County Agent Ward has secured figures on a car shipment of sulphur that will net a saving of $5 per ton over all other offers and it will be brought in if enough people indicate that they want it. Sulphur has been demonstrated to be the very best fertilizer, and those who tried it last season claim an increased yield of 25 to 35 per cent in alfalfa. Land plaster contains about 320 pounds of sulphur to the ton and it is now thought the value in the plaster lies in the sulphur.

ALFALFA

Mrs. L. V. Clarke entertained Thursday in honor of her husband's birthday. It being Valentine day the decorations were red and white. Miss Mable Allen accompanied her brother to Powell Butte Friday evening returning Sunday.

Paul Mertsching is on the sick list. Curt Holloway was a Redmond visitor Friday. His son Lester, who is working for Joe Howard at Lower Bridge, accompanied him home for a visit.

Albert Shultz is still sawing wood in the Powell Butte section.

Quite the most mirth provoking stunt pulled off in this burg, was the Hard Time dance at M. L. Pyatt's Saturday evening.

Mrs. Will Pyatt will leave soon to join her husband in Idaho.

The Jolly Neighbors will meet with Mrs. L. V. Clarke Feb. 27th, in an all day session to do Red Cross work. Several ladies from Redmond, prominent in this work are expected to meet with the local club.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ogle have moved on to the place just vacated by Ray Fisher, known as the Chambers place.

POWELL BUTTE

The local Red Cross auxiliary held an all day session at the Hall Wednesday. The ladies report a most profitable meeting.

Mr. Lindquist is building an addition to his house and otherwise improving it during Mrs. Lindquist's absence.

Early lambing is on among the numerous flocks being fed in this section. This is the time when almost constant watchfulness spells success to the small grower.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rice, Mrs. Mary Schiele, Mrs. L. W. Van Doren, C. W. Worrell and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wilson were "localites" who attended the K. of P. ball at Redmond Friday evening.

J. A. Riggs was a Bend visitor last Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Arnold is confined to the house with a case of measles.

W. T. Smith had a telephone installed in his home Friday.

J. B. Roe made a tour of Powell Butte farms Friday in search of beef cattle.

A board meeting of directors of the local Association was held at the Hall Saturday evening, with all officers and board members present. This was the first meeting since the election of new officers. After the association meeting adjourned, a meeting of the wool growers was called and some important business transacted by that body.

Mrs. Joe Shearer and Miss Ruth visited in Bend from Saturday until Monday, guests of Mrs. Shearer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Orweiler.

E. R. Agee and Joe Townsend came home from the Ochoco Thursday, as the cold weather has put a damper on plowing.

Geo. Hobbs and Miss Jessie Hartley went up to Alfalfa to the Hard Times social Saturday evening.

The Shepard school, under the able supervision of their teacher, Miss Jessie Hartley, gave a program and cake social Tuesday evening. The program, which was especially good, was much enjoyed by the large crowd of patrons and friends in attendance.

The cakes were auctioned and the proceeds of $51.25 will be turned in to the Red Cross as a contribution of the children of that district. Mr. Riggs served in the capacity of auctioneer.

Tom Cronin spent Friday and Saturday in Bend.

About twenty neighbors gathered at the Tom Pursley home Saturday evening for a sort of farewell party to the Pursleys, who are soon to move to their new home near Redmond. Dancing and music with refreshments furnished the evening's diversion.

Jesse Tuck left for Portland Saturday evening where he goes for medical treatment.

Allen Wilcoxen was a business visitor to Bend Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Smith, Mrs. L. W. Van Doren and G. C. Truesdale made a trip to Prineville Monday.

Fred Elliott of Crooked river spent Monday calling on different sheep men of this section in an effort to buy a flock of sheep. Our neighbors think they know a good thing, however, and are holding on to their flocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wilcoxen entertained Mr. and Mrs. Bayn and J. A. Riggs at dinner Sunday evening. Misses Fay Bussett and Gladys Pauls are suffering with a siege of measles, (of the German made variety.)

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Truesdale, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wilson were in attendance at the Persons sale near Redmond Tuesday.

Mrs. A. W. Bayn left on the Thursday morning train for San Francisco where she will visit her daughters for the next two months. She may also visit relatives in Texas before returning home. In the meantime, "Doc" says he is open to all kinds of dinner engagements.

INCOME TAX FILING EXTENDED TO APRIL 1

Time for the return of income tax statements and statements of excess profits has been extended from March 1 to April 1 by the Treasury Department at Washington.

As a result, six weeks remain for filing the statements, but we urge that all statements be filed at once despite the extension of time.

This bank will assist individuals and corporations with their income and war excess profits tax returns.

We invite you to consult with us. We will gladly help you, without charge, with any details that prove difficult. Bring in your reports for a final checking before delivery to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

FIVE DAIRY BREEDS

Five breeds of dairy cattle have attained considerable prominence in the United States—the Ayrshire, the Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Holstein-Friesian and Jersey, each of which has certain distinct characteristics not found in the other breeds, but no one breed excels in all points. Each breed is considered superior to the others in certain particulars, and is discussed in Farmers' Bulletin 893 of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, a publication which will be found valuable to dairy cattle breeders.

In selecting a breed, a dairyman should take local conditions and market requirements into consideration in connection with the characteristics of the various breeds. He should give weight to the fact that a breed is already established in his community. The predominance of a certain breed in a section offers many advantages. For instance, a market is established, surplus stock may be disposed of to better advantage, cooperative advertising may be used, and bulls may be bought cooperatively or exchanged readily among breeders. Personal preference for a certain breed should not be allowed to cause the selection of a breed unsuited to local conditions.

Origin of Ayrshires

The Ayrshire breed originated in the county of Ayr in southwestern Scotland and has only been sufficiently developed to be established as a type within the last hundred years. This breed is not well known in many sections of the United States—New England, New York and Pennsylvania probably containing the largest number of its representatives. There is a small distribution in the Middle Atlantic States and the Pacific Northwest.

The color of this breed varies from a medium red to a very dark mahogany brown and white. The cattle have long horns which turn outward, then forward and upward. Ayrshires are characterized by quick, brisk actions. They have a highly nervous disposition and a pronounced ability as "rustlers"—the obtaining of a livelihood on scant pasture. Cows of this breed average 1,000 pounds in weight and bulls average about 1600.

Ayrshire milk has comparatively little color and has small fat globules because of which the milk stands shipping well without churning. The percentage of butter fat is medium.

Brown Swiss Breed

The Brown Swiss breed, which does not have a widespread distribution in the United States, originated in the Canton of Schwyz in Switzerland and is found principally in New York and Wisconsin.

The cattle vary in color from a light gray mouse color or brownish-dun to dark brown. They are mild and docile and are excellent grazers, especially on rough land. Cows average about 1,250 pounds in weight and bulls from 1500 to 2,500 pounds.

This breed ranks well in milk production, with a moderate percentage of fat.

Guernsey Characteristics

The Guernsey breed developed on the Channel islands of Guernsey and Alderney, although probably the parent stock came from Normandy, France. This breed has maintained a steady growth in numbers and popularity in the country, and its largest numbers are found in the Eastern and Middle Western states.

The characteristic colors of Guernseys are some shade of fawn and white. Cows average about 1,050 pounds and bulls about 1,600 pounds in weight. Guernsey milk is noted for its extremely yellow color and high percentage of butter fat.

Holstein Cattle

The Holstein-Friesian, commonly known as the Holstein breed, originated in the northern part of Holland where it has been bred for centuries. Holsteins have grown greatly in numbers and popularity in recent years in this country and are most numerous in the United States in the Middle Atlantic, Middle Western, and Pacific sections.

Holstein cattle are of black and white color. They are docile and even tempered, not good "rustlers," and do best when plenty of feed is available. Holstein cows average about 1,250 pounds and bulls 1,800 pounds in weight. The average of milk production is high, but the percentage of butter fat is comparatively low.

Features of Jerseys

Jersey cattle, the most numerous breed in the United States, originated in the island of Jersey. Jerseys and Guernseys probably had the same foundation stock, but have been developed toward different ideals so that the breeds now differ in a number of particulars.

Jerseys vary considerably in color. Shades of fawn, squirrel gray, mouse color, and very dark brown are common. Jerseys have a highly organized nervous system and are usually somewhat excitable, responding to good treatment quickly, and to good feed. Cows average about 900 pounds and bulls 1,500 pounds in weight. The Jersey cow gives rich, yellow-colored milk and is an excellent butter-fat producer.

In Keeping With the Big Thought of the Day

The daily press reflects a sentiment throughout the nation which clearly indicates a new condition.

Men are wanted everywhere. The work of this war is being carried on largely by those who never before have been in public office or in public work. Men who have been too busy, too engrossed with their own tasks, are leaving their work to others and giving their time and ability to the cause which is ours, yours, everybody's.

It is a time when politics in the ordinary sense must not be considered. It calls for all the ability that can be mustered.

Oregon to be a successful part in this unit plan for the defense of Democracy, must likewise place the thought of the times before everything.

In another part of this paper appears the announcement of L. J. Simpson as a candidate for the nomination for Governor on the Republican ticket. Mr. Simpson was urged to become a candidate by his many friends in every part of the state, because of his business record, his understanding and knowledge of Oregon's resources, industries and needs; because of his public-spiritedness, which of recent years has led him to tasks which have been more important to him than his own affairs.

L. J. SIMPSON IS CLEARLY THE MAN WHO CAN GIVE OREGON THE ADMINISTRATION NECESSARY TO THIS PLAN OF NATIONAL EFFICIENCY

His campaign will be directed straight to you as voters, as individuals who do your own thinking.

We are firmly convinced that you will not allow politics to influence your decision, and that you will vote for the man who is best fit to help the people of Oregon, develop the state's resources, and to prepare for, and participate in, the great reconstruction that is to follow.

We believe you will weigh issues more closely than ever before, and that L. J. Simpson will be your choice.

First—Talk over his candidacy with your friends.

Second—If you believe that L. J. Simpson is worthy of your support write a letter to this committee.

Suggest how his cause may be advanced. We, in turn, will tell you how you can help.
