FREAK LAWS INJURE THE LABORER

Editorial by C. G. Le Masters in the Amity Standard, May 29: There was a time when it was necessary for legislation in favor of the working class and against capital. That necessity was met and its requirements accomplished. In doing this, the pendulum of legislative activity has swung back the opposite way so far that such legislation is now a hindrance to the legitimate investment of capital in good enterprises. This action is just such as is always experienced. A wrong arises, the people are aroused and spurred on by their enthusiasm they go to extremes, thus causing another wrong to be perpetrated instead of correcting the evil. A few years ago the hue and cry that the American workman was downtrodden and oppressed found a ready response in every heart because such was the case. But times and conditions have changed until now the workman in most instances has the best of it. Many enterprises are being forced out of existence simply because legislation that might well be termed freak legislation has been enacted that has made it impossible for employers to meet the demands made upon them by the laws of the land. This condition is now beginning to be felt in a determined way to the employer as well as the employee for the reason that whenever conditions are not such that business can be conducted at a reasonable profit it will stop, and without an employer there cannot be an employee. So it is like killing the goose that lays the golden egg to legislate in such a manner that capital will not invest in enterprises. Prest. Wm. Sproule of the Southern Pacific Co., in an interview to the press the other day said on this subject: "There are no hopes of a betterment of business conditions unless public opinion completely changes. My hope and belief is that the growth of this country, backed by a sense of fair play, possessed by the American people whenever they are awake to the situation, will suffice to overcome the mistakes and interferences that hinder not only our business, but nearly all kinds of busi in this country. We need to open the factories and the mills and get the people back to work. We should stop the foolish theory that prosperous business is somehow pernicious to the state. It is a childish fallacy that is dragging us into hard times."

but there is no younger and more promising land to which he may migrate. Losing gradually the advantages that our position and resources have given us up to a recent date, nothing but deeper wisdom and a keener sense of justice toward all factors that must unite to create national prosperity can keep us at the front or even insure us against disorder and economic distress at home."

POWELL BUTTE

Mrs. E. A. Bussett and daughter Fay spent the week end with Mrs. Morse, being present at the joint meeting of the ladies' clubs of Powell Butte and Prineville. Miss Gladys Bayn has remained in Prineville to take charge of the W. F. King office during the absence of the regular bookkeeper. Clark Morse took in the commencement exercises and Alumni dance in Prineville this week. Ralph Jones was one of the violinists in the commencement orchestra which furnished the commencement music for the Crook County High School. Miss Edna Morse is attending Summer Normal in Prineville this week, preparatory to the teachers' examinations next week. John Luckey and family visited at the Rice home last Sunday. Earl Laughlin and Robert Lister of Paulina, ran out in the Laughlin auto to take Clark Morse to the Alumni dance Thursday evening. All of the Powell Butte young people who have been attending the C. C. H. S. have returned home for vacation with the exception of Hazel Bayn, who remains for the Summer school. While on his way to the Cline Falls plant Sunday morning, Chas. He had nearly 100 signers and quite a bit of territory yet to be covered. Miss Ada Sears visited her sister Miss Orsa at Prineville last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bussett and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bussett, and Mrs. Brown and family took dinner in Redmond Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Young, the occasion being in honor of the birthdays of Mrs. Brown and little Thelma Young. Last Saturday Mrs. Ida Morse and daughter entertained the Shumia Club of Prineville, and the Sorosis Club of Powell Butte at Homestead Acres. Although the weather was stormy both clubs were well represented. The rooms were decorated with the colors of the two clubs, the color plan being carried out with crepe paper and wild flowers and carnations, which the officers of the Sorosis obtained for the occasion. During the afternoon the ladies edited the issue of June 5, 1914 of the "Truth-teller," setting forth many astonishing and interesting facts which will occur in the next 10 years. After the reading of the paper Mrs. Allen Wilcoxon presided at the piano, while the hostesses, assisted by Miss Allen, served a light lunch. At 5:30 the guests departed, the members of both clubs enthusiastically declaring themselves in favor of more joint meetings.

HILL FEARS INDUSTRIAL PARENSIS

James J. Hill discussing "The Future of Our Foreign Trade" at the National Foreign Trade convention in Washington intimated the United States might be in danger of running into such widespread industrial distress as England now found itself "from attempting to hold markets against competitors while maintaining a wage scale that does not permit her to meet their prices and does not offer to capital an inducement to new fields of development."

He compared the per capita value of foreign trade of the United States $41, to Germany's $67, and of the United Kingdom's $125. He said Germany is constantly contemplating English markets because of the inability of the English manufacturer to change his working conditions in conformity to general conditions. The United States was following England's example. "The power of the English trades unions became practically arbitrary in fixing wages, hours, and general working conditions. Germany found that with a more advantageous wage scale she could go into the world's markets with prices which England could not meet. Hence the enormous growth of German exports. Hence a competition which the United States itself cannot meet in many lines, and which it could not meet at all did not natural resources, and, in certain lines of manufacture the use of highly skilled labor and highly complicated machines give us a temporary advantage. "But this advantage, like every other exceptional local condition in the world trade, tends to be equalized and disappears. "Just such mistakes as Great Britain has made and is making may confront the American workman, with a lost job and empty cupboard,
