Pandemic pushes wrestling into 'Friday Night Lights'

BY BRIAN RATHBONE
The Bulletin

REDMOND — Perhaps COVID-19 pushing the high school wrestling season from the winter into the late spring was not the worst thing in the world. It at least came with one benefit.

On a cloudless May evening Friday, with temperatures in the low 70s and a slight breeze, five wrestling mats were spread across the Redmond High School football field while eight wrestling teams grappled in a one-day, dual meet tournament aptly called "Friday Night Lights."

For years, Redmond coach Kris Davis had envisioned hosting an outdoor wrestling event during the summer. But when the COVID-19 pandemic pushed the sport traditionally played when the temperatures are closer to freezing into late spring, wrestling outdoors and under stadium lights became a reality.

It became evident after the first of three matches Friday night, that dream of having an outdoor wrestling event was starting to come true for Davis.

"With COVID pushing into the spring it kinda manifested itself and so I developed a plan to put this together with my administration and asked for their blessing and it happened," said Davis. "Some of the best teams reached out and wanted to come out so we are having some really high level wrestling so it is awesome."

Eight teams made their way to the tournament. Local teams Mountain View, Bend High, Crook County and Ridgeview made the quick trip, while Cascade, Sweet Home and perennial power Newberg made the trek to Central Oregon.

Friday was Redmond's second outdoor wrestling event of the week. The Panthers hosted Pendleton for an outdoor dual meet last Wednesday.

Zoning

"This project will nicely help meet these specific needs," Roberts told the council.

Roberts and project developers also noted that this building would provide retail and employment from a walkable distance for people living in the quickly-growing neighborhood. The plot of land is already surrounded by new houses and apartments, all right next to Ridgeview High School.

"The tone has already been set for a mixed-use, higher-density type of development," land use planner Tammy Wisco told the council. "The intent of this project is to bring in that neighborhood-centric, small commercial facility that compliments the setting it's already in."

City councilors had mostly positive things to say about the proposed building during the meeting.

"Personally, I find this building quite intriguing," said Mayor George Endicott. "A mixed-use like this, with retail on the first floor ... is exactly more of what we need in Redmond."

"I'm also very excited to see a project with the mixed-use going forward," added city councilor Krisanna Clark-Endicott.

The only major concern raised during the meeting was how the development would affect nearby traffic.

City councilor Ed Fitch said he liked the project overall, but was worried it — and other nearby recent developments — would turn the Badger/Canal intersection into a traffic nightmare. Specifically, he wanted a designated right turn lane for northbound Canal Boulevard onto Badger Avenue.

"As this town grows...Canal Boulevard, whether we like it or not, will become a major thoroughfare north and south," Fitch said Tuesday night. "My major concern is ensuring that the intersection is going to work in the future."

Redmond city engineer Mike Caccavano said the lack of a dedicated right turn lane on Canal was intentional. Adding that lane would speed up traffic on the boulevard, and at the moment, the city is trying to slow speeds on the street near Ridgeview High School, he said.

STATEMENT OF CHANGES IN ACTIVITIES AND SOURCES OF FINANCING

The 2021-22 General Fund budget assumes a K-12 biennial budget allocation from the State of Oregon of $9.3 billion. This results in $77.0 million in state formula revenues for the District, a 0.3% decrease versus the 2020-21 budget. The 2021-22 budget offers employees full experiential pay increases and increases salaries by an assumed 2.0% cost of living adjustment. It also includes an increase of $35 in the District's monthly contribution to the cost of health insurance. The 2021-22 budget assumes that the District will receive approximately $4.7 million in Student Investment Account funding due to the 2019 passage of HB 3427, the Student Success Act. This grant from the state is budgeted to fund supports for students' mental-behavioral-social emotional health; ongoing community engagement; and, K-1 class size reduction. The 2021-22 budget assumes that the state will fully fund Measure 98 - the High School Success Fund - at $1.6 million. In response to the global COVID-19 pandemic, the District has received federal ESSER grant funds to support the safe reopening and operation of schools and to address the impacts of the pandemic on students' broad needs. The District has included $2.8 million of these funds in its 2021-22 budget. The 2021-22 budget includes $11.2 million in expenditures in the Capital Project Fund, which result from voter approval of the November 2020 bond measure and the issuance of $27.5 million in bonds in January 2021.
