Rev. Chandler will return on tonight's train from Idaho, where he has been conducting a series of lectures. He expects to remain a week, and will occupy his old pulpit in the Baptist church next Sunday.

Twenty-eight of the Redmond Knights of Pythias went to Prineville last night to assist in work, at the conclusion of which an elaborate banquet was served. Many members of the Bend lodge also attended.

County Agent Ward reports that the first 210 crop and labor survey blanks received showed that the Central Oregon wheat acreage has increased from 2907 acres in 1917 to 3489 acres in 1918.

The sales at the Martin and Persons places on Monday and Tuesday were quite well attended despite the weather, and nearly every article offered brought satisfactory prices. The Park sale is on today but we have no report from it as yet.

Some valuable improvements are being made around the M. E. church and parsonage and Hon. G. L. Dobson is primarily responsible. Noticing that the properties needed a new coat of paint, he waived formalities and soon had men at work.

Miss Edith Doty, eldest daughter of H. C. Doty, left for Portland Friday evening to enter Sellwood hospital to take a three-years' course in nursing. She was accompanied by her father, who visited his mother a day at Donald, returning home Tuesday morning.

A publication devoted to the coal trade has figured out that Garfield's "fuelless" days saved 3,456,000 tons of coal, which all must admit was some saving of fuel. It was done, however, at a cost of $289.35 for every ton saved. This was the cost to the industries of the country. This was the dark side of the story.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the attendance at the open meeting of the Women's Club on Tuesday was not largely attended. Tea was served at 5 o'clock. Every third Tuesday has been set aside from now on for these open meetings and all ladies of Redmond and vicinity are invited to bring their work and have a social time.

The week has been a cold and stormy one and some snow has fallen during each twenty-four hours, generally at night only to disappear the following day. The temperature has ranged down to ten or fifteen degrees above zero. We needed some winter and were entitled to it, and the present snap comes at about the usual time.

Tomorrow (Friday) an army horse inspection will be held in Redmond by Captain Von Stade, Q. M. R. C. The captain and his lieutenants can be found at the County Agent's office. This will be direct buying and farmers are urged to cooperate in making inspections of this nature a success. For further information inquire of the County Agricultural Agent.

Mr. S. S. Steele, almost 82 years old, died on the Sabbath, Feb. 17th, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Miller. The Millers are new people in the community, having purchased the Tinner place north of town, coming here from Port Blakely on the sound near Seattle. They left on the Monday morning train, taking the body for burial beside his wife at Port Blakely.

George Kelley of Prineville was a Redmond visitor on Tuesday.

Mrs. M. E. Landos spent the day Monday with her niece, Mrs. Carl Wennhold.

Glenn Cox was over from Sisters in attendance at the Irrigation School the first of the week.

Mrs. Mildred McElfresh of Terrebonne is assisting Mrs. C. W. Taylor at the Hotel Redmond.

Walter Carl of the Hotel Redmond staff, spent Saturday in Bend on business before the war board.

Even Russia is finding out that this goody goody business don't work out just as one might want.

Miss Myrtle Butler expects to go to Portland the latter part of the week to buy spring millinery for Lynch & Roberts.

Mrs. P. C. Burt, wife of a prosperous dairy farmer at Bend, has the distinction of being the only lady student who is attending the Irrigation School every day this week.

The Conquest class of the Baptist Sunday school met with Mrs. Shingler last Tuesday night. A very sociable time was spent, in which all enjoyed themselves. Mrs. Shingler was voted a successful hostess.

The Redmond Presbyterian church feels that they are fortunate in securing the services of Rev. E. E. McVicker as pastor. He expects to be on the field March 1st, and hold services the following Sabbath.

E. G. Stevens, who has a place a mile north of town, returned from Chehalis, Wash. on Saturday, and will probably remain all summer. He met H. H. Palmer, former owner of the Spokesman, who is connected with a newspaper at Chehalis.

M. A. Lynch of the well known firm of Lynch & Roberts, returned from a purchasing trip to Portland wholesale markets on Sunday. He found prices in all lines pretty stiff, but ordered a big spring stock, taking cash discounts, which will be handed down to their many customers.

Professor Powers will give a free illustrated lecture at the school house this evening, the subject being, "Trenches that Defend," and Prof. Hyslop of O. A. C., will speak on "Seed Supplies and Varieties." The Irrigation School is providing a mine of information to those in attendance.

E. Brown, representing the new creamery management, returned from Seattle a few days ago and is rapidly becoming familiar with the business and its prospects here. He finds Redmond a splendid field and the patrons a pleasant people to do business with. He will remain here until near the first of March.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Taylor announce the marriage of their daughter Wayne, in San Francisco, February 13th, to John A. Knight, of the Post hospital dental staff at the Presidio, San Francisco, Cal.

DEPUTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY

We heard incidentally last week just as we were going to press, that Max Cuning had been appointed deputy district attorney for this place. The appointment is a good one and will save the people of this end of the county the long trip to Bend when they have occasion to consult the district attorney.

Methodist Church

Services at the Methodist church Sunday morning and evening. Morning subject: "The Mount of Transfiguration." Evening, evangelistic service. We welcome you to these services.

JOHN BARLEYCORN HARD HIT BY HOOVER

There'll soon be less barley for beer and malt drinks. And there'll be a little less alcohol in what beer there is. This appeared to be the prospect for the period of the war as the food administration prepared regulations controlling the sale of grain for malting purposes. Every available bushel of barley is needed for victory bread under Hoover's new regulations and brewers probably will be forced to use corn or some other substitutes for the period

School Notes

(by Maybelle Jarrett)

The last basket ball game of the season will be played here Friday night. Madras Union High School will help furnish the fireworks. Since the defeat of Bend by Madras last Friday night by the decisive score of 46-18, Madras looks like a real contender and the local boys will doubtless have to play every minute of the time in order to come out winners.

Redmond High school won from Prineville, Friday, Feb. 15th, by a score of 23-19. The game was fast throughout, and with two or three exceptions there was no intentional roughness. The standing of the four teams at present are: Bend, 800; Redmond, 690; Prineville, 400; Madras 200. The games Friday night in the league can give Redmond the following standing: a tie with Bend for first place; a clear title to second place, or a tie with Prineville for second place.

On Monday the second year Domestic Science girls served a dinner for the Commercial Club in the D. S. and A. building. Miss Johnson has proved herself a very capable instructor as shown by the excellent dinners and luncheons given under her supervision. This Domestic Science class is also intending to entertain their mothers at a luncheon Friday. The girls are doing some very commendable work.

The Domestic Art girls are minimizing the high cost of living by making their own spring hats.

A representative of the Underwood company called here to adjust the typewriters of the Commercial department.

The type-writing students have been helping the Red Cross by copying instructions for the knitting of socks.

Robert Johnson left Sunday evening for Ft. Worth, Texas, after having enlisted in the Truck Drivers' division of the Q. M. C. Robert is a graduate of the Redmond High school of the class of 1917. He is the twelfth student to enlist from the High school.

A telephone will be installed Saturday in the branch High school at Terrebonne, which will put that school in closer touch with the Principal's office here, and which will permit much closer supervision.

The Girls' Chorus sang two numbers before the illustrated lecture by Prof. W. L. Powers in the High school Tuesday night. Another illustrated lecture will be given by Mr. Powers Thursday night. The school lantern will be used for both lectures. It is giving excellent satisfaction. The fine set of slides used by Mr. Powers were very clear cut and distinct.

County Agricultural Agent Ward has presented the High school with a large new curtain for use with the school lantern.

Another new set of slides entitled, "Oregon Writers," and "Beautiful Willamette," will be shown Thursday evening.

LAND BOARD WILL TERMINATE LEASE

Jason C. Moore, who secured a lease on Summer and Albert lakes for the mining of salt and potash last year, is in a fair way to lose the $10,000 he posted on the deal, as he has again failed to come across after being given several extensions. Homer W. McCoy of Chicago, is wanting to take a whack at it.

IMPORTANT MEETING

State Engineer John H. Lewis, the directors of the C. O. I. D., and the County Agricultural Council members will meet at 3:30 p. m., Friday, February 22, in the office of the County Agricultural Agent to discuss a plan for the development of the irrigation projects of Central Oregon. The meeting is an important one, and it is hoped that irrigation problems that have perplexed many of our irrigators will be cleared up at that time.

If the proposed plan to be presented at this meeting is adopted, Central Oregon will see the inauguration of a 200,000 acre irrigation project—the largest project in Central Oregon.

The fatal injury of a popular young woman of Portland by a drunken auto driver, brings up a discussion of this pernicious evil and the fact that it is almost impossible to secure the conviction of a bootlegger in that city. Jurors of respectability, or so considered, men of business and family responsibilities "go over the top," violate their oaths as jurors and refuse to convict even where the proof is positive. Why these men will do these things is difficult to explain. It is high time for a change in sentiment, and the death of this young woman should be an appeal to reason and the full enforcement of the law.
