The Redmond Flour Mill is being shaped up in readiness for the coming crop and will be in charge of a miller of many years experience, who will grind everything from flour to the coarser feed stuffs.
F. G. Cutlip, an auctioneer, resident of the Cloverdale section, was a business caller at the Spokesman office on Saturday. He is going to hold a sale on the 20th that will be worth attending. See adv.
J. W. Wright's advertised sale for yesterday was almost a failure for want of bidders and the sale was called off. People are too busy haying to attend sales unless time and place are entirely favorable.
Clatskanie will rent its jail, which has not been occupied for more than a year. Redmond is in about the same class. It must be two years or more since our city jail has had an occupant and many have forgotten that the city possesses so valuable an asset.
The Water Users' Association of the C. O. I. project held a business meeting at Bend recently, and Secretary W. W. Howard tendered his resignation. Miss Ida C. Young was elected to the position. J. Alton Thompson was elected a director in place of L. E. Smith.

"The Red Circle," shown at Hobbs' Theater still holds the center of attraction. It runs two nights per week, but now the second nights, in their eagerness to see it develop, are always on hand the first night. With each additional section the play develops and holds the attention as nothing ever shown here before has done. It is in a class by itself.
Beginning at midnight, July 4, the booths for registration at the Colville reservation were opened for business and the big rush, as is usual in such cases, began in earnest and will remain open at several places until the 22d. Chas. L. Mead and George H. Ehlers of this place were among the first to register. It is expected that fully 100,000 people will register.
The marriage of J. B. Kennedy and Dr. Ida Behrendt, the well known optician, whose home is at Baker, occurred here on Wednesday evening, July 5, at the parlors of the Hotel Oregon. Mr. Kennedy is well known as a former managing foreman of large stock ranches in the Paulina section for the past eight years and Mrs. Kennedy has been a regular visitor here for several years. Both have many friends who will extend congratulations.
Considering that it was practically unadvertised, the concert entertainment at the gymnasium last evening for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of a piano for the M. E. church, was well attended. The program was an attractive one and every number pleased the audience immensely. The concert portion was along new lines for this town and made a decided hit, which was voiced by the uproarious applause. In vocal and instrumental solos the Redmond ladies always excel, as among them are many singers of far more than ordinary ability.

J. Humpfeld of Portland was in this city Tuesday of this week.

headquarters on Saturday.
Columbia river Indians are quoted as predicting but 17 days of warm weather for the present season and as there have been but few days so far that fill the bill, people are beginning to wonder if poor Lo may not be in a class of his own as a weather prophet.
M. Zaslaw, the Sisters merchant, was here on business on Saturday.
John Gotter and George Tyrus were Cloverdale visitors in town Tuesday.
Redmond patronized Prineville's Chautauqua quite liberally on Saturday evening.
Miss Gladys Smith of Metolius spent Thursday and Saturday visiting friends in this city.
On Sunday B. A. Kendall and family and Judge Wilcox and son started in their autos for a trip through California. They will be gone for a month or more.
W. C. Wilkes, assistant general freight and passenger agent of the Oregon Trunk and allied lines, was looking over the field here with Joe Hardy on Tuesday. They are delighted with prospects all along the line.
County Agent Lovett, accompanied by an expert in the person of Zack Tallafarro, answered a hurried call to investigate an outbreak of rabies in the vicinity of Grange Hall, east of Bend. They found conditions serious but could do nothing beyond making suggestions. Care should be exercised in every rural community as the same trouble menaces all. It is the unexpected which happens.
Universal regret is expressed that County Agent Lovett has found it to his interest to sever his relations with the people here for a broader and more lucrative field. Mr. Lovett has been of incalculable benefit to this community, as he will be to any people with whom he may be associated. He has set a standard which will be difficult for his successor to maintain and our people part with him and his estimable wife with deep feelings of regret. That he will meet with success in his new field of labor goes without saying.

Wm. Wurtzweiler was here on business on Friday.
Ray Osborne is employed at Seattle as electrician in a manufacturing plant.
The hurricane which passed over the gulf states last week destroyed property valued at $5,000,000.
Ed White of Opal City was in this city one day this week. He reports crops looking fine in that section.
The heat wave was too strenuous for Harry Wilson, so he pulled for the high lakes of the Cascade range yesterday.
The sister and husband, and mother of Mrs. Gus Stadig of Lower Bridge were met here by L. A. Hunt on Sunday evening and taken to the ranch for a visit. They came from Seattle.
F. H. Woods recently purchased a fine bull and a short time later the animal attacked him, and but for the timely arrival of his son with a gun, might have killed him. As it was, he was severely injured. The bull was then killed.
The hearing which was to have been held before the public service commission at Bend on Tuesday was postponed on account of a temporary injunction granted by Judge Galloway at Salem on Saturday morning. The commission is cited to appear July 19 to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent. The controversy is between the Water Users' Association and the Central Oregon Irrigation company.

A slightly cooler wave hit this section last evening and the heat is great today.
J. R. Roberts is driving a new cylinder Studebaker car.
The Tumalo Fair date has been set for Saturday, September 23.
WHAT IS GAINED IN GRAIN IS LOST IN FORAGE VALUE
The annual hay crop of Oregon is a value of from $15,000,000 to $18,000,000. It is one of the big items in the total crop production of the state, says J. E. Larson, field agronomist of the Oregon Agricultural College.
These grains are wheat, oats, and cheat. The general tendency to allow these grain crops to get to maturity before cutting for hay. It is almost impossible to get both grain and hay. What is gained in grain more than offset by what is lost in the forage of the plant. These hay should be properly cut just between the milk and soft dough and so dough stage, the nutriment passes rapidly into the grain as it nears ripening. This means that the stalk and leaves will lose in feeding value and lose materially in palatability which counts for much in hay to be fed to stock. With grains more than any other crop is there need for changes in the practice followed on the average farm.
