Redmond and Vicinity

With three towns in the county holding 4th of July celebrations—Bend, Prineville and Sisters—the people of Redmond will have plenty of places to go. This year Redmond will not celebrate, but will let the other towns in the county entertain the crowds.

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. E. Abbey. About 30 adults and 18 children were present and enjoyed a chicken pie dinner.

Prineville is advertising largely for her three-day celebration for the 4th of July. Bend is offering attractions for Independence Day and Sisters wants the people to come over there and have a good time. You can take your choice of the three towns and have a good time in any one of them, but better still, take all three in.

Redmond enjoys the distinction of having one of the best book and job pressmen in the state—C. L. Blair, a former employee of some of the best print shops in Portland. His work is of the highest class.

I have bought out the Wm. G. Phoenix rental agency in Redmond, and parties having houses to rent or wanting to rent houses should see me. W. H. Smith. 491f

A. G. Allingham last Thursday "hitched up" his auto and made a trip over to the Black Butte ranch to see friends there.

Local Ford owners are sailing around the streets enjoying their new road smoothers, which were put on by Perry Reedy.

Frank Bodyfelt, who is ranching over in the Sisters country, was in town last week renewing acquaintance with his many friends.

Jack Delaney, who won the world's championship for life playing from Paddy Nolan at the Johnson-Jeffries fight at Reno, was in the city the forepart of the week.

The farmers in this section are congratulating themselves on the fine growing weather that prevails now. Some of the farmers have not yet put in their spuds, claiming that the season is still long enough for them to grow and mature. George Hobbs, the well known Powell Butte potato grower, expects to plant about next week.

The annual Children's Day exercises will be held at 11 a. m., Sunday, June 21, at the Redmond Presbyterian church. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rodman left early last Saturday morning for Medford, where Mr. Rodman, who is cashier of the State Bank of Redmond, will attend the Bankers' Convention being held in that city this week. They went by the Crater Lake route and expect to return by the McKenzie trail.

Last week a deal was closed whereby W. H. Anderson and Z. Tallaferro will take possession of the store on the corner of E and 6th streets, formerly occupied by Freeberg Bros. The above named gentlemen intend to put in a stock of general merchandise.

J. E. Freeberg left the first of the week for Sarles, N. D., where he expects to engage in the general merchandise business. He has been conducting his business here for the past two years under the name of Freeberg Bros.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wilson sailed last week for Valdez, Alaska, after a visit with friends in the State of Washington. Mr. Wilson is one of the largest property owners in the City of Redmond, and has great faith in the future prosperity of the city.

M. C. Conlon left Monday for Lewiston, Idaho, on a business trip. It is possible that he may bring back some fine registered stock with him.

W. L. Perry is expecting to go into the squab raising business on a large scale. He has already made arrangements to ship to Portland, Tacoma and Seattle markets. His intentions are to raise about 2,000 birds before he begins shipping.

W. H. Hobbs has had a concrete sidewalk built around his new residence on the corner of C and Eighth streets. This is the first residence concrete sidewalk to be built in the city. The business district is all provided with 10-foot concrete walks—the first city in Central Oregon to put this kind of walks in.

I. W. Gray had some Illinois parties here last week looking over the Oregon-Western Colonization Company's lands. These gentlemen are well pleased with the country and expect to return with their families this fall. Mr. Gray is in correspondence with a number of people who are favorably impressed with the possibilities of this country.

Mrs. I. W. Gray arrived here last Saturday night to join her husband, who is local agent for the Oregon-Western Colonization Company. She was accompanied by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. S. Gray of Cheyenne, Wyo., who will make an indefinite visit. Mr. and Mrs. Gray are house-keeping in the McCaffery residence on the corner of 5th and F streets, recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Freeberg.

Madras Pioneer: I. W. Gray, formerly of Wheatland, Wyo., and now connected with the Oregon-Washington Colonization Company, with headquarters at Redmond, was a caller in Madras the early part of the week, looking after his interests in this section. Mr. Gray is one of the selling agents of the company, and as much of the land can be easily improved, many new settlers are expected to be brought in during the next season.

WHITE ROCK

While White Rock on the Deschutes river has been known for many years as a watering place for the ranger with his stock, and has served as one of the best fishing spots in Crook county, it has been only recently that the district surrounding this well known place has become a strong factor with the older communities near Redmond.

Those interested in the development of this country have seen many changes in the White Rock district, but the community at large has now come to realize that through co-operation greater progress can be made.

Four weeks ago the people in this district were called together for a meeting by A. E. Lovett, county agriculturist. This meeting was held at the home of O. E. Anderson.

The success of that meeting was realized and a date set for a second meeting, which was held at the home of L. W. MacFarland on Saturday, June 13. At this meeting a club was organized under the name of the "White Rock Improvement Club," and officers elected.

Questions of road improvements were taken up and members appointed to make arrangements for these improvements. The first Thursday in October of each year has been chosen as "Good Roads Day" for the entire section.

Guy E. Dobson of the Redmond

Bank of Commerce, spoke at the last meeting and gave a number of helpful suggestions which were appreciated.

Great things are expected and the club trusts that they shall have the co-operation of all in this new work and particularly the Redmond Commercial Club.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of L. E. Brandenburg Saturday evening, June 27, and at least several representatives from Redmond should be at this meeting. Let "a word to the wise" be sufficient in this case.
