Brown Explains That He Has Been a Resident of County for Years

Madras Pioneer, April 9: We understand that the matter of the recall of four of the county officers has been dropped for the present, that of Sheriff Elkins, Assessor Foster, and Commissioners Brown and Bayley.

W. H. Lucy was in Madras a few days since with a petition which he was circulating to the effect that Commissioner Brown was not a legal resident of the county, as he had been maintaining his residence in Wasco county. This petition was to be presented to County Attorney Wirtz, asking him to file a suit against Mr. Brown to vacate his office. This, it is understood, is to be done today.

The writer had a talk with Mr. Brown on this subject and this is the way Mr. Brown states it: That he has owned this property in The Dalles something like 15 years, and to better rent the place, a couple of years ago he built a new house; that sometimes during the winter months, the same as when his children were small, his wife would spend some time there, but that their residence has always been maintained in Crook county. While he may have a considerable interest in Wasco county, yet his real home and a majority of his interests are in Crook county; that he has always voted in Crook county, most of the time in the Cross Keys precinct.

SELLING ALFALFA HAY WILL DEplete THE SOIL

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., March 24.—The farmer who sells alfalfa hay from irrigated lands gets for it just one half the actual value of the fertility elements that it contains, according to investigations carried on by Prof. Scudder, agronomist at the Oregon Agricultural College. The hay ordinarily brings about $6 a ton in the field, while the value of the nitrogen, phosphorus and potash that it contains is worth at present prices $11.95.

"It is thus seen," says Mr. Scudder, "that the common practice of selling alfalfa and clover hay from irrigated fields is ruinous from the standpoint of fertility. Altho the wonderful plants manufacture about one half of the nitrogen content from the air, this supply is needed to maintain the nitrogen fertility of the soil.

"Alfalfa and clover are raw products which the cows and pigs convert into finished form, leaving valuable by-products to enrich the soil. A good grade cow will produce 300 pounds of butter fat a year, which is worth $100. She also yields 7000 pounds of skim milk, which is worth $25, and 16 tons of manure worth about $27. As in some other cases, the by-products are nearly as valuable, if rightly utilized, as the primary product itself. This is especially true on sandy, irrigated lands, since these soils are deficient in humus and nitrogen."

Forest Service to Plant a Number of Pine Trees

A Shipment of 2300 Yellow and Scotch Pines for the Burned District West of Metolius River

The Sisters Herald of last week says: A shipment of 2300 trees is due to arrive in Sisters the last of this week. They are being shipped here by the forest service for use in their reforestation experiment work. The trees, which are Yellow and Scotch pine, will be taken to the burned district west of the head of the Metolius river where they will be planted and protected, in order to give them a fair chance and determine whether reforestation will be a success. The work of planting will be done under the direction of H. E. Vincent, who will spend next week in the task. Reforestation has been under way by the forest service for a number of years, the result so far being favorable for success.
