electors wisely finding it to the interests of the city to retain the old organization.
Many of our citizens have been having a tussle with the grip for the past few days. Even Chad Irvin the optimist, was compelled to take a gloomy view of life and remain in bed for two days.
Mrs. Ada B. Millican was elected a Justice of the peace for her precinct at the recent election and has qualified for the place. She announces that the first couple applying, will be married free of charge.
R. A. Ward, of the biological survey, and who has charge of the predatory animal work in Nevada, Oregon and other western states arrived here Monday evening from Klamath and will stay with us for a couple of weeks.
J. W. Brewer who is now manager of The Dalles' chamber of commerce, and a former resident here, orders his paper transferred from Portland to The Dalles and says: "Its like a letter from home and I've now missed it two weeks."
Like the "High Desert" road, the "short cut" road to Bend, running due north from Fort Rock, has been closed for the past ten days because of deep snow. The snow is said to be two feet deep at China Hat mountain. -Fort Rock Times.
Those interested in the excess acreage question are requested to meet at 1 p. m. Saturday, December 23, at County Agriculturist R. A. Blanchard's office in Redmond. This call is made by W. B. Chapman and other interested parties.
The Redmond commercial club elected new officers for the coming year as follows: President M. A. Lynch; vice president, J. R. Roberts, and secretary, Jerry Moore, thus insuring a live campaign for progress, as in the past year.
Messrs. Burdick and Cuning, who were so badly injured in the late auto wreck are progressing finely and bid fair to be out soon, thus confining the old adage that only the "good die young." It is a miracle that both were not killed outright.

Miss Florence Cook entertained at 6 o'clock dinner the following guests in honor of Miss Emma Atkinson's birthday: Misses Chrystle Sturdivan, Alta Mohler, Grace and Unice Bradley, Helen Dittmore, Opal Mohler, Ozona Ordway and Helen and Mildred Smith.
"Brown's in Town," last Saturday afternoon had on display in his office window a pair of golden pheasants. These are among the handsomest birds in the world. Mr. Brown has prepared a house 12x26 for their occupancy and expects to enter into the breeding of these fowl in the spring. They attracted much attention while on display.
The Ladies' Pioneer club of Terrebonne held their bazaar Saturday evening, at which time the silk quilt that was on display in Mr. Crabtree's store window, was turned over to Mr. Glen Cox, who held the lucky No. 12. In behalf of the club I wish to thank the people of Redmond and vicinity for their generous patronage. Mrs. D. H. Gates, president.
Rev. Blair, since coming to Redmond has become thoroughly identified with its progress. He sends the Spokesman regularly to a son at San Francisco and received a compliment for the town and paper both. It was: "Judging from the character of the paper you must have quite a live town." And it is true. Outsiders always gauge the town by the paper, as it is the only foundation upon which they can predicate judgment.
A union Sunday school program by pupils and members of the various churches of the city will be rendered at the gymnasium on the evening of Saturday, December 24. The program will consist of songs and drills, recitations by the primary departments directed by Mrs. Clifford Ordway, and a few pieces by the older classes, directed by Mrs. J. W. Moore. Mrs. Corvill, Miss Opal Mohler, accompanist. Everybody is invited to come.

Last Sunday afternoon fifteen children met at the Methodist church and Mrs. Allen organized a junior league. The following officers were elected: Superintendent, Mrs. Allen; president, David Loree; vice president, Mildred Coslet; secretary, Josephine Parrish. There will be no more meetings until January 8, 1917, at which time Mr. Allen will complete the organization of a junior church. All the official boards of the Methodist church will be represented in this miniature church.
TIME SHOULD BE EXTENDED
If the Spokesman understands the proposition for the extension of time of segregation lists 6 and 19, as applied for by the Central Oregon Irrigation company, it is of vital interest to this town and to the settlers that such extension be secured. Not to do so would certainly jeopardize the water appropriation for these lands and make it possible for the same to be lost to them for all time. The contracts proposed to be extended are not those between the irrigation company and the settlers, but between the United States and the state of Oregon, and as the north canal is involved, it is of the highest importance that the water right for this tract be preserved, and it matters not who should not be permitted to lapse and thus fall to other hands. It means much to this town as the north canal lies at our immediate door.
