Supervisor Buckley has about finished up road building at the O'Neill hill and is somewhat proud of the result. The Terrebonne connection from the Eby place has also been put in shape until there is little more road building to do in this vicinity and the people can view our road situation with satisfaction. We have the best road system of any locality in Oregon and we are proud of it.

This great religious and family journal closes its forms on Wednesday afternoon of each week, barring accident, so that even a little want ad should be in by Wednesday noon. Thursday is make-up and press day, when the linotype is seldom fired up.

A letter from Robert Smith, the Sisters merchant, and owner of Razzle Patch, discusses the Redmond proposal to do something for the harness horse. He is enthusiastic in the matter and suggests that he can be drawn upon at any time to assist in the movement and further, that a general meeting should be called and horsemen of Prineville, Bend, Sisters and other towns be given notice in order that they may attend. His idea is a good one and will be acted upon in due time and Mr. Smith and all other horsemen can rest assured that Redmond will do the right thing and appreciate the
